seven year period which is three years less than the United States Congress proposed Green New Deal and decades less than the ratified United Nations Paris Climate Accord This book details how to fund this global solution how to pay back the massive amount of funding required and as an incentive for countries to bestow a unanimous endorsement of this plan how it will ultimately payoff the external national debts of all countries ratifying this global initiative It is a capitalistic resolution without economic hardship and is not socialistic reform Governments have failed miserably in their attempts to resolve the earth s terrestrial threats As the point of no return rapidly approaches the people must take the lead and the leaders must follow Those that believe a vast global solution is too expensive I ask this question What value do you place on saving our planet
