One Woman Two Towers:

The One Woman Thomas Dixon, 2006-07 Quick a glass of water A man sprang to his feet beckoning to an usher When he reached the seat the woman had recovered by a supreme effort of will and sat erect her face flushed with anger at her own weakness Thank you I am quite well now she said with dignity The man settled back and the usher returned to his place and stood watching her out of the corners of his eyes fascinated by her beauty The church was packed that night with more than two thousand people The air was hot and foul The old brick building jammed in the middle of a block faced the street with its big bare gable The ushers were so used to people fainting that they kept water and smelling salts handy in the anterooms The Reverend Frank Gordon no longer paused or noticed these interruptions He had accepted the truth that while God builds the churches the devil gets the job to heat light and ventilate them One Carmine Sun Glows for Today M. Recommended for those who revel in narratives that expertly dissect the human condition and celebrate the triumph of the heart amidst adversity Part Wild Ceiridwen Terrill, 2011-10-11 Part Wild is the unforgettable story of Ceiridwen Terrill's journey with a creature whose heart is divided between her bond to one woman and her need to roam free. When Terrill adopts a wolfdog, part husky, part gray wolf, named Inyo to be her protector and fellow traveler, she is drawn to Inyo's spark of wildness, compelled by the great responsibility, even danger, that accompanies the allure of the wild and transformed by the extraordinary love she shares with Inyo, who teaches Terrill how to carve out a place for herself in the world. Over almost four years, Terrill and Inyo's adventures veer between hilarious and heartbreaking. There are peaceful weekends spent hiking in snowy foothills, mirthful romps through dirty laundry, joyful adoptions of dog companions, and clashes brought on by the stress of caring for Inyo, insatiable without the stimulation of a life lived outdoors. Forced to move and accommodate the complaints of fearful neighbors and the desires of her space-craving wolfdog, Terrill must confront the reality of what she has done by trying to tame a part-wild animal. Driven to understand the differences between dogs and wolves, Terrill spent five years interviewing genetics experts, wolf biologists, dog trainers, and wolf rescuers in the United States, Germany, Hungary, Sweden, and Russia. The fascinating results of her investigation make Part Wild as informative as it is moving. A gifted writer able to capture the grace and power of the natural world, the complexity of scientific ideas, and the pulse of the human experience, Terrill has written a bittersweet memoir of the beauty and tragedy that come from living with a measure of wildness. A Beleaguered City: Being a Narrative of Certain Recent Events in the City of Semur, in the Department of the Haute Bourgogne: A Story of the Seen and the Unseen Margaret Oliphant, Wilson Oliphant, Superpower Russell Gold, 2020-11-10 Meet Michael Skelly, the man boldly harnessing wind energy that could power America's future and break its fossil fuel dependence in this essential, compelling look into the future of the nation's power grid. Bryan Burrough, author of The Big Rich. The United States is in the midst of an energy transition. We have fallen out of love with dirty fossil fuels and want to embrace renewable energy sources like wind and solar. A transition from a North American power grid that is powered mostly by fossil fuels to one that is predominantly clean is feasible, but it would require a massive building spree. Wind turbines, solar panels, wires, and billions of dollars would be needed. Enter Michael Skelly, an infrastructure builder who began working on wind energy in 2000 when many considered the industry a joke. Eight years later, Skelly helped build the second largest wind power company in the United States and sold it for 2 billion. Wind energy was no longer funny; it was well on its way to powering more than 6% of electricity in the United States. Award-winning journalist Russel Gold tells Skelly's story, which in many ways is the story of our nation's evolving relationship with renewable energy. Gold illustrates how Skelly's company, Clean Line Energy, conceived the idea for a new power grid that would allow sunlight, where abundant, to light up homes in the cloudy states, thousands of miles away, and take wind from the Great Plains to keep air conditioners running in Atlanta. Thrilling, provocative, and important, Superpower is a fascinating look at America's future. The Histories
