Dutch for Reading Knowledge Christine van Baalen, Frans R.E. Blom, Inez Hollander, 2012-08-08. This first Dutch for Reading Knowledge book on the market promotes a high level of reading and translation competency by drawing from Dutch grammar vocabulary and reading strategies and providing many translation shortcuts and tips when tackling complex texts in Dutch. Aimed at students, researchers and scholars who need to learn how to read and translate modern Dutch texts for their academic research, this book focuses on those areas where the Netherlands plays or has played a leading and innovative role in the world. These areas include architecture, art, history, design, the Dutch Golden Age, post-colonialism, immigration, social legislation and water management. For all areas, the authors combine profound knowledge of the field with great expertise in teaching Dutch language and culture. This book can be used for a Dutch for Reading Knowledge course or curriculum and is also highly suitable for self study.

OECD Rural Policy Reviews: Netherlands 2008 OECD, 2008-06-03. This comprehensive review of rural policy in the Netherlands examines the character of rural areas in the Netherlands and how they have evolved. It also sets out a series of recommendations.

The Archives of the Dutch East India Company (VOC) and the Local Institutions in Batavia (Jakarta) Louisa Balk, Frans Van Dijk, Diederick Kortlang, Femme Gaastra, Hendrik Niemeijer, Pieter Koenders, 2007-10-31. The VOC (Verenigde Oostindische Compagnie) the Dutch East India Company was the largest of the early modern European trading companies operating in Asia. Its operations produced not only warehouses packed with spices, coffee, tea, textiles, porcelain and silk, but also shiploads of documents. Data on political, economic, cultural, religious and social conditions spread over an enormous area circulated between the VOC establishments, the administrative centre of the trade in Batavia (now the city of Jakarta) and the Board of Directors in the Netherlands. The co-operation between the National Archives of Indonesia and the Netherlands resulted in this extensive catalogue of fifteen archives of VOC institutions in Jakarta. The VOC records are included in UNESCO's Memory of the World Register.

A Bookseller's Hobby-horse and the Rhetoric of Translation Agnes Maria Zwaneveld, 1996. A Bookseller's Hobby Horse and the Rhetoric of Translation is a study of the first Dutch translation of Tristram Shandy (1759/67) as a product of and factor in the reception of Sterne's novel in the Netherlands and as a specific manifestation of this reception: a derived text based on interpretation of the original. It took sixteen years for this translation to appear. Why was this so? And why did its publication (1776/79) prove unrewarding to the publisher? To answer the first question, Agnes Zwaneveld relates the development of Sterne appreciation in the Netherlands from neglect in the 1760s to a literary craze in the 1780s to a number of socio-cultural factors, including a growing interest in German literature. This relation with German literature is reflected in the choice of books published by A.E. Munnikhuysen, a Sterne enthusiast and conscientious publisher, but also an outsider in the book trade whose audacity led to the commercial failure of his enterprise A different question tackled in this study is to what extent the translation reflects the original text Can it be accepted as a faithful rendering or rather as an adaptation an imitation in the classical tradition To understand what norms the translator Bernardus Brunius followed and what effects he can have been aiming at his work is described in terms of the rhetorical theory of translation adhered to in his day To avoid subjectivity in assessing the resemblance between translation and original the comparison focuses on composition and the use of rhetorical figures as formal aspects which can be easily recognised across the centuries The textual comparison was limited to the opening chapter of Tristram Shandy seen as the novel's exordium in which both author and translator are likely to have made a show of their intentions Close reading of this chapter resulted in an interpretation of Tristram's authorial performance as inspired by both Quintilian and Longinus

Dare to Compare ! / druk 1 / ING M.M. Harbers, 2008 This study conducted by RIVM compares the health of people in the Netherlands with that of other EU countries using the ECHI shortlist The shortlist is a set of more than eighty European health indicators on e.g. disease lifestyle and prevention The report also focuses on the health of young and old people and includes an analysis of the availability comparability and quality of the data necessary for international comparisons

The Delimitation of the Continental Shelf between Denmark, Germany and the Netherlands Alex G. Oude Elferink, 2014-01-09 Alex G. Oude Elferink's detailed analysis of the negotiations between Denmark Germany and The Netherlands concerning the delimitation of their continental shelf in the North Sea makes use of the full range of government archives in these three States He looks at the role of international law in policy formulation and negotiations and explores the legal context political considerations and in particular oil interests which fed into these processes He also explains why the parties decided to submit their disputes to the International Court of Justice and looks at the preparation of their pleadings and litigation strategy before the Court The analysis shows how Denmark and The Netherlands were able to avoid the full impact of the implications of the Court's judgment by sidestepping legal arguments and insisting instead on political considerations

Flora J. Mennema, A.J. Quene-Boterenbrood, C.L. Plate, 2013-12-11 There is an element of fascination which many people feel about geographical maps because these maps allow fantasies about strange landscapes other peoples travels even adventures Distribution maps depicting the area which a plant or animal species occupies would appear to be less romantic but they are equally able to exercise our imagination or rather to stimulate our scientific curiosity Some distribution patterns are repeated time and time again although rarely fully identical and with their study comes the inescapable question what is it that determines a plant s area of distribution Almost immediately we find ourselves in the area of ecology for it is the plant s demands of its environment climate soil which determines where it will be able to grow and where not However that is not all there is to it for species as well as landscapes have their history and one needs to be informed about the climate and about the distribution of land and sea in the past for instance before one can understand present distributions This aspect of change in space and time historical plant geography is possibly the most fascinating part of plant geography However this atlas covering a minuscule part of the world is not meant to be primarily a book of historical plant geography It is true that a dynamic aspect is very prominent but this is on the smaller time scale of man made changes which mostly led to impoverishments
