The Battles of Texas Nate Kreuter, Mark Garrett Longaker, 2024-12-10 The 1980s were a consequential decade for universities The marketization of higher education the adjunctification of labor and culture wars over curriculum transformed the landscape in a short period of time The Battles of Texas traces the lived consequences of this upheaval by focusing on one influential institution the writing program at the University of Texas at Austin Drawing from university records newspaper archives and present day interviews Nate Kreuter and Mark Garrett Longaker provide an on the ground perspective of the radical creation of UT Austin's writing program and the subsequent events that made national headlines the mass firing of lecturers in 1985 the national debate over multicultural content in the first year curriculum and the divorce of the writing program from the English Department in 1992 Despite these pressures however the authors also reveal how writing program administrators at UT Austin exerted their own agency to resist economic and political forces in service of their students and adjunct lecturers By highlighting the parallels between the 1980s and current labor and political pressures in higher education The Battles of Texas offers a strategic perspective for academics and administrators today Combining a narrative institutional history with a public digital archive searchable and arranged in exhibits and in chronological annals The Battles of Texas provides academics with the resources they need to survive in times of rapid transition

Planning and Assessment in Higher Education Michael F. Middaugh,2011-01-25 PLANNING AND ASSESSMENT IN HIGHER EDUCATION Demonstrating Institutional Effectiveness In this era of increasing pressure on higher education institutions for accountability Planning and Assessment in Higher Education is an essential resource for college and university leaders and staff charged with the task of providing evidence of institutional effectiveness Michael F Middaugh a noted expert in the field shows how colleges and universities can successfully measure student learning and institutional effectiveness and use these results to create more efficient communications with both internal and external constituencies as well as promote institutional effectiveness to support student learning How can the assessment of institutional effectiveness be used to provide a solid foundation for planning Middaugh has crafted a comprehensive practical guide that also explains what accrediting agencies really want and need to know about these topics Elizabeth H Sibolski executive vice president Middle States Commission on Higher Education Only Michael Middaugh the unquestioned national leader in this field could write such a lucid overview of how to make institutional assessment and planning really work as a tool rather than as a tedious requirement He helped invent and shape the focus of national assessment rubrics and now offers his insights into how to make them work for your institution John C Cavanaugh chancellor Pennsylvania State System of Higher Education Middaugh provides extremely helpful and practical guidance and insights on how colleges and universities can use assessment tools and frameworks to improve both academic programs and administrative operations A valuable and timely book for all higher education leaders James P Honan senior lecturer on education Harvard Graduate School of Education

Patron-Driven Acquisitions Judith Nixon,Robert Freeman,Suzanne Ward,2014-01-02 For over a decade some academic libraries have been purchasing rather than borrowing recently published books requested by their patrons through interlibrary loan These books had one circulation guaranteed and so appealed to librarians who were concerned about the large percentage of books selected and purchased by librarians but never checked out by their patrons Early assessments of the projects indicated that patrons selected quality books that in many cases were cross disciplinary and covered emerging areas of scholarly interest However now we have a significant database of the ILL purchase records to compare these titles with books selected through normal methods The projects described in this book present a powerful argument for involving patrons in the book selection process This book looks at patron driven acquisitions for printed books at Purdue University the University of Nebraska Lincoln and the University of Illinois as well as exploring new programs that allow patrons to select e books or participate in other innovative ways in building the library collections This book was published as a special issue of Collection Management
