Teaching Children's Literature Christine H. Leland, Mitzi Lewison, Jerome C. Harste, 2017-11-03 Inviting multiple ways of critically engaging with literature this text offers a fresh perspective on how to integrate children's literature into and across the curriculum in effective purposeful ways Structured around three mantras that build on each other Enjoy Dig deeply Take action the book is rich with real examples of teachers implementing critical pedagogy The materials and practical strategies focus on issues that impact children's lives building from students personal experiences and cultural knowledge to using language to question the everyday world analyze popular culture and media understand how power relationships are socially constructed and consider actions that can be taken to promote social justice Written for teachers and teacher educators each chapter opens with three elements that are closely linked classroom vignettes showcasing the use of literature and inviting conversation three key principles elaborating the main theme of the chapter and connecting theory with practice and related research on the topics and their importance for curriculum Other chapter features include key issues in implementation suggestions for working with linguistically and culturally diverse students alternative approaches to assessment and suggestions for further reading A companion website to enrich and extend the text includes an annotated bibliography of literature selections suggested text sets resources by chapter and ideas for professional development Changes in the Second Edition Voices from the Field vignettes include examples from inspiring educators who use trade books to promote critical thinking and diversity Updated chapters include information on new technology and electronic resources New references in the principles sections and new resources for further study New children s books added throughout the chapters as well as to the companion website

Accounts and Papers of the House of Commons Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons,1876 Educational Systems for Disruptive Adolescents Keith J. Topping,2022-12-29 In the early 1980s concern about disruptive behaviour in secondary schools had grown being variously regarded as a symptom of a decaying society or as a failure on the teachers part One response was to throw money at the problem and various different kinds of special schools and units had been devised to deal with disruptive adolescent pupils Yet there was little systematic evaluation of the different options particularly in terms of cost effectiveness Originally published in 1983 this book reviews all the available research on 21 alternative systems for the education of disruptive adolescents at the time These range from the highly expensive residential special schools to on site adaptations which involve no extra cost Most are based on developments in Britain and the United States and the author concludes in favour of many of the less sophisticated systems This book will be interesting historical reading for workers and students in educational psychology special education and educational policy

School Library Journal ,2006 The Bible Christian ,1840 Exploring Children's Literature Nikki Gamble,Sally Yates,2008-06-06 This book is based on the belief that deep subject knowledge of language and literature provides a foundation for effective teaching and learning It provides a comprehensive guide to the range of genres and characteristic features of English language fiction written for children It will help readers to develop their understanding of literature within social cultural and political reading practices extend their knowledge of language features and conventions of different genres and develop skills in analytical and critical reading The Children's Buyer's Guide ,2005

Educational Subnormality Sally Tomlinson,2018-09-03 First published in 1981 Based on a three year study of children moving into special ESN M education in an English city in the mid 1970s this book questions the whole concept of mild educational subnormality by examining the criteria according to which professionals make decisions to place children within this stigmatised category It suggests that the beliefs that the professionals hold about the behavioural family and class characteristics of the children help to determine their judgements and that these beliefs are related to their own position within the social structure Reports Commissioners of National Education in Ireland,1856 Parliamentary Papers
