Characterization and Metrology presents a comprehensive discussion of the principles of materials characterization and metrology Characterization techniques are introduced through elementary concepts of bonding electronic structure of molecules and solids and the arrangement of atoms in crystals Then the range of electrons photons ions neutrons and scanning probes used in characterization including their generation and related beam solid interactions that determine or limit their use is presented This is followed by ion scattering methods optics optical diffraction microscopy and ellipsometry Generalization of Fraunhofer diffraction to scattering by a three dimensional arrangement of atoms in crystals leads to X ray electron and neutron diffraction methods both from surfaces and the bulk Discussion of transmission and analytical electron
