EdPsych Modules Cheryl Cisero Durwin, Marla Reese-Weber, 2016-12-01 Now with SAGE Publications Cheryl Cisero Durwin and Marla Reese Weber's EdPsych Modules uses an innovative implementation of case studies and a modular format to address the challenge of effectively connecting theory and research to practice Each module is a succinct stand-alone topic that represents every subject found in traditional chapter texts and can be used in any order for maximum flexibility in organizing your course Each of the book's eight units of modules begins with a set of four case studies early childhood elementary middle school and secondary and ends with Assess and Reflect and Evaluate questions and activities to encourage comprehension and application of the research and theories presented. The case approach and the extensive pedagogy that support it allows students to constantly see the applications of the theories and research that they are studying in the text. Second Handbook of Research on Mathematics Teaching and Learning Frank K. Lester, 2007-02-01. The audience remains much the same as for the 1992 Handbook namely mathematics education researchers and other scholars conducting work in mathematics education. This group includes college and university faculty graduate students investigators in research and development centers and staff members at federal state and local agencies that conduct and use research within the discipline of mathematics. The intent of the authors of this volume is to provide useful perspectives as well as pertinent information for conducting investigations that are informed by previous work. The Handbook should also be a useful textbook for graduate research seminars. In addition to the audience mentioned above the present Handbook contains chapters that should be relevant to four other groups: teacher educators curriculum developers state and national policy makers and test developers and others involved with assessment. Taken as a whole the chapters reflect the mathematics education research community's willingness to accept the challenge of helping the public understand what mathematics education research is all about and what the relevance of their research findings might be for those outside their immediate community.
