Online Organizational Perspectives Environmental Development Mobilities:

Organizational Perspectives on Environmental Migration Kerstin Rosenow-Williams, François Gemenne, 2015-10-16 Over the past decade international organizations IOs and non governmental organizations NGOs have increasingly focused their efforts on the plight of environmental migrants in both industrialized and developing countries However to date very few studies have analysed the influence and rhetoric of advocacy groups in the debates on environmental migration Organizational Perspectives on Environmental Migration fills this lacuna by drawing together and examining the related themes of climate change and environmental degradation migration and organizational studies to provide a fresh perspective on their increasing relevance In order to assess the role of IOs and NGOs in the environmental migration discourse and to understand their interaction and their ways of addressing the topic the book contains a wide range of contributions covering the perspectives of organizational sociologists political scientists anthropologists geographers lawyers and practitioners The chapters are organized thematically around the perspectives of key actors in the area of environmental migration including IOs courts and advocacy groups The geographically diverse and interdisciplinary range of contributions makes this volume an essential foundational text for organizational responses to environmental migration This volume will be of great interest to students and scholars of migration studies international relations organizational sociology refugee law and policy and development studies

Mobilities and Foucault Katharina Manderscheid, Tim Schwanen, David Tyfield, 2017-10-02 Although Foucault's work has been employed and embraced enthusiastically by some mobilities scholars discussion across these two traditions to date has mostly been partial and unsystematic Yet Foucault's work can make critical contributions for example to thinking about governing mobilities in contemporary societies while conversely mobilities research opens up new perspectives on Foucault In combination these bodies of work can illuminate issues as diverse as the greater interdependencies between mobility systems e.g. transport tourism trade internet use the proliferation of the undesired mobilities of viruses of natural phenomena like fire or what is taken to be criminality and other seemingly inevitable by products of globalisation the perceived threats to desirable forms of mobility as constituted by climate change peak oil and energy security and terrorism and warfare and the increased popularity of logics of governance premised on choice responsibilisation and the re coding of phenomena in economic terms under neo liberalism Against this background this book brings together the first major collection of contributions from across the social sciences with a shared interest in both mobilities and Foucauldian thinking This book was published as a special issue of Mobilities

Progress in Sustainable Mobility Research Jorge Marx Gómez, Jantje Halberstadt, Anna Henkel, Frank Köster, Jürgen Sauer, Jürgen Taeger, Andreas Winter, David M. Woisetschlager, 2021-05-24 This book presents the outcomes of the trans and interdisciplinary research project NEMO Nachhaltige Erfüllung von Mobilitätsbedürfnissen im ländlichen Raum Sustainable Fulfilment of Mobility Needs in Rural Areas Due to demographic change it is becoming increasingly difficult for rural districts and communities to maintain a basic set of public transport services such as bus and train transit without encountering issues regarding necessary social participation sensible regional value creation and last but not least achievable environmental protection goals At the same time the demand for mobility in rural areas will continue to rise in the future e g due to the concentration of medical care facilities and shopping centres close to cities Focusing on the development of sustainable and innovative mobility services and business models this book explains how new mobility offers can be created in which citizens themselves become mobility providers To do so it combines the findings of the individual research groups with external contributions from science and practice      Sharing Mobilities Davide Arcidiacono, Mike Duggan, 2019-10-14 This book examines contemporary urban sharing mobilities such as shared and public forms of everyday urban mobility Tracing the social and economic history of sharing mobilities and examining contemporary case studies of mobility sharing services such as Car2go BlaBlaCar and Uber the authors raise questions about what these changes mean for access to and engagement with the public spaces of transport in the city Drawing on the thought of Lefebvre the book considers how contemporary sharing mobilities are affecting people's right to the city with particular attention paid to the privatised frictionless practices of movement through the city In addition the authors ask what has happened to earlier forms of shared mobility and illustrate how some of these practices continue successfully today Considering the potential that modern incarnations of shared mobilities offer to urban citizens for engaging in meaningful shared mobilities that are not simply determined by the interfaces of technology and market forces this book will appeal to sociologists and geographers with interests in mobility and urban studies      Sustainable Automated and Connected Transport Nikolas Thomopoulos, Maria Attard, Yoram Shifan, 2024-06-04 This volume is a valuable source of ACT information for developing holistic research methods and global policies for making progress towards the SDGs      Geographies of Transport and Mobility Stewart Barr, Jan Prillwitz, Tim Ryley, Gareth Shaw, 2017-10-04 Geographies of Transport and Mobility aims to provide a comprehensive and evidenced account of the intellectual and pragmatic challenges for personal mobility in the twenty first century In doing so it argues that geographers have a key role to play in shaping academic and policy debates on how personal mobility can become more sustainable The book is structured in three parts Part I explores how personal mobility has evolved since the mid nineteenth century plotting the intricate relationship between new forms of mobile technology urban planning and design and social practices Part II examines how researchers study transport and mobility and outlines the different intellectual trajectories of transport geography and geographies of mobilities Part III then outlines and discusses the discourse of sustainable mobility that has emerged in recent years the ways in which social economic and environmental sustainability can be promoted through different strategies focusing on behavioural change and urban design Geographies of Transport and Mobility provides a unique perspective on personal mobility by demonstrating how the way we travel has developed through complex economic and social processes It argues that this historical context is critical for considering how mobility in the twenty first century can be more sustainable not just environmentally but also economically and socially As such it argues for a renewed focus on sustainable place making as a way to radically shift mobility practices Geographies of Transport and Mobility is designed to appeal to advanced level undergraduate students and researchers in the fields of geography anthropology psychology sociology and transport studies Urban Human Mobility Xiao Huang,Xinyue Ye,Kathleen Stewart,Subasish Das,2025-07-03 This comprehensive handbook covers human mobility within urban contexts integrating academic theories with pragmatic insights and offering a detailed analysis of the diverse facets of human mobility and its substantial impact on the urban landscape economy and societal structures It explains key fundamental concepts methods and models presenting an in depth exploration of predictive analytics clustering patterns advanced trajectory embedding techniques artificial intelligence machine learning geographic information systems GIS Internet of Things IoT and smart city innovations The authors include many case studies and examples of urban mobility in practice making the content relatable and practical for educators students researchers and practitioners Features Provides a multidisciplinary and holistic understanding of urban mobility with systematic introductions and discussions of theory methods technologies tools and applications Covers a wide range of real world case studies of urban mobility in practice globally that include data programming code and tools Discusses cutting edge technologies involved in mobility data analytics Addresses practical challenges in data collection and the ethical implications of mobility research which are crucial for professionals in the field Offers future directions of human mobility research under the big data and artificial intelligence AI revolution Urban Human Mobility Practices Analytics and Strategies for Smart Cities is for professionals academics and upper level undergraduate and graduate students in the fields of urban planning design GIScience data mining and social sciences Sustainable High Volume Road and Rail

Transport in Low Income Countries Michael Burrow,Gurmel Ghataora,Bruce Thompson,Bernard Obika,2021-01-13 This Special Issue presents an in depth analysis of transport research commissioned by the UK Department for International Development under the High Volume Transport Programme 2017 2023 The analysis done in the period 2018 2019 contributes to the UK response to improving transport in the low income countries in Africa and South Asia As a result key priorities have been identified for applied research in 2020 to make road rail and urban transport more efficient and affordable and all transport greener safer and more inclusive for all users This applied research is a vital link in making transport a sustainable lifeline for people in low income countries because transport gives farmers and manufacturers access to domestic and international markets and people in rural and urban areas access to schools and health services Foreign Direct Investment in Latin America and the Caribbean 2017 United Nations.
