Fake News vs Media Studies Julian McDougall,2019-12-01 This book explores the place of Media Studies in the age of fake news analysing the calls for a curriculum of critical news literacy as part of a cyclical policy debate With the need for young people in democracies to understand mainstream news agendas and take a critical perspective on social media news including so called fake news this book argues for Media Studies as a mandatory subject However fake news is not presented in the book as a stable neutral term with a clear definition but is instead defined as an idea that risks obscuring the key critical and political premise of Media Studies All media representation requires critical deconstruction therefore any distinction between real and fake media is a false binary The author draws together two narrative strands one analysing contemporary news and journalism featuring interviews with journalists and news commentators and the other re appraising the discipline of Media Studies itself This bold and innovative book will appeal to all those interested in the nebulous and often confusing media landscape as well as students and practitioners of Media Studies
