Fake News Is Bad News Ján Višňovský, Jana Radošinská, 2021-09-08 We live in the era of the digital revolution characterized by easy access to obtaining processing and disseminating information on a global scale The emergence of these global digital spaces has transformed the world of communication This shift in our understanding of what we should be informed about when and how manifests itself not only within mature liberal democracies which grant their citizens and the media constitutionally guaranteed freedom of speech and rights associated with obtaining information but also within developing countries with different types of political establishments Moreover many media producers especially journalists and persons claiming to be journalists abuse their crucial mission and instead foster a set of serious communication phenomena that threaten basic human rights and freedoms weaken them or decelerate their development The publication is focused on the ways fake news disinformation misinformation and hateful statements are spread across society predominantly within the online environment Its main ambition is to offer an interdisciplinary body of scholarly knowledge on fake news disinformation and propaganda in relation to today's journalism social development political situation and cultural affairs happening all around the world Beyond New Media Art Herbig, Andrew F. Herrmann, Adam W. Tyma, 2014-11-14 Beyond New Media Discourse and Critique in a Polymediated Age examines a host of differing positions on media in order to explore how those positions can inform one another and build a basis for future engagements with media theory research and practice Herbig Herrmann and Tyma have brought together a number of media scholars with differing paradigmatic backgrounds to debate the relative applicability of existing theories and in doing so develop a new approach polymediation Each contributor's disciplinary background is diverse spanning interpersonal communication media studies organizational communication instructional design rhetoric mass communication gender studies popular culture studies informatics and persuasion Although each of these scholars brings with them a unique perspective on media's role in people's lives what binds them together is the belief that meaningful discourse about media must be an ongoing conversation that is open to critique and revision in a rapidly changing mediated culture By studying media in a polymediated way Beyond New Media addresses more completely our complex relationship to media in our everyday lives College & Research Libraries News, 2006 The Host in the Machine Angela Thomas-Jones, 2010-07-27 This text tackles online social networks by navigating these systems from the birth to the death of the digital self The author begins by examining the creation of a virtual identity in online networks popularized by websites such as Facebook and Myspace The book subsequently explores how the social self is intrinsic to how social cultural and professional relationships are discovered forged and maintained The text journeys through the popular criticisms of social networking such as employee time wasting bullying stalking the alleged links between social networks and suicide and the decline of a user's public image The dissonance between the performance of the virtual and non virtual selves and the offline issues that can ensue are contextualized by the social nature of these online networks The discussion of this digital life ends by addressing the intricacies of becoming web dead which explores how a user removes their identity with finality from social networks and the entire web The Washington Post Index, 2009 Social Computing Subhasish Dasgupta, 2010-01-01 With an increasing accessibility to social networking tools the development of Web 2.0 and the emergence of virtual worlds social computing crosses cultural boundaries to join people in the digital landscape Social Computing Concepts Methodologies Tools and Applications uncovers the growing and expanding phenomenon of human behavior social constructs and communication in online environments This multiple volume publication presents the latest research on social change evolving networks media and interaction with technology to offer audiences a comprehensive view of the impact of social computing on the way cultures think act and exchange information
