Power Politics in Asia's Contested Waters Enrico Fels, Truong-Minh Vu, 2016-02-19 This volume offers a comprehensive and empirically rich analysis of regional maritime disputes in the South China Sea SCS By discussing important aspects of the rise of China's maritime power such as territorial disputes altered perceptions of geo politics and challenges to the US led regional order the authors demonstrate that a regional power shift is taking place in Asia Pacific The volume also provides in depth discussions of the responses to Chinese actions by SCS claimants as well as by important non claimant actors

Chinese Assertiveness in the South China Sea Richard Q. Turcsányi, 2017-10-27 This book offers an assessment of China's assertive foreign policy behavior with a special focus on Chinese policies in the South China Sea SCS By providing a detailed account of the events in the SCS and by analyzing power dynamics in the region it identifies the driving forces behind China's assertive foreign policy Considering China's power on a domestic as well as an international level it examines a number of different sources of hard and soft power including military economics geopolitics and domestic legitimacy The author demonstrates that Chinese assertiveness in the SCS can be explained not only by increases in China's power but also by effective reactions to other actors foreign policy changes The book will appeal to scholars in international relations especially those interested in a better understanding of South China Sea developments China's political power and foreign policy and East Asian international affairs

From Disputed Waters to Seas of Opportunity Clive H. Schofield, 2011

The Global Society and Its Enemies Ludger Kühnhardt, 2017-05-05 This book discusses contemporary constellations of international politics and global transformation It offers guidance on how to conceptualize the complexity of current global changes and practical policy advice in order to promote an open global society In the light of today's challenges the author reinterprets the main argument of the philosopher Karl Popper in The Open Society and Its Enemies Based on this framework and new empirical evidence the book discusses the thesis of an ongoing Third World War triggered by fundamental deficits in nation building occurring primarily within states and not between them and accelerated by asymmetric forms of warfare and Islamist totalitarianism The book also explores various threats to the global order such as the paradox of borders as barriers and bridges the global effects of the youth bubble in many developing countries and the misuse of religious interpretation for the use of political violence Lastly the author identifies advocates and supporters of a liberal multilateral and open order and argues for a reinvention of the Western world to contribute to a revival of a liberal global order based on mutual respect and joint leadership

China's Foreign Policy Contradictions Tim Nicholas Rühlig, 2021-06-17 China's rise to great power status is indisputable but can it shape the future international order This question remains widely debated because China's foreign policy is contradictory Contrary to conventional wisdom this book shows that China does not act from a position of strength but that foreign policy contradictions are the result of the domestic vulnerabilities of the ruling Chinese Communist Party Providing exceptional insights into the considerations behind the opaque institutional structures of Chinese foreign policymaking and decision making it shows that China will not provide a model for a new international system but could undermine the existing order

Nationalist Entrepreneurs and Territorial Disputes in Northeast Asia Jiun Bang, 2025-09-24 This book explores how nationalism surrounding territorial sovereignty requires a domestic nationalist ecosystem aka the Nationalist Industrial Complex to sustain public interest It focuses on nationalist entrepreneurs representing local merchants who commodify nationalism by building businesses that explicitly incorporate elements of territorial sovereignty protection e g food and apparel with the insignia of a disputed territory The author argues that this mundane everyday activity of commodification co constitutes public interest surrounding territorial sovereignty and explains why nationalism might be more contingent than permanent Despite its prevalence the commodification of nationalism is one of the most under explored areas This fresh insight on how everyday nationalism can influence ordinary people's understanding of or attention to nationalistic issues will be of interest to scholars and students of East Asian international relations nationalism security studies area studies and comparative politics

Knowing the Salween River: Resource Politics of a Contested Transboundary River Carl Middleton, Vanessa Lamb, 2019-08-12 This open access book focuses on the Salween River shared by China Myanmar and Thailand that is increasingly at the heart of pressing regional development debates The basin supports the livelihoods of over 10 million people and within it there is great socio economic cultural and political diversity The basin is witnessing intensifying dynamics of resource extraction alongside large dam construction conservation and development intervention that is unfolding within a complex terrain of local national and transnational governance With a focus on the contested politics of water and associated resources in the Salween basin this book offers a collection of empirical case studies that highlights local knowledge and perspectives Given the paucity of grounded social science studies in this contested basin this book provides conceptual insights at the intersection of resource governance development and politics of knowledge relevant to researchers policy makers and practitioners at a time when rapid change is underway Fills a significant knowledge gap on a major river in Southeast Asia with empirical and conceptual contributions Inter disciplinary perspective and by a range of writers including academics policy makers and civil society researchers the majority from within Southeast Asia New policy insights on a river at the cross roads of a major political and development transition

Contested Waters Amit Ranjan, 2020-09-02 This book examines India's transboundary river water disputes with its South Asian riparian neighbours Pakistan Bangladesh Nepal and Bhutan It explores the history of disputes and cooperation over the transboundary river water in this region as well as discusses current disputes and future concerns It analyses how and why existing transboundary river water sharing treaties between India and its South Asian riparian neighbours are confronted with challenges The book indicates that India's transboundary river water disputes with its South Asian riparian neighbours are likely to escalate in coming years due to the widening of the demand supply gap in the respective countries It further shows the impact of bilateral relations on the resolution of transboundary river water disputes even as cordial relationships do not always guarantee the absence of river water disputes between riparian states The book looks at some key questions How political are India's transboundary rivers water disputes in South Asia Why do the roots of India's river water disputes with Bangladesh and Pakistan lie in the partition of the British India in 1947 Why are there reservations against India's hydroelectricity projects or allegations of water theft Is it possible to resolve transboundary river water disputes among these South Asian countries This book will greatly interest scholars and researchers working in the areas of river management environmental politics transnationalism water resources politics and international relations security studies peace and conflict studies geopolitics development studies governance and public administration and South Asian studies in addition to policymakers and journalists

The Euro-Atlantic Security System in the 21st Century Ryszard Zięba, 2018-04-25 This book examines the evolution of the Euro Atlantic security system from cooperation to rivalry and crisis since the beginning of the 21st century By highlighting the causes manifestations and international consequences of this evolution the author describes a stage of crisis in the security system characterized by increasing rivalry for spheres of influence militarization of policies and the suspension of cooperation due to the growing divergence between the interests of the West now including the Central European states and Russia leading to a subsequent reconfiguration of the world order Adopting a neo realistic approach the author demonstrates that members of the Euro Atlantic security system irrespective of the values they claim to hold are guided in their actions on the international stage by clearly defined interests The first part of the book analyses the nature of the Euro Atlantic security system while the second part illustrates the limited success of Euro Atlantic collaboration for example in combating terrorism Lastly the third part discusses the consequences of the crisis such as the conflict in Ukraine and prospects for the future evolution of the Euro Atlantic security system

Mers d'Asie du Sud-Est. Coopérations, intégration et sécurité Nathalie Fau, Benoît de Tréglodé, 2018-11-22 L'Asie du Sud Est espace géopolitique majeur est une région dominante maritime l'espace marin y d passe en superficie celui des terres émergées et sa situation exceptionnelle entre deux océans Pacifique et Indien lui confère un rôle central dans la circulation maritime mondiale

L'Asie du Sud-Est, espace géopolitique majeur, est une région dominante maritime. L'espace marin y détermine en superficie celui des terres émergées et sa situation exceptionnelle entre deux océans Pacifique et Indien lui confère un rôle central dans la circulation maritime mondiale. Loin d'être homogène et uniforme, cette tendue maritime se structure en sous-ensembles régionaux et l'ambition de ce livre est de prendre en compte cette diversité. Il ne se focalise ainsi pas uniquement sur la mer de Chine méridionale mais traite également de la mer de Sulu, Sulawesi, de Timor et d'Arafura, du Golfe du Tonkin, du détroit de Malacca ou encore du Triangle de Corail. Mers et détroits ont toujours joué un rôle central et unificateur dans l'intégration spatiale de cette région. Mais l'intervention des puissances coloniales et surtout la volonté des États après leur indépendance de protéger leur territoire national ont contribué à l'émergence de différents frontaliers territoriaux et maritimes. Si la mer cristallise ces tensions, elle n'en demeure pas moins au cœur d'enjeux politiques, économiques, sociaux et environnementaux et de nombreuses initiatives de coopération ont tenté l'exploration et l'exploitation pétrolières et gazières, la recherche marine, la sécurité maritime, la protection de l'environnement, les opérations de sauvetage et la lutte contre la criminalité. Les richesses réunies dans cet ouvrage mettent en évidence le caractère transnational des questions maritimes en Asie du Sud-Est et croisent pour la première fois la dimension sécuritaire et le poids des coopérations régionales.

US-Chinese Strategic Triangles S. Mahmud Ali, 2017-06-07 This book reveals the nature of Sino-US strategic competition by examining the influence exerted by major secondary stakeholders such as Japan, Russia, India, the Koreas and ASEAN on the two powers, USA and its rival China, who consider each other as a source of greatest challenges to their respective interests. By adopting strategic triangles as the analytical framework and assessing triangular relational dynamics such as US-China-Japan or US-China-Russia, the author illustrates how secondary stakeholders advance their own interests by exploiting their respective linkages to the two rivals, thereby shaping Sino-US competitive dynamics. This work adds a regional and multivariable perspective to the understanding of the Indo-Pacific's insecurity challenges.

The Politics of Urban Land in South Asia Urmi Sengupta, Kenneth Nielsen, 2025-03-18 Cities in South Asia are homes to one of the highest concentrations of people anywhere in the world and the allocation of land and urban resources and the benefits that can be derived from them in this region have become increasingly contested. This book explores the politics of urban land in South Asia and the challenges related to their respective urban futures. For most people, land comes at a premium and as a result, conflicts and contestations over land and urban resources are rife in countries such as India, Bangladesh, Pakistan, Sri Lanka and Nepal, as witnessed in the many struggles of low-income groups and vulnerable or marginalised communities to fight off dispossession or displacement. This book maps current challenges shared across national borders and charts out new directions for future research and land policy. With contributions from emerging and established authors, the book offers a critical accounting of the situation that exists in urban South Asia while also critically engaging with the current challenges and future directions for land use and land politics. The book will be useful to students and researchers of public policy, development studies, economics, urban and regional development studies and sociology as well as to policy makers real estate professionals and commercial firms engaged in property market real estate study in Asia Chapter 10 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

Ecologies of Urbanism in India Anne M. Rademacher, K. Sivaramakrishnan, 2013-03-01 Essays follow rapidly proliferating and resource intensive Indian urbanism in everyday environments Case studies on nature conservation in cities urban housing and slum development waste management urban planning and contestations over the quality of air water and sanitation in Delhi and Mumbai illuminate urban ecology perspectives throughout the twentieth century The collection highlights how struggles over the environment and one's quality of life in urban centers are increasingly framed in terms of their future place in a landscape of global sustainability The text brings historical particularity and ethnographic nuance to questions of urban ecology and offers novel insight into theoretical and practical debates on urbanism and sustainability

Power and Water in Central Asia Filippo Menga, 2017-12-01 Water is an irreplaceable and transient resource which crosses political boundaries in the form of rivers lakes and groundwater aquifers The collapse of the Soviet Union in 1991 led to the birth of fifteen countries including the five Central Asian republics Kazakhstan Kyrgyzstan Tajikistan Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan When the USSR ceased to exist so did the centralised Soviet resource distribution system that managed the exchange and allocation of water energy and food supplies A whole new set of international relations emerged and the newly formed Central Asian governments had to redefine the policies related to the exchange and sharing of their natural resources This book analyses the role of state power in transboundary water relations It provides an in depth study of the evolution of interstate relations in Central Asia in the field of water from 1991-2015 Taking as a case study the planned construction of the Rogun and Kambarata dams in Tajikistan and Kyrgyzstan the author examines various forms of overt and covert power shaping interstate relations and the way hegemonic and counter hegemonic measures are put in place in an international river basin He argues that the intimate correlation between the concepts of power and hegemony can offer key insights to the analysis and understanding of transboundary water relations While the analytical focus is placed on state power the book demonstrates that hegemonic and counter hegemonic tactics represent the ways in which power is wielded and observed Offering fresh theoretical interpretations to the subjects of power and counter hegemony in the Aral Sea basin this book puts forward the original circle of hydro hegemony an analytical framework in which the various forms of power are connective in the function of hegemony It will be of interest to scholars in the field of water and environmental politics and Central Asian Studies

China's Coercion of States in the Asia-Pacific Region Maximilian Ernst, 2025-02-11 This book explains why China chooses to coerce Asia Pacific regional states despite the risk of such actions creating a backlash and complicating its strategic calculus China's coercion of neighboring states often a variation of heavy informal economic sanctions combined with diplomatic pressure and gray zone coercive measures has been increasingly observable in the past decade It has become an important tool in China's foreign policy toolbox and is frequently used by Beijing to shape the security political environment of the Asia Pacific The book begins with an appreciation of China's complicated geopolitical exposition and an understanding that such coercion creates backlash since the target state will likely be alienated and pushed into closer security cooperation with the United States China's main geopolitical rival Through two in depth case studies of Chinese coercion targeting the Philippines and South Korea respectively the book demonstrates that first the reason China coerces is that the secondary state engages in actions that fundamentally threaten China's security interests and second it will coerce these states only if other policy options geared to change the secondary state's course of action have not worked Employing balance of power theory and particularly wedge strategies the book solves a pertinent research question and improves our knowledge of contemporary security politics in the Asia Pacific This book will be of interest to students scholars and practitioners of Asia Pacific security Chinese foreign policy and international relations

Ethnographies of Power Tristan Loloum, Simone Abram, Nathalie Ortar, 2021-04-01 Energy related infrastructures are crucial to political organization They shape the contours of states and international bodies as well as corporations and communities framing their material existence and their fears and idealisations of the future Ethnographies of Power brings together ethnographic studies of contemporary entanglements of energy and political power Revisiting classic anthropological notions of power it asks how changing energy related infrastructures are implicated in the consolidation extension or subversion of contemporary political regimes and discovers what they tell us about politics today

Water, Power and Identity Rutgerd Boelens, 2015-04-10 This book addresses two major issues in natural resource management and political ecology the complex conflicting relationship between communities managing water on the ground and national global policy making institutions and elites and how grassroots defend against encroachment question the self evidence of State market based water governance and confront coercive and participatory boundary policing normal vs abnormal The book examines grassroots building of multi layered water rights territories and State market and expert networks vigorous efforts to reshape these water societies in their own image seizing resources and or aligning users identities and rights systems within dominant frameworks Distributive and cultural politics entwine It is shown that attempts to modernize and normalize users through universalized water culture rational water use and de politicized interventions deepen water security problems rather than alleviating them However social struggles negotiate and enforce water rights User collectives challenge imposed water rights and identities constructing new ones to strategically acquire water control autonomy and re moralize their waterscapes The author shows that battles for material control include the right to culturally define and politically organize water rights and territories Andean illustrations from Peru Ecuador Bolivia and Chile from peasant indigenous life stories to international policy making highlight open and subsurface hydro social networks They reveal how water justice struggles are political projects against indifference and that engaging in re distributive policies and defying truth politics extends context particular water rights definitions and governance forms China as a Twenty-First Century Naval Power Michael A McDevitt, 2020-10-15 Xi Jinping has made his ambitions for the People's Liberation Army PLA perfectly clear there is no mystery what he wants first that China should become a great maritime power and secondly that the PLA become a world class armed force by 2050 He wants this latter objective to be largely completed by 2035 China as a Twenty First Century Naval Power focuses on China's navy and how it is being transformed to satisfy the world class goal Beginning with an exploration of why China is seeking to become such a major maritime power author Michael McDevitt first explores the strategic rationale behind Xi's two objectives China's reliance on foreign trade and overseas interests such as China's Belt and Road strategy In turn this has created concerns within the senior levels of China's military about the vulnerability of its overseas interests and maritime life lines is a major theme McDevitt dubs this China's sea lane anxiety and traces how this has required the PLA Navy to evolve from a near seas focused navy to one that has global reach a blue water navy He details how quickly this transformation has taken place thanks to a patient step by step approach and abundant funding The more than 10 years of anti piracy patrols in the far reaches of the Indian Ocean has acted as a learning curve accelerator to blue water status McDevitt then explores the PLA Navy's role in the South China Sea and the Indian Ocean He provides a detailed assessment of what the PLAN will be expected to do if Beijing chooses to attack Taiwan potentially triggering combat with America's first responders in East Asia especially the U S Seventh Fleet and U S Fifth Air Force He conducts a close exploration of how the PLA Navy fits into China's campaign plan aimed at keeping reinforcing U S forces at arm's length what the Pentagon calls anti access and area denial A2 AD if war has broken out over Taiwan or because of attacks on U S allies and friends that live in the shadow of China McDevitt does not know how Xi defines world class but the evidence from the past 15 years of building a blue water force has already made the PLA Navy the second largest globally capable navy in the world This book concludes with a forecast of what Xi's vision of a world class navy might look like in the next fifteen years when the 2035 deadline is reached Routledge Handbook of Environment and Society in Asia Paul G. Harris, Graeme Lang, 2014-09-19 Nowhere is the connection between society and the environment more evident and potentially more harmful for the future of the world than in Asia In recent decades rapid development of Asian countries with very large populations has led to an unprecedented increase in environmental problems such as air and water pollution solid and hazardous wastes deforestation depletion of natural resources and extinction of native species This handbook provides a comprehensive survey of the cultural social and policy contexts of environmental change across East Asia The team of international experts critically examine a wide range of environmental problems related to energy climate change air land water fisheries forests and wildlife The editors conclude that with nearly half of the human population of the planet and several rapidly growing economies most notably China Asian societies will determine much of the future of human impacts on the regional and global environments As climate change related threats to society increase the book strongly argues for increased environmental consciousness and action in Asian societies This handbook is a very valuable companion for students scholars policy makers and researchers working on environmental issues in Asia
