250th Anniversary of the United States of America Encyclopedia (Set) L Bennett, 2025-12-15 The 250th Anniversary of the United States of America Encyclopedia explores some of the most important people and events in the nation's history. Readers will learn about the founding of the United States and the triumphs, challenges, and innovations of the 250 years that followed. Features include a glossary, maps, additional resources, and an index. Aligned to Common Core Standards and correlated to state standards. Encyclopedias is an imprint of Abdo Reference, a division of ABDO. NASA Tech Briefs, 2002 SPIN, 2007-06 From the concert stage to the dressing room, from the recording studio to the digital realm, SPIN surveys the modern musical landscape and the culture around it with authoritative reporting, provocative interviews, and a discerning critical ear. With dynamic photography, bold graphic design, and informed irreverence, the pages of SPIN pulsate with the energy of today's most innovative sounds. Whether covering what's new or what's next, SPIN is your monthly VIP pass to all that rocks. Public Spending Policies in Latin America and the Caribbean Daniel Riera-Crichton, Guillermo Vuletin, 2024-08-30 In low and middle income economies, public spending policies diverge significantly from those of industrialized nations due to structural differences. Low and middle income economies often make long-term commitments based on short-term economic conditions, leading to mismatches between spending maturity and economic cycles. These mismatches can exacerbate fiscal imbalances and hinder economic growth by forcing compositional changes in public spending. Public Spending Policies in Latin America and the Caribbean: When Cyclical Behavior Meets Rigidities describes significant cyclical behavior variations in low and middle income markets. Contrary to Keynesian principles, public spending in these economies tends to be procyclical during economic booms, driven by increased borrowing and political pressures to address social deficits, but policy makers are unable or unwilling to retrench during economic busts. This approach not only amplifies macroeconomic volatility but also plants the seeds for fiscal distress, which is typically addressed by diminishing the quantity and quality of public investment, with serious consequences for long-term growth. Labor market informality further complicates matters, rendering automatic stabilizers like unemployment insurance impractical. Instead, governments rely on public employment and social transfer programs, which are downwardly rigid and can contribute to the expansion of government size over time. Addressing these anomalies requires policy interventions beyond traditional recommendations. Implementing fiscal rules to restrain overspending during economic upturns, enhancing the efficiency of public goods provision, and establishing mechanisms to adjust social programs during economic fluctuations are suggested approaches. In addition, measures to protect public investment and mitigate biases against pension benefits could aid in fostering long-term economic sustainability and welfare improvement. Public Spending Policies in Latin America and the Caribbean will be of interest to policy makers, researchers, and anyone with an interest in developing mechanisms for helping low and middle income economies weather economic storms. Networked Music Cultures Raphaël Nowak, Andrew Whelan, 2016-09-16 This collection presents a range of essays on contemporary music distribution and consumption patterns and practices The contributors to the collection use a variety of theoretical and methodological approaches discussing the consequences and effects of the digital distribution of music as it is manifested in specific cultural contexts The widespread circulation of music in digital form has far reaching consequences not least for how we understand the practices of sourcing and consuming music the political economy of the music industries and the relationships between format and aesthetics Through close empirical engagement with a variety of contexts and analytical frames the contributors to this collection demonstrate that the changes associated with networked music are always situationally specific sometimes contentious and often unexpected in their implications With chapters covering topics such as the business models of streaming audio policy and professional discourses around the changing digital music market the creative affordances of format and circulation and local practices of accessing and engaging with music in a range of distinct cultural contexts the book presents an overview of the themes topics and approaches found in current social and cultural research on the relations between music and digital technology

E-books in Libraries Kate Price, Virginia Havergal, 2011 Despite the fact that e books have been in existence for decades in various guises and added to library collections for several years now there has been a noticeable lack of published manuals on the subject This is doubtless owing to the rapidly evolving nature of the market There is now a plethora of different types of digital object that may be termed e books and a bewildering number of business and access models to match Moreover the pace of change shows no sign of abating but there is an increasing amount of popular interest in e books and what is needed is practical information to assist library and information professionals managing collections of e books and doing their best to inform their users right now The book is divided into five parts The production and distribution of e books Planning and developing an e book collection Delivering e books to library readers Engaging readers with e books The future of e books Virginia Havergal BA Hons MSc MEd FIFL is a Learning Centres and e Resources Manager for Petroc a further education college in Devon Prior to this role she was an e Learning Advisor with JISC with a particular focus on Learning Resources Kate Price BA Hons MA MCLIP is Head of E Strategy and Resources at the University of Surrey
