Migration Remittances And Development In South Asia:

South Asian Migration Zaara Zain Hussain, Md Mizanur Rahman, 2015-09-04 International migration is a dynamic global phenomenon that has been drawing increasing attention from both scholars and policymakers over the last few decades. It is particularly relevant to South Asia since the region is a vast source of sojourner migrant labour as well as home to permanent immigrant and diaspora communities. The chapters brought together in this volume provide insights into the study of international migration, diaspora engagement and remittances in South Asia. In particular, they analyse the implications of this phenomenon in relation to development and shed light on migration and diaspora-led development in two sections: firstly, Remittance Induced Development and secondly, Diaspora Induced Development. The geographic focus of the volume is the global South Asian emigrant population who live outside the region. This volume demonstrates that international migration, remittances and development offer an exciting field of academic study as well as a vibrant area of policy study. Its multi-disciplinary dimensions enlarge its scope and applicability across several domains. As such, this volume offers an important contribution to the growing field of international migration in both the academic and policy spheres.

Migrant Remittances in South Asia M. Rahman, T. Yong, A. Ullah, 2014-11-25 This volume provides theoretical treatments of remittance on how its development potential is translated into reality. The authors meticulously delve into diverse mechanisms through which migrant communities remit, investigating how recipients engage in the development process in South Asia.

International Migration and Development in South Asia Md Mizanur Rahman, Tan Tai Yong, 2015-04-10 In migration studies, the nexus between migration and development in the global South has been meticulously debated. However, a unanimous resolution to this debate has not been found due to the ever-changing nature of international migration. This book advances knowledge on the global debate on the migration-development relationship by documenting experiences in a number of countries in South Asia. Drawing on the experiences of global South Asians, this volume documents the impact of migration on the social, economic and political fields in the broader context of development. It also presents a regional experience by looking into the migration-development nexus in the context of South Asia and analyses the role South Asian migrants and diaspora communities play in the South Asian society. Contributions from a variety of disciplinary backgrounds, including sociology, anthropology, political science, international relations and economics, document the development implications of South Asian migration. Broad in scope in terms of contents, timeline of migration and geographical coverage, the book presents empirically based case studies involving India, Bangladesh, Sri Lanka, Pakistan and Nepal and their emigrants living and working in different parts of the world. Going beyond reporting the impacts of migration on economic development by highlighting the implications of social development on society, this book provides a fascinating contribution to the fields of Asian Development, Migration Studies and South Asian Studies.

Migration, Remittances, and Sustainable Development in Africa Maty Konte, Linguère Mously Mbaye, 2020-11-26 This book provides a strong multidisciplinary examination of the links between migration remittances and sustainable development in Africa. It makes evidence based policy recommendations on migration to help achieve the Sustainable Development Goals. The key themes examined are migration and remittances and their relations with the following issues: economic transformation, education and knowledge, corruption and conflict. Cross cutting issues such as gender equality and youth are weaved throughout the chapters and a rich range of country contexts are presented. The volume also discusses challenges in managing migration flows. It will be of interest to advanced students, academics and policy makers in development economics and sustainable development.

Asianization of Migrant Workers in the Gulf Countries S. Irudaya Rajan, Ginu Zacharia Oommen, 2019-11-27. This edited volume contains sixteen chapters by eminent scholars on one of the largest migration corridors in the world, i.e. between South and South East Asia and the Gulf region. Asia's trade and cultural contact with the Gulf date back to ancient historical times. Since the 1970s, the economic rise of the Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC) countries, owing to the discovery of oil, has inspired a huge influx of migrant workers from Asia. At present, out of roughly 15 million expatriates in the Gulf region, Asians constitute around 12 million, 80 percent. The chapters in this book look at migration from countries like India, Sri Lanka, Bangladesh, Pakistan, Indonesia and Philippines to the different GCC countries. A few chapters also focus on migration from the Indian state of Kerala, a state where migration to the Gulf is prominent and where remittances make up over 36 percent of the state GDP. Furthermore, the issues covered range from labour practices and policies, citizenship and state protection, human rights, gender and caste, as well as diaspora. This book explores the multifaceted nuances of the Asia-Gulf migratory corridor and unearths future prospects and strategic implications. The book examines remittance behaviour, changing gender roles of immigrants, social spatial mobility, migrant policies, human rights, sense of belonging and identity and perception and the interaction between nationals and non-nationals. The book will be of interest to researchers in the areas of demography, migration and gender studies, as well as social science researchers, policy makers, human rights lawyers, civil society institutions working on migration, Gulf studies programmes and centres on South Asian and Middle Eastern studies.

South Asia Migration Report 2024 S. Irudaya Rajan, 2024-12-10. South Asia Migration Report 2024 documents key themes of remittances, resilience and rehabilitation from the region. This volume includes dedicated fieldwork to map migration within and outside South Asia. It analyses the impact of Covid-19 on migrants and migration in South Asia. It highlights the plight of Afghan migrants post-Taliban takeover in the country. This book will be indispensable for scholars and researchers of economics, development studies, migration and diaspora studies, gender studies, labour studies and sociology. It will also be useful to policymakers, think tanks and government institutions working in the area.
