Die mittelniederländische Urkundensprache in Privaturkunden des 13. Und 14. Jahrhunderts Ute K. Boonen, 2009 Während des Mittelalters wird das Lateinische als traditionelle Urkundensprache allmählich von den Volkssprachen verdrängt Dieser Prozess der u.a mit der Entstehung des Bürgerertums und dem Erstarken der Städte zusammenhängt beginnt im Südwesten Europas und setzt sich mit zeitlicher Verzögerung in nördlicher und östlicher Richtung fort In den Niederlanden erfolgt die Ablösung des Lateins durch das Mittelniederländische während des 13 und 14 Jahrhunderts Der Prozess der Verschriftlichung des Mittelniederländischen und das Verhältnis von Latein und Volkssprache stehen seit einigen Jahren verstärkt im Interesse der Forschung Diese Studie untersucht wie Skribenten bei der Umsetzung der lateinischen Formeln ins Niederländische vorgehen Wird das Lateinische wörtlich übersetzt Entwickelt sich eine eigene mittelniederländische Fachsprache Die Untersuchung von rund 2000 Urkunden zeigt dass die Skribenten bestimmte Formeln als Vorlage auswählten und sich bei der Übertragung ins Mittelniederländische langsam von den Vorlagen emanzipieren Trotz des stereotypen Sprachgebrauchs in den Urkunden lassen sich lexikalische und syntaktische Unterschiede feststellen die durch die regional unterschiedliche Ausprägung der mittelniederländischen Schreibsprache bedingt sind During the middle ages Latin gets ousted as the traditional language of record by the vernacular languages in Europe This process which comes together with the rise of the commonalty and the growing influence of the cities begins in the Southwest of Europe and proceeds northwards and eastwards In the Low Countries Latin gets replaced by Middle Dutch during the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries In recent years researchers have focused on the introduction of Middle Dutch as a documentary language and the relationship between Latin and the vernacular This study analyses how scribes transfer Latin formulas into Dutch ones Are the Latin formulas translated word by word Is a vernacular documentary language developing The examination of about 2000 mediaeval charters shows that the scribes select some formulas as a model for their translation and finally emancipate from the Latin model Although stereotypical language use is common for charters there are lexical and syntactical differences that are caused by the peculiarities of the different regional written languages

Die starken Verben im Deutschen und Niederländischen Ute Hempen, 2010-09-15 Die Buchreihe Linguistische

Arbeiten hat mit über 500 Beiträgen zur linguistischen Theoriebildung der letzten Jahrzehnte in Deutschland und international wesentlich beigetragen. Die Reihe wird auch weiterhin neue Impulse für die Forschung setzen und die zentrale Einsicht der Sprachwissenschaft präsentieren, dass Fortschritt in der Erforschung der menschlichen Sprachen nur durch die enge Verbindung von empirischen und theoretischen Analysen sowohl diachron wie synchron möglich ist. Daher laden wir hochwertige linguistische Arbeiten aus allen zentralen Teilgebieten der allgemeinen und einzelsprachlichen Linguistik ein, die aktuelle Fragestellungen bearbeiten, neue Daten diskutieren und die Theorieentwicklung vorantreiben.

Morphologie G. E. Booij, Christian Lehmann, Joachim Mugdan, 2000 This series of HANDBOOKS OF LINGUISTICS AND COMMUNICATION SCIENCE is designed to illuminate a field which not only includes general linguistics and the study of linguistics as applied to specific languages but also covers those more recent areas which have developed from the increasing body of research into the manifold forms of communicative action and interaction. For classic linguistics there appears to be a need for a review of the state of the art which will provide a reference base for the rapid advances in research undertaken from a variety of theoretical standpoints while in the more recent branches of communication science the handbooks will give researchers both an overview and orientation. To attain these objectives the series will aim for a standard comparable to that of the leading handbooks in other disciplines and to this end will strive for comprehensiveness, theoretical explicitness, reliable documentation of data and findings and up to date methodology. The editors both of the series and of the individual volumes and the individual contributors are committed to this aim. The languages of publication are

English German and French The main aim of the series is to provide an appropriate account of the state of the art in the various areas of linguistics and communication science covered by each of the various handbooks however no inflexible pre set limits will be imposed on the scope of each volume The series is open ended and can thus take account of further developments in the field This conception coupled with the necessity of allowing adequate time for each volume to be prepared with the necessary care means that there is no set time table for the publication of the whole series Each volume will be a self contained work complete in itself The order in which the handbooks are published does not imply any rank ordering but is determined by the way in which the series is organized the editor of the whole series enlist a competent editor for each individual volume Once the principal editor for a volume has been found he or she then has a completely free hand in the choice of co editors and contributors The editors plan each volume independently of the others being governed only by general formal principles The series editor only intervene where questions of delineation between individual volumes are concerned It is felt that this modus operandi is best suited to achieving the objectives of the series namely to give a competent account of the present state of knowledge and of the perception of the problems in the area covered by each volume
