The Effect of TikTok on Political Extremism in the United States

Jada Talbot, 2023 America is a nation divided In recent years levels of political polarization in the country have reached historical highs threatening the nation's chance of unifying to meaningfully address the various large scale issues it faces an opioid crisis exorbitant healthcare costs and a yawning federal budget deficit to name several Interestingly this divide has come at a time when Americans have an unprecedented ability to communicate with one another by way of social media Indeed a body of literature indicates that social media has in fact contributed to America's polarized nature Hawdon et al 2020 Koiranen et al 2019 Medina Serrano et al 2020 This thesis seeks to add to that body of work exploring how social media influences political polarization Specifically I examine how consuming political content on TikTok affects an individual's level of political extremism as well as the difference in political extremism between TikTok users and non TikTok users Previous work on this topic has centered on more traditional social media platforms like Twitter and Facebook Barber 2020 Banks et al 2021 Cinelli et al 2021 Yarchi et al 2021 This study therefore seeks to provide an updated understanding of this topic by focusing on a newer platform TikTok which is soaring in popularity Administering a survey to a student pool N 231 at a large public university in the Northeast I assessed how exposure to political content on TikTok affects one's political extremism Respondents answered a series of questions designed to gauge the average amount of political content they were viewing on TikTok as well as a series of issue based political questions to determine the respondent's level of political extremism The findings reveal that partisanship age race and income are the most significant predictors of an individual's level of extremism not their TikTok habits Consistently partisanship was the most significant predictor of extremism These findings suggest that other factors are influencing political extremism in the United States and that social media may have less impact than previous research asserts However the limitations of this study call for additional research to be conducted to fully understand the relationship between social media and political polarization in the United States
