University Rankings Jung Cheol Shin, Robert K. Toutkoushian, Ulrich Teichler, 2011-06-06 This ground breaking and exhaustive analysis of university ranking surveys scrutinizes their theoretical bases methodological issues societal impact and policy implications providing readers with a deep understanding of these controversial comparators The authors propose that university rankings are misused by policymakers and institutional leaders alike They assert that these interested parties overlook the highly problematic internal logic of ranking methodologies even as they obsess over the surveys assessment of their status The result is that institutions suffer from short termism realigning their resources to maximize their relative rankings While rankings are widely used in policy and academic discussions this is the first book to explore the theoretical and methodological issues of ranking itself It is a welcome contribution to an often highly charged debate Far from showing how to manipulate the system this collection of work by key researchers aims to enlighten interested parties Rankings and the Reshaping of Higher Education Ellen Hazelkorn, 2015-03-23 University rankings have gained popularity around the world and are now a significant factor shaping reputation This second edition updates Ellen Hazelkorn's first comprehensive study of rankings from a global perspective drawing in new original research and extensive analysis It is essential reading for policymakers managers and scholars Rankings and the Reshaping of Higher Education E. Hazelkorn, 2011-03-08 University rankings have gained popularity around the world and are now a significant factor shaping reputation This book is the first comprehensive study of rankings from a global perspective making an important contribution to our understanding of the rankings phenomenon This book has also been published in Japanese Research Handbook on University Rankings Hazelkorn, Ellen, Mihut, Georgiana, 2021-12-10 Gathering unique and thoughtful contributions from leading international scholars this timely Research Handbook offers diverse perspectives on university rankings twenty years after the first global rankings emerged It presents an in depth analysis that reflects the current state of research on rankings their influence and impact Who's #1? Amy N. Langville, Carl D. Meyer, 2013-12-01 The mathematics behind today's most widely used rating and ranking methods A website's ranking on Google can spell the difference between success and failure for a new business NCAA football ratings determine which schools get to play for the big money in postseason bowl games Product ratings influence everything from the clothes we wear to the movies we select on Netflix Ratings and rankings are everywhere but how exactly do they work Who's 1 offers an engaging and accessible account of how scientific rating and ranking methods are created and applied to a variety of uses Amy Langville and Carl Meyer provide the first comprehensive overview of the mathematical algorithms and methods used to rate and rank sports teams political candidates products Web pages and more In a series of interesting asides Langville and Meyer provide fascinating insights into the ingenious contributions of many of the field's pioneers They survey and compare the different methods employed today showing why their strengths and weaknesses depend on the underlying goal and explaining why and when a given method should be considered Langville and

Meyer also describe what can and can't be expected from the most widely used systems The science of rating and ranking touches virtually every facet of our lives and now you don't need to be an expert to understand how it really works Who's 1 is the definitive introduction to the subject It features easy to understand examples and interesting trivia and historical facts and much of the required mathematics is included Weapons of Math Destruction Cathy O'Neil,2016-09-06 A manual for the 21st century citizen accessible refreshingly critical relevant and urgent Financial Times Fascinating and deeply disturbing Yuval Noah Harari Guardian Books of the Year In this New York Times bestseller Cathy O'Neil one of the first champions of algorithmic accountability sounds an alarm on the mathematical models that pervade modern life and threaten to rip apart our social fabric We live in the age of the algorithm Increasingly the decisions that affect our lives where we go to school whether we get a loan how much we pay for insurance are being made not by humans but by mathematical models In theory this should lead to greater fairness everyone is judged according to the same rules and bias is eliminated And yet as Cathy O'Neil reveals in this urgent and necessary book the opposite is true The models being used today are opaque unregulated and incontestable even when they're wrong Most troubling they reinforce discrimination Tracing the arc of a person's life O'Neil exposes the black box models that shape our future both as individuals and as a society These weapons of math destruction score teachers and students sort CVs grant or deny loans evaluate workers target voters and monitor our health O'Neil calls on modellers to take more responsibility for their algorithms and on policy makers to regulate their use But in the end it's up to us to become more savvy about the models that govern our lives This important book empowers us to ask the tough questions uncover the truth and demand change Computing the News Sylvain Parasie,2022-10-11 Faced with a full blown crisis a growing number of journalists are engaging in seemingly unjournalistic practices such as creating and maintaining databases handling algorithms or designing online applications Data journalists claim that these approaches help the profession demonstrate greater objectivity and fulfill its democratic mission In their view computational methods enable journalists to better inform their readers more closely monitor those in power and offer deeper analysis In Computing the News Sylvain Parasie examines how data journalists and news organizations have navigated the tensions between traditional journalistic values and new technologies He traces the history of journalistic hopes for computing technology and contextualizes the surge of data journalism in the twenty first century By importing computational techniques and ways of knowing new to journalism news organizations have come to depend on a broader array of human and nonhuman actors Parasie draws on extensive fieldwork in the United States and France including interviews with journalists and data scientists as well as a behind the scenes look at several acclaimed projects in both countries Ultimately he argues fulfilling the promise of data journalism requires the renewal of journalistic standards and ethics Offering an in depth analysis of how computing has become part of the daily practices of journalists this book proposes ways for journalism to evolve in order to serve democratic societies Research Analytics Francisco J. term thinking has blinded some of the nation's finest minds to the long run implications of their actions. Law school deans have ceded independent judgment to flawed U.S. News World Report rankings criteria in the quest to maximize immediate results. Senior partners in the nation's large law firms have focused on current profits to enhance American Lawyer rankings and individual wealth at great cost to their institutions. Yet wiser decisions being honest about the legal job market, revisiting the financial incentives currently driving bad behavior, eliminating the billable hour model and more can take the profession to a better place. A devastating indictment of the greed, shortsightedness and dishonesty that now permeate the legal profession, this insider account is essential reading for anyone who wants to know how things went so wrong and how the profession can right itself once again.

The College Completion Glass—Half-Full or Half-Empty? Tiffany Beth Mfume, 2018-12-21. Despite the Great Recession and looming student loan debt crisis, college education remains the most proven, invaluable lifetime investment and serves as the most reliable path to upward mobility and socioeconomic class reassignment. Mfume suggests that the value added of even one year of college can be transformative. As higher education professionals and partners continue to advocate for new and improved college retention and graduation measures, The College Completion Glass: Half Full or Half Empty: Exploring the Value of Postsecondary Education presents a new paradigm for higher education, one that focuses on the value added of postsecondary education as well as on student success beyond the traditional measure of college graduation rates, a model which merges conventional practices and supports for students with non-traditional partnerships with and advocacy from successful non-completers.

The Impact of Higher Education Ranking Systems on Universities Kevin Downing, Petrus Johannes Looock, Sarah Gravett, 2021-04-04. This book, written by three generations of rankings academics with considerable experience from three very different regions of the globe, lifts the lid on the real impact of higher education ranking systems (HERS) on universities and their stakeholders. It critically analyses the criteria that make up the Big Three global ranking systems and, using interviews with senior administrators, academics and managers, discusses their impact on universities from four very different continents. Higher education continues to be dominated by a reputational hierarchy of institutions that sustains and is reinforced by HERS. Despite all the opinions and arguments about the legitimacy of the rankings as a construct, it seems experts agree that they are here to stay. The question therefore seems to be less about whether or not universities should be compared and ranked, but the manner in which this is undertaken. Delivering a fresh perspective on global rankings, this book summarizes the development of HERS and provides a critical evaluation of the effects of HERS on four different major regions: South Africa, the Arab region, South East Asia and Australia. It will appeal to any academic, student, university administrator or governing body interested in or affected by global higher education ranking systems.

Higher Education Accountability Robert Kelchen, 2018-02-27. Beginning with the earliest efforts to regulate schools, the author reveals the rationale behind accountability and outlines the historical development of how US federal and state policies, accreditation practices, private sector interests and internal requirements have become so important to institutional success and survival The Alcalde ,1997-03 As the magazine of the Texas Exes The Alcalde has united alumni and friends of The University of Texas at Austin for nearly 100 years The Alcalde serves as an intellectual crossroads where UT s luminaries artists engineers executives musicians attorneys journalists lawmakers and professors among them meet bimonthly to exchange ideas Its pages also offer a place for Texas Exes to swap stories and share memories of Austin and their alma mater The magazine s unique name is Spanish for mayor or chief magistrate the nickname of the governor who signed UT into existence was The Old Alcalde Global University Rankings and the Mediatization of Higher Education Michelle Stack,2016-04-12 Higher Education Institutions simultaneously critique and participate in national and international rankings of universities However this creates a difficult situation since if universities do participate in rankings they acquiesce to a system based in media logics that has little to do with academic norms of research If they do not participate in the rankings they risk losing public funding students and donors in an increasingly competitive and globalized environment This book delves into the influence of journalists business tycoons and multinational corporations in defining what world class is and how it will be measured Rankings provide us with a rich study for understanding how universities define deploy and manage their assets and liabilities in a mediatized globalized economy
