Key Methods in Geography Nicholas Clifford, Meghan Cope, Thomas Gillespie, 2023-04-13 Key Methods in Geography is the perfect introductory companion providing an overview of qualitative and quantitative methods for human and physical geography. The fourth edition of this essential and accessible primer covers the breadth of the discipline and offers critical and contextual perspectives on research methods. New coverage takes account of newer technologies and practice and 9 new chapters bring greater diversity of positionality and perspective to the volume including decolonial methods predicting visualizing and modelling climate and environmental change and writing up research. Case study examples summaries and exercises have been included in each chapter to enable learning. This is vital reading for any student undertaking a Geography Methods module as well as a valuable resource for any student embarking on independent research as part of their degree.

The Great Skills Gap Jason Wingard, Christine Farrugia, 2021-06-08 An extraordinary confluence of forces stemming from automation and digital technologies is transforming both the world of work and the ways we educate current and future employees to contribute productively to the workplace. The Great Skills Gap opens with the premise that the exploding scope and pace of technological innovation in the digital age is fast transforming the fundamental nature of work. Due to these developments the skills and preparation that employers need from their talent pool are shifting. The accelerated pace of evolution and disruption in the competitive business landscape demands that workers be not only technically proficient but also exceptionally agile in their capacity to think and act creatively and quickly learn new skills. This book explores how these transformative forces are or should be driving innovations in how colleges and universities prepare students for their careers. Focused on the impact of this confluence of forces at the nexus of work and higher education the book's contributors an illustrious group of leading educators prominent employers and other thought leaders answer profound questions about how business and higher education can best collaborate in support of the twenty first century workforce.

Gute Ökonomie für harte Zeiten Esther Duflo, Abhijit V. Banerjee, 2020-01-28 Wirtschaftsnobelpreis 2019 und Deutscher Wirtschaftsbuchpreis 2020 Zwei preisgekrönte Ökonomen beruhsen Versagen und Verantwortung der Wirtschaftswissenschaftler. Ungleichheit, Armut, Migration, freier Handel, Wirtschaftswachstum und Umweltfragen sind die Probleme, die weltweit tglich die Schlagzeilen beherrschen. Hierzu wren Wissen und Rat von Wirtschaftswissenschaftlern dringend gefragt. Die f r ihre bahnbrechenden Arbeiten zur Armutsforschung bekannten Ökonomen Esther Duflo und Abhijit Banerjee halten in diesem Buch ihren Kollegen provokant den Spiegel vor. Katastrophale Krisen wie die Lehman Pleite haben sie verschlafen, oft verstellen ideologische Vorbehalte den Blick und bei Streitthemen wie dem Euro haben sie sich gescheut, unbequeme Wahrheiten auszusprechen. Duflo und Banerjee zeigen anschaulich, was gute Ökonomie stattdessen zur L sung der dringenden Weltprobleme beitragen kann.

International Trade and Sustainable Development Bob Milward, 2019-11-19 The contemporary orthodox view of world trade has centred generally unchallenged on the ideas of free trade based on the theoretical construct of comparative advantage This book will engage in a critique of the orthodox position based on the underlying theoretical economic construct the historical development of the now developed economies and the morally unsustainable position of the free trade regime The author examines alternatives such as Most Favoured Nation and Preferential Trading Agreements before making the argument in favour of Asymmetric Trading where the underdeveloped economies can develop behind tariff barriers and quotas whilst the triadic nations maintain a lack of barriers to the exports of these economies He outlines how such a trading regime would be mutually beneficial in the long term in the sense that development through industrialisation takes place and the increase in GDP per capita would allow markets for exports to be sustainable thus widening the market for the goods and services of the developed economies However the author demonstrates that free trade actually increases the development gap by maintaining the status quo in terms of the underdeveloped economies specialising in and exporting low value added primary products and importing high value added manufactures The book analyses contemporary and historical data to illustrate how an alternative trading regime can be truly advantageous to both the developed and underdeveloped regions of the world a global trading regime that is capable of increasing GDP in a sustainable manner without transferring a surplus from the poor to the rich nations and without a long term commitment on the part of the developed nations to altruism

A Broad and Balanced Curriculum in Primary Schools
Susan Ogier, 2022-01-26 Primary schools and teachers in England are tasked with providing a Broad and Balanced curriculum As pressures of standardised testing and the focus on English and maths impact on teaching time how can teachers ensure that they remain focused on this as an objective How do we ensure that the curriculum truly is Broad and Balanced How do ensure that we are educating the whole child This book provides both discussion of the current challenges and practical guidance and support on how to tackle them It informs and inspires new teachers to teach across the curriculum and to empower the next generation of children to explore what is possible for them within their own future lives This second edition includes new chapters on curriculum design alternative environments and learning spaces

Displacing the "Ordinary" City Evelyn D. Ravuri, 2025-11-13 For decades gentrification research has predominantly focused on large cities Arguing that gentrification has occurred throughout the urban hierarchy Ravuri fills this gap in the literature by analyzing gentrification and displacement patterns in twelve medium sized cities spread across the four census regions of the US

Non-State Actors in Education in the Global South
Prachi Srivastava, Geoffrey Walford, 2019-10-23 Fuelled by social equity concerns there have been vigorous debates on the appropriateness of certain non state actors particularly those with commercial and entrepreneurial motives to meet universal education goals There are further questions on the relative effectiveness of government and private schooling in delivering good learning outcomes for all Within this debate several empirical questions abound Do students from poorer backgrounds achieve as well in private schools as their advantaged peers What are the relative out of pocket costs of accessing private schooling compared to government schooling Is fee paying non state provision affordable to the poorest households What is the nature of the education market at different levels What are the relationships between different non state actors and the state and how should they conduct themselves The chapters in this volume present new empirical evidence and conduct critical analysis on some of these questions This book was originally published as a special issue of the Oxford Review of Education

China seit 1978 Nicola Spakowski,2021-12-15 Since China adopted its reform and opening up policy in 1978 the country has undergone impressive progress It has advanced from being a developing country to become the second largest economy in the world and has considerably raised the average standard of living of its population Nicola Spakowski shows how Mao Zedong s successors have succeeded in leading the country out of isolation initiating reforms and constantly adapting the political and economic system to new challenges She describes the special characteristics of Chinese politics economy and society and explains the problems and conflicts that accompany the fundamental transformation that the country has gone through

When Helping Works Michael Bamwesigye Badriaki,2017-05-03 Today people from various parts of the world who are interested in helping fellow human beings impacted by famine epidemics wars and poverty are uniquely positioned They are interconnected due to globalization s impact which also has implications for intercultural work and global missions The ability to help people is a constructive asset which calls for the need to build friendships and partnerships across the globe

Helping well depends on a number of factors yet this book looks into the impact of stereotype threat and its effects on intercultural identities the perceptions of others and performance in intercultural missions Human interactions continue to suffer due to fears anxious reactions about confirming negative stereotypes about a person's identity abilities and effectiveness in global missions Stereotype threat happens when caricatures and negative understandings about people's identities are invoked

Public Space and Relational Perspectives Chiara Tornaghi, Sabine Knierbein, 2014-12-05 Traditional approaches to understand space tend to view public space mainly as a shell or container focussing on its morphological structures and functional uses That way its ever changing meanings contested or challenged uses have been largely ignored as well as the contextual and on going dynamics between social actors their cultures and struggles The key role of space in enabling spatial opportunities for social action the fluidity of its social meaning and the changing degree of publicness of a space remain unexplored fields of academic inquiry and professional practice Public Space and Relational Perspectives offers a different understanding of public spaces in the city The aim of the book is to re introduce the lived experiences in public life into the teaching curricula of those academic disciplines which deal with public space and the built environment such as architecture planning and urban design as well as the social sciences The book presents conceptual practical and research challenges and brings together findings from activists practitioners and theorists The editors provide eight educational challenges that educators can endorse when training future practitioners and researchers to accept and to engage with the social relations that unfold in and through public space Cover image KARO

Changing the Goalpost of New Testament Textual Criticism Abidan Paul Shah, 2020-10-02 Before the 1960s the goal of New Testament Textual Criticism was singular to retrieve the original text of the New Testament Since then the goalpost has incrementally shifted away from the original text to retrieving any text or many texts of the NT Some scholars have even concluded that the original text is hopelessly lost and cannot be retrieved with any confidence or accuracy Other scholars have gone a step further to claim that the idea of an original text itself is a misconception that needs to be abandoned If this new approach in NTTC is correct then the authority of Scripture is weakened or no longer valid It will be shown in this book that such is not the case Furthermore emphasis will be placed on the need to return to the traditional goalpost of NTTC i e to retrieve the original text Without a generally definitive text the door will be left wide open to recreate any desired text of the NT An unsettled original text will result in an unsettled biblical theology due to a lack of any authoritative and standard text Consequently it will lead to an unsettled Christian faith and practice

Rethinking school inspection: Is there a better way? Tracey O'Brien, 2023-07-21 This timely book examines what a meaningful school accountability system could look like in England The book starts with a deep dive into our current inspection model discussing some of the current pressures within the system and comparing our inspection approach to that of other countries and sectors It moves on to show how Ofsted and school inspections are perceived and portrayed using first hand accounts academic papers government publications and media reports and pulls together some of the current thinking on how the model could be improved The author ends with her own proposals for a more meaningful and humane school accountability system She suggests we rethink what we do and how we do it with a call for wide ranging consultation leading to evidence informed reform of the school inspection process Learning from Victims' Family

Narratives Morag C. Kennedy, 2025-07-08 Offering a new perspective on intimate partner abuse and homicide this book recognises the families of victims as legitimate agents of knowledge in terms of the harm experienced by their family members and considers how this harm is extended to the families themselves Examining harm from both an offline and online point of view the book explains the multipurpose roles of offline and online harm and how these roles do not occur in isolation in terms of the victims and families abusive experiences In doing so it demonstrates the range of harm experienced in the context of intimate partner abuse and homicide and outlines the overlapping nature of offline and online harm without prioritising one form of harm over the other instead considering the harm experienced as a continuum Providing theoretical and empirical contributions that are largely absent from existing victimology and harm literature Learning from Victims Family Narratives The Impact of Offline and Online Harm in Cases of Intimate Partner Homicide will be of interest to scholars researchers students and practitioners exploring the modern conceptualisation of harm and its impact on individuals beyond the victim and perpetrator The Great Power Competition Volume 4 Adib Farhadi, Anthony Masys, 2023-05-02

The Plunder of Black America Calvin Schermerhorn, 2025-02-11 The long history of the racial wealth gap in America told through the stories of seven Black families who struggled to build wealth over multiple generations Wealth is central to the American pursuit of happiness and is an overriding measure of well being Yet wealth is conspicuously absent from African American households Why do some 3.5 million Black American families have zero or negative wealth Historian Calvin Schermerhorn traces four hundred years of Black dispossession and decapitalization what Frederick Douglass called plunder through the stories of families who have strived to earn and keep the fruits of their toils Their struggles reveal that the ever evolving strategies to strip Black income and wealth have been critical to sustaining a structure of racialized disadvantage These accounts also tell of the quiet heroism of those who worked to overcome obstacles and defy the plunder From the story of Anthony and Mary Johnson abducted from Angola and brought to Virginia in 1619 to the enslaved Black workers dispossessed by the Custis Washington family to Venture Smith born Brothier Furrow who purchased his freedom to three generations of a family enslaved in the South who moved north after Emancipation to the Tulsa massacre and the subprime lending crisis Schermerhorn shows that we cannot reckon with today's racial wealth inequality without understanding its unrelenting role in American history

Globalization Development and Social Justice Ann El Khoury, 2015-03-27 Are there existing alternatives to corporate globalization What are the prospects for and commonalities between communities and movements such as Occupy the World Social Forum and alternative economies Globalization Development and Social Justice advances the proposition that another globalization is not only possible but already exists It demonstrates that there are multiple pathways towards development with social justice and argues that enabling propositional agency rather than oppositional agency such as resistance is a more effective alternative to neoliberal globalization El Khoury develops a theory of infraglobalization that emphasizes creative constitution not just contestation of global and local processes The book features case studies and examples of diverse economic practice and innovative emergent political forms from the Global South and North These case studies are located in the informal social economy and community development as well as everyday practices from prefigurative politics to community cooperatives and participatory planning This book makes an important contribution to debates about the prospects for and practices of a transformative grassroots globalization and to critical debates about globalization and development strategies It will be of interest to students and scholars of international relations globalization
