challenges myths and reconceptualizes male sex work as a discrete field. Importantly, it provides a vehicle for the voices of male sex workers and new and established scholars. This richly detailed, humane, and innovative collection retrieves male sex work from silence and invisibility on the one hand and its association with scandal and stigma on the other. The findings within have profound implications for how governments approach public health and regulation of the sex industry and for how society can make sense of the complexities of human sexualities. A compelling scholarly read and a major contribution to a commercial sector that is often neglected in policy debates on sex work, this handbook will be of great interest to scholars of criminology, sociology, gender studies, and cultural studies, and all those interested in male sex work. Focus On: 100

Frank, 2016-09-12 Every one of us has watched television shows, movies, and listened to our favorite songs, but how many of us have wondered how they've affected and influenced us? Do we still have a fondness for the mediums we enjoyed as a child, or do we outgrow the past? As an adult, is it easier or harder to accept the past or embrace the future? America on Film

Harry M. Benshoff, Sean Griffin, 2021-04-06 A comprehensive and insightful examination of the representation of diverse viewpoints and perspectives in American cinema throughout the 20th and 21st centuries. America on Film: Representing Race, Class, Gender, and Sexuality at the Movies, now in its third edition, is an authoritative and lively examination of diversity issues within American cinema. Celebrated authors and academics Harry M. Benshoff and Sean Griffin provide readers with a comprehensive discussion and overview of the industrial, socio-cultural, and aesthetic factors that contribute to cinematic representations of race, class, gender, sexuality, and ability. The book incorporates several different theoretical perspectives, including film genre, auteurism, cultural studies, Orientalism, the male gaze, feminism, and queer theory. The authors examine each selected subject via representative films, figures, and movements. Each chapter also includes an in-depth analysis of a single film to illuminate and inform its discussion of the chosen topic. America on Film fearlessly approaches and tackles several controversial areas of representation in film, including the portrayal of both masculinity and femininity in film and African and Asian Americans in film. It devotes the entirety of Part V to an analysis of the depiction of sex and sexuality in American film, with a particular emphasis on the portrayal of homosexuality. Topics covered include the structure and history of American filmmaking, including a discussion of the evolution of the business of Hollywood cinema; African Americans and American film, with a discussion of Black Klansman informing its examination of broader issues; Asian, Latin, and Native Americans on film; Classical Hollywood cinema and class, with an in-depth examination of The Florida Project; Women in classical Hollywood filmmaking, including a discussion of the 1955 film All That Heaven Allows.
