Online International Peacebuilding Local Resistance Rethinking:

Rethinking Democracy Promotion in International Relations Jessica Schmidt, 2015-08-20 This book traces and conceptualises the changing notion of democracy and demonstrates how democracy promotion finds itself at the heart of contemporary international discourses and policies Democracy promotion is widely considered to constitute a hypocritical and failed grand international narrative of the 1990s and has allegedly been replaced by other more pressing and academically more captivating concerns such as conflict management statebuilding and climate change This book challenges this position and argues that the core notions of democracy promotion such as empowerment inclusion and responsiveness are a key concern of contemporary international policymakers Drawing on the work of Michel Foucault Hannah Arendt as well as John Dewey it investigates the notion of democracy and modality of its promotions through the policy fields of conflict management statebuilding and climate change The central development the book observes is the reconceptualisation of democracy from the constituted sphere of the public to the lived relations of the social The book argues that the novel rationality of democracy and its promotion offers a particular solution to governing impasses in a world perceived to be globalised and complex which accounts for democracy's current but neglected centrality This book will be of much interest to students of democracy intervention statebuilding global governance and IR in general the world The concluding chapter systematically compares the case studies around 11 variables that cover the conflict context peace process procedures the responsiveness of the peace process to demands and levels of participation and inclusion Each peace process is then given a numeric score according to each of these variables and the book thereby reaches judgements on whether each case can be termed a success or a failure This book will be essential reading for students of peace studies conflict resolution war and conflict studies security studies and IR aligned with external funders It features interviews with a plethora of civil society organization workers funding agency community development officers and civil servants adjudicating the International Fund for Ireland and the European Union Peace and Reconciliation Fund which highlight the participants local wisdom practices and values regarding creating sustainable livelihoods peacebuilding insights receiving recognition for their work dissonance with internal and external actors conflict transformation efforts and and engagement with partners and allies The rich empirical qualitative exploratory case study situated in post peace accord Northern Ireland and the border counties of the Republic of Ireland speaks to the respondents ideas about the creation delivery and efficacy of peacebuilding funded initiatives as well as their hopes and dreams for the future In exploring this central argument the work offers an overarching structure in which to analyze the theory and praxis of conflict and peacebuilding in Northern Ireland More generally it offers an important contribution to our understanding of local peacebuilders and how economic assistance impacts on a divided society This book will be of much interest to students of peacebuilding conflict resolution sociology and British and Irish politics Routledge Handbook of African Peacebuilding Bruno Charbonneau,Maxime Ricard,2022-05-30 Africa lies at the centre of the international community s peacebuilding interventions and the continent s rich multitude of actors ideas relationships practices experiences locations and contexts in turn shapes the possibilities and practices of contemporary peacebuilding This timely new handbook surveys and analyses peacebuilding as it operates in this specifically African context The book begins by outlining the evolution and the various ideologies conceptualizations institutions and practices of African peacebuilding It identifies critical differences in how African peacebuilders have conceptualized and operationalized peacebuilding The book then considers how different actors sustain construct and use African infrastructure to identify and analyse converging differing or competing mandates approaches and interests Finally it analyses specific thematic issues such as gender justice development democracy and the politics of knowledge before ending with in depth analyses of case studies drawn from across the continent Bringing together an international line up of expert contributors this book will be an essential read for students and scholars of African politics post conflict reconstruction security and peace and conflict studies Handbook on Intervention and Statebuilding Nicolas Lemay-Hébert,2019-12-27 This innovative Handbook offers a new perspective on the cutting edge conceptual advances that have shaped and continue to shape the field of intervention and statebuilding

Resilience in EU and International Institutions Elena Korosteleva,Trine Flockhart,2020-12-17 This book explores the concept and practice of resilience that has generated much debate among both scholars and practitioners The contributions propose a new understanding of resilience both as a quality and a way of thinking taking it to the level of the person and the local to argue that a more sustainable way to govern the world today is bottom up and inside out While carrying a seemingly unifying message of self reliance adaptation and survival in the face of adversity resilience curiously continues to appear as all things to all people making it hard for the EU and international institutions to make full use of its arresting potential

Engendering resilience today in the highly volatile and uncertain world hit by crises pandemic and diminishing control becomes a priority as never before This book develops a more comprehensive view of resilience by looking at it both as a quality of the system and a way of thinking inherent to the local that cannot be engineered from the outside It is argued in this volume that in some cases the level of the person especially the person s sense of what constitutes a good life may be the most appropriate focus for understanding change and strategic adaptation in response to it This understanding widens the scope of discussion from what makes an entity system or person more adaptable to how one can best govern today to establish a stable equilibrium between the global and the local the external and the internal and become more responsive to the challenges and changes of today s highly uncertain world The chapters in this book were originally published in the journal Contemporary Security Policy Communication in Peacebuilding Stefanie Pukallus,2021-11-17 This book is concerned with the role that communication understood as including both the factual and fictional mass media as well as the performative and visual arts can play in post civil war peacebuilding It engages with questions of how a society can move from the civil war conditions of discursive dehumanisation to peaceful cooperation in post civil war settings and how peacebuilders can help communities utilise the transformative capacity of communication to encourage the reimagining of and engagement with former enemies as co citizens Ultimately civil and peaceful cooperation depends on the observance of discursive civility and the building of safe discursive spaces in which civil engagement between different groups of society including former combatants and survivors can safely take place This book argues that understanding communicative peacebuilding in this way is fundamental to the achievement of self sustainable everyday peace Peacebuilding and Friction Annika Björkdahl,Kristine Höglund,Gearoid Millar,Jair van der Lijn,Willemijn Verkoren,2016-03-02 This book aims to understand the processes and outcomes that arise from frictional encounters in peacebuilding when global and local forces meet Building a sustainable peace after violent conflict is a process that entails competing ideas political contestation and transformation of power relations This volume develops the concept of friction to better analyse the interplay between global ideas actors and practices and their local counterparts The chapters examine efforts undertaken to promote sustainable peace in a variety of locations such as Cambodia Sri Lanka Afghanistan and Sierra Leone These case analyses provide a nuanced understanding not simply of local processes or of the hybrid or mixed agencies ideas and processes that are generated but of the complex interactions that unfold between all of these elements in the context of peacebuilding intervention The analyses demonstrate how the ambivalent relationship between global and local actors leads to unintended and sometimes counterproductive results of peacebuilding interventions The approach of this book with its focus on friction as a conceptual tool advances the peacebuilding research agenda and adds to two ongoing debates in the peacebuilding field the debate on hybridity and the debate on local agency and local ownership In analysing frictional encounters this volume prepares the ground for a better understanding of the mixed impact peace initiatives have on post conflict societies This book will be of much interest to students of peacebuilding conflict resolution security studies and international relations in general

Whole-of-Society Peacebuilding Mary Martin, Vesna Bojicic-Dzelilovic, 2020-06-09 The complex problems of peace security and development in societies affected by conflict increasingly demand innovative ideas and comprehensive strategies to tackle the diverse simultaneous and daunting challenges faced in trying to rebuild states and communities after war This comprehensive collection sets out a Whole of Society WoS approach which focuses on the social contexts within which conflict resolution and prevention take place The aim of WoS is to grasp the complexity both within local society and in the relations between external peacebuilders and the people they set out to help The book argues that by understanding multiple actors their relationships and the conditions in which they operate complexity becomes an opportunity to be grasped not simply an impediment to building peace Chapter 6 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

Peacebuilding in Crisis Tobias Debiel, Thomas Held, Ulrich Schneekener, 2016-01-29 The 1990s saw a constant increase in international peace missions predominantly led by the United Nations whose mandates were more and more extended to implement societal and political transformations in post conflict societies However in many cases these missions did not meet the high expectations and did not acquire a sufficient legitimacy on the local level Written by leading experts in the field this edited volume brings together liberal and post liberal approaches to peacebuilding Besides challenging dominant peacebuilding paradigms the book scrutinizes how far key concepts of post liberal peacebuilding offer sound categories and new perspectives to reframe peacebuilding research It thus moves beyond the liberal post liberal divide and systematically integrates further perspectives paving the way for a new era in peacebuilding research which is theory guided but also substantiated in the empirical analysis of peacebuilding practices This book will be essential reading for postgraduate students and scholar practitioners working in the field of peacebuilding By embedding the subject area into different research perspectives the book will also be relevant for scholars who come from related backgrounds such as democracy promotion transitional justice statebuilding conflict and development research and international relations in general

Civil-Military Relations and Global Security Governance Cornelia Baciuc, 2021-03-01 This book investigates the relationship between international security governance democratic civil military relations and the relevance of strategy as well as of absolute and relative gains in norms formation in hybrid orders Highlighting caveats of the legacy of Huntington's paradigm of military professionalism the book applies a robust methodology and data collected in four sample regions in Pakistan It gauges the effects of international and local actors support in the Security Sector Reform domain and examines instances of civil military interactions and military transition The book also analyses determinants and strategies that can influence them to demonstrate the impact of global governance in norms diffusion as well as of absolute and relative utility gains and incentives in normative change The author generates a new theory pertaining to international organisations and actors as determinants of transformation processes and consequently sheds new light on the issue of global security governance especially its impact on civil military relations and democratisation in hybrid orders The book will be of interest to scholars and practitioners in the field of global governance civil military relations grand strategy and foreign policy as well as Asian politics South Asian studies peace security and strategic studies International Relations and political science in more general

Local and Global Dynamics of Peacebuilding Christine Cubitt, 2012-03-12 Local and Global Dynamics of Peacebuilding examines the complex contributing factors which led to war and state collapse in Sierra Leone and the international peacebuilding and statebuilding operations which followed the cessation of the violence This book presents nuanced and contextually specific knowledge of Sierra Leone's political and war histories and the outcomes of the implementation of programmes of post conflict reforms It embodies an analysis of the complex challenges involved in aligning international norms and values to local expectations and local priorities and examines the role of local and global actors and structures in attempts to build a strong state and lasting peace Using a theoretical framework informed by liberal peace philosophy as well as detailed and nuanced empirical evidence from the field the book constructs a critical analysis of the contemporary global paradigm for building longer term peace in war torn fractured and fragile societies This book will be of much interest to students of peacebuilding war and conflict studies development studies African politics and IR security studies

Peacebuilding Legacy Sukanya Podder, 2022-08-08 A fundamental challenge plagues the global peacebuilding community How can technocratic approaches to peacebuilding that are rooted in short term project based execution of activities further the longer term transformative outcomes like altering young people's attitudes and beliefs about peace and violence In response to this global challenge in Peacebuilding Legacy Sukanya Podder analyzes the long term effects of peacebuilding programmes involving children and young people Podder unpacks the concept of peacebuilding legacy through the lens of time transformation and intergenerational peace Podder also develops unique qualitative cues for measuring legacy in terms of the institutional normative and organizational logics If norms resonate strongly with the local context they are likely to encourage strong retention and meaningful adoption over time Successful institutionalization of project models through planned handover to successor national organizations or government departments holds the key to stronger local ownership Organizational learning and reflection can support this process through a more strategic approach to programming and through post exit studies Regarding attitude change Podder found that the media and peace education projects that targeted individuals ingrained beliefs and values but overlooked the role of group social norms had only limited persuasive effects To shift the values practices norms and beliefs of the younger generation the mindset of the older generation must also be targeted Changes in the legal political economic and other social institutions are critical for long term and meaningful transformation This requires adopting an ecological model of peace
