Constructing European Intellectual Property Christophe Geiger, 2013 It is no longer possible to practice teach or study purely domestic intellectual property law within Europe European intellectual property norms now structure protection throughout the continent and even beyond Paradoxically what might seem as a simplification of legal rules has created a maze of new complexities substantive institutional and methodological This collection by some of the leading scholars in European IP manages to capture that complexity without sacrificing clarity Canvassing the entire field with a rich array of contributions the book both highlights the roots of European IP law and asks important fundamental questions about where it is going One can only hope that it is read by anyone with a hand in the future development of European IP law Graeme B Dinwoodie University of Oxford UK Christophe Geiger has put together a very fine collection of essays by many of the very best scholars in European intellectual property law The essays explore the basis extent as well as the successes and failings of regional harmonization of trade marks geographical indications copyright designs patents and remedies The celebrated cast of authors naturally discuss in addition to the various directives and regulations on each topic the Treaty provisions on exhaustion of rights and competition and their interpretation relevant provisions on legislative competence Article 17 2 of the Charter other fundamental rights and the growing case law of the Court of Justice There is essential material here for anyone interested in European intellectual property law as well as ideas for the improvement and further development of European IP law Lionel Bently University of Cambridge UK Constructing European Intellectual Property offers a comprehensive assessment of the current state of intellectual property legislation in Europe and gives direction on how an improved system might be achieved This detailed study presents various perspectives on what further actions are necessary to provide the circumstances and tools for the construction of a truly balanced European intellectual property system The book takes as its starting point that the ultimate aim of such a system should be to ensure sustainable and innovation based economic growth while enhancing free circulation of ideas and cultural expressions Being the first in the European Intellectual Property Institutes Network EIPIN series this book lays down some concrete foundations for a deeper understanding of European intellectual property law and its complex interplay with other fields of jurisprudence as well as its impact on a broad array of spheres of social interaction In so doing it provides a well needed platform for further research Academics policymakers lawyers and many others concerned with establishment of a regulatory framework for intangibles in the EU will benefit from the extensive and thoughtful discussion presented in this work Digital Music Licensing and Section 115 of the Copyright Act United States. Congress. House. Committee on the Judiciary. Subcommittee on Courts, the Internet, and Intellectual Property, 2005 Intellectual Property Law and Policy Volume 10 Hugh Hansen, 2008-03-26 Hart Publishing is pleased to announce that it has recently become publisher of this prestigious and much valued work The 15th Annual volume in the series collects the presentations and discussion from the Annual Fordham IP Conference The contributions by leading world experts analyze the most pressing issues in copyright trademark and patent law as seen from the perspectives of the USA the EU Asia and WIPO This volume in common with its predecessors seeks to make a lasting contribution to discourse in IP law few of the chapters are merely descriptive and most raise questions of policy or discuss new developments Praise for the Fordham International Intellectual Property Conference This must be one of the most enjoyable and thought provoking conferences in the IP field The high quality of the speakers is matched by the intense audience led debates and challenges which follow Hugh Laddie formerly Mr Justice Laddie University College London and consultant to Rouse Co Willoughby Partners Faculty for this conference are always well known names well respected leaders in their fields speaking with a combination of candor and timeliness that is unrivaled by any other forum of its kind The Honorable Marybeth Peters Register of Copyrights United States Copyright Office Music Licensing Reform United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on the Judiciary. Subcommittee on Intellectual Property, 2008 Nigerian Intellectual Property Law Ayoyemi Lawal-Arowolo, Kunle Ola, 2022-03-03 This book reflects on the development of Nigeria's intellectual property law and outlines the urgent need for reform Bringing together expert contributors from around the world the book identifies and discusses the inadequacies and lacunas in current intellectual property law and how it is practiced and applied in Nigeria The book argues that the revision and reform of Nigeria's intellectual property law will be vital for the country's development and national interests whilst also recognising that Nigeria's legal provisions must sit within a broader global context Divided into three parts the book discusses patents trademarks and copyright in the context of broad overarching themes affecting all aspects of intellectual property law Honouring Professor Adebambo Adewopo SAN the pioneering thinker in Nigerian intellectual property law this book will be an important resource for researchers working on African Law Collective Management of Music Copyright Qinqing Xu, 2023-04-17 Two of the objectives of the Chinese Copyright Law are to protect the copyright of authors to their literary and artistic works and encourage the creation and dissemination of works In practice however in spite of the existence of the Music Copyright Society of China MCSC that was established to assist with exercising copyright music creators in China remain in need of help to protect and manage their fragmented copyright The MCSC was the first collective management organisation CMO in mainland China and is the only CMO in the field of musical works While there is a large music industry and copyright business in China the MCSC only had 11 356 members at the end of 2021 The third amendment of the Chinese Copyright Law was initiated in 2011 and came into effect in June 2021 after a long debate for almost ten years The discussion of the third amendment has highlighted the controversial topic of collective management of copyright This book explores the adequacy of the MCSC as an intermediary representing rights for music creators The main argument developed in this study is that the work of the MCSC for individual composers and lyricists is hampered by shortcomings in the regulatory regime as well as by a lack of members rights to participate in the management of their own rights and by the ineffective international cooperation between the MCSC and other musical CMOs overseas The analysis is undertaken through a case study approach comparing the collective management systems of music copyright in China the United States and Australia and addressing the question of how musical CMOs operate in these countries Specifically three perspectives are examined the regulatory systems designed to limit the misuse of those CMOs monopoly members rights in the organisations and international cooperation between these CMOs Overall the main findings of this book suggest that the MCSC in China could work more effectively to protect music creators interests In contrast although the operational frameworks of the American Society of Composers Authors and Publishers ASCAP and the Broadcasting Broadcast Music Inc BMI in the United States and the Australasian Performing Right Association APRA in Australia are not perfect models the systems in these two countries may at least provide reference points for potential improvement of the regime of the MCSC The research recommends three courses of action strengthening the regulatory design overseeing the MCSC s monopoly clarifying the relationship between the MCSC and its members while providing the members with the right to manage their own copyright and improving the international cooperation between the MCSC and CMOs in other countries

Business, Innovation and Skills Committee, 2012 The Business Innovation and Skills Committee publishes a report The Hargreaves Review of Intellectual Property where next as part of its inquiry into the Hargreaves Review of Intellectual Property and Growth The Committee believes further work remains to be done in analysing whether the economic benefits of a parody exception would be as extensive as claimed However other grounds may yet support a change to the law by extending what is legally permissible which would probably help improve public respect for copyright law in general On content mining the Committee agrees that the ability to read published scientific data automatically is useful and needs to be opened up On the the issue of Digital Copyright Exchange the Committee encourages the Government to push forward with this idea provided that the system is kept simple and there is a proper cost benefit analysis On the Government s approach to negotiations on the Unified Patents Court the Committee is concerned about the Government s approach on this A unified patent and litigation system could bring many benefits particularly if the central court were situated in London but the current proposals have not been welcomed by practitioners or industry
