Network Analysis In Archaeology New Approaches To Regional Interaction:

Network Analysis in Archaeology Carl Knappett, 2013-04-25 While the study of networks has grown exponentially in the past decade and is now having an impact on how archaeologists study ancient societies its emergence in the field has been dislocated This volume provides a coherent framework on network analysis in current archaeological practice by pulling together its main themes and approaches to show how it is changing the way archaeologists face the key questions of regional interaction Working with the term network as a collection of nodes and links as used in network science and social network analysis it juxtaposes a range of case studies and investigates the positives and negatives of network analysis With contributions by leading experts in the field the volume covers a broad range from Japan to America from the Palaeolithic to the Precolumbian

Network Science in Archaeology Tom Brughmans, Matthew A. Peeples, 2023-04-13 The Cambridge Manual to Archaeological Network Science provides the first comprehensive guide to a field of research that has firmly established itself within archaeological practice in recent years Network science methods are commonly used to explore big archaeological datasets and are essential for the formal study of past relational phenomena social networks transport systems communication and exchange The volume offers a step by step description of network science methods and explores its theoretical foundations and applications in archaeological research which are elaborately illustrated with archaeological examples It also covers a vast range of network science techniques that can enhance archaeological research including network data collection and management exploratory network analysis sampling issues and sensitivity analysis spatial networks and network visualisation An essential reference handbook for both beginning and experienced archaeological network researchers the volume includes boxes with definitions boxed examples exercises and online supplementary learning and teaching materials

The Oxford Handbook of Archaeological Network Research Tom Brughmans, Barbara J. Mills, Jessica Munson, Matthew A. Peeples, 2024 This Handbook is the first authoritative reference work for archaeological network research featuring current topical trends and covering the archaeological application of network methods and theories

New Approaches to Ancient Material Culture in the Greek & Roman World Catherine Cooper, 2020-11-16 New Approaches to Ancient Material Culture in the Greek Roman World is about Classical Archaeology at its broadest and is important reading to all Classicists As part of a recent movement to highlight the rich diversity of the subject it overcomes traditional disciplinary boundaries to show the variety of current approaches to the study of Classical Antiquity from the Late Bronze Age to the Late Antique period The multi disciplinary papers deal with archaeology and art history museum objects and fieldwork data ancient texts and material culture archaeological theory and historiography and technical and literary analysis The international contributors discuss a selection of methodologies currently used to study ancient material and illustrate their relevance through case studies which span the Greek and Roman world has been the adoption of new perspectives which see human societies in the past as in the present as made up of networks of interlinked individuals This view of people as always connected through physical and conceptual networks along which resources information and disease flow requires archaeologists and historians to use new methods to understand how these networks form function and change over time The Connected Past provides a constructive methodological and theoretical critique of the growth in research applying network perspectives in archaeology and history and considers the unique challenges presented by datasets in these disciplines including the fragmentary and material nature of such data and the functioning and change of social processes over long timespans An international and multidisciplinary range of scholars debate both the rationale and practicalities of applying network methodologies addressing the merits and drawbacks of specific techniques of analysis for a range of datasets and research questions and demonstrating their approaches with concrete case studies and detailed illustrations As well as revealing the valuable contributions archaeologists and historians can make to network science the volume represents a crucial step towards the development of best practice in the field especially in exploring the interactions between social and material elements of networks and long term network evolution

The Connected Past Tom Brughmans, Anna Collar, Fiona Coward, 2016-03-04 One of the most exciting recent developments in archaeology and history

Minoan Architecture and Urbanism Quentin Letesson, Carl Knappett, 2017-06-30 Minoan Crete is rightly famous for its idiosyncratic architecture as well as its palaces and towns such as Knossos Malia Gournia and Palaikastro Indeed these are often described as the first urban settlements of Bronze Age Europe However we still know relatively little about the dynamics of these early urban centres How did they work What role did the palaces have in their towns and the towns in their landscapes It might seem that with such richly documented architectural remains these questions would have been answered long ago Yet analysis has mostly found itself confined to building materials and techniques basic formal descriptions and functional evaluations Critical evaluation of these data as constituting a dynamic built environment has thus been slow in coming This volume aims to provide a first step in this direction It brings together international scholars whose research focuses on Minoan architecture and urbanism as well as on theory and methods in spatial analyses By combining methodological contributions with detailed case studies across the different scales of buildings settlements and regions the volume proposes a new analytical and interpretive framework for addressing the complex dynamics of the Minoan built environment

Communication Uneven Jan Driessen, Alessandro Vanzetti, 2021-01-07 The aim of this volume is to measure acceptance of and resistance to outside influences within Mediterranean coastal settlements and their immediate hinterlands with a particular focus on the processes not reflecting simple commercial routes but taking place at an intercultural level in situations of developed connectedness

The Oxford Handbook of Cognitive Archaeology, 2024-03-12 Cognitive Archaeology is a relatively young though fast growing discipline The intellectual heart of cognitive archaeology is archaeology the discipline that investigates the only direct evidence of the actions and decisions of prehistoric people Its theories and methods are an eclectic mix of psychological neuroscientific paleoneurological philosophical anthropological ethnographic comparative aesthetic and experimental theories methods and models united only by their focus on cognition The Oxford Handbook of Cognitive Archaeology is a landmark publication showcasing the theories methods and accomplishments of archaeologists who investigate the human mind including its evolutionary development its ideation thoughts and beliefs and its very nature through material forms The volume encompasses the wide spectrum of the discipline showcasing contributions from more than 50 established and emerging scholars from Europe Africa Asia Australia and the Americas Prominent among these are contributions that discuss the epistemological frameworks of both the evolutionary and ideational approaches and the leading theories that ground interpretations Significantly the majority of chapters deliver substantive contributions that analyze specific examples of material culture from the oldest known stone tools to ceramic and rock art traditions of the recent millennium These examples include the gamut of methods and techniques including typology replication studies changes opératoires neuroarchaeology ethnographic comparison and the direct historical approach In addition the book begins with retrospective essays by several of the pioneers of cognitive archaeology presenting a broad range of state of the art investigations into cognitive abilities tackling thorny issues like the cognitive status of Neandertals and concluding with speculative essays about the future of an archaeology of mind and of the mind itself

The Connected Iron Age Jonathan M. Hall, James F. Osborne, 2022-12-09 An interdisciplinary consideration of how eastern Mediterranean cultures in the first millennium BCE were meaningfully connected The early first millennium BCE marks one of the most culturally diverse periods in the history of the eastern Mediterranean Surveying the region from Greece to Iraq one finds a host of cultures and political formations all distinct yet all visibly connected in meaningful ways These include the early polities of Geometric period Greece the Phrygian kingdom of central Anatolia the Syro Anatolian city states the seafaring Phoenicians and the biblical Israelites of the southern Levant Egypt's Twenty first through Twenty fifth Dynasties the Urartian kingdom of the eastern Anatolian highlands and the expansionary Neo Assyrian Empire of northern Mesopotamia This volume adopts an interdisciplinary approach to understanding the social and political significance of how interregional networks operated within and between Mediterranean cultures during that era

Sinews of Empire Eivind Seland, Hakon Teigon, 2017-06-30 A recent surge of interest in network approaches to the study of the ancient world has enabled scholars of the Roman Empire to move beyond traditional narratives of domination resistance integration and fragmentation This relational turn has not only offers tools to identify map visualize and in some cases even quantify interaction based on a variety of ancient source material but also provides a terminology to deal with the everyday ties of power trade and ideology that operated within below and beyond the superstructure of imperial rule Thirteen contributions employ a range of quantitative qualitative and descriptive network approaches in order to provide new perspectives on trade communication administration technology religion and municipal life in the Roman Near East and adjacent regions

Across the Corrupting Sea Cavan Concannon, Lindsey A. Mazurek, 2016-03-17 Across the Corrupting Sea Post Braudelian Approaches to the Ancient

Eastern Mediterranean reframes current discussions of the Mediterranean world by rereading the past with new methodological approaches The work asks readers to consider how future studies might write histories of the Mediterranean moving from the larger pan Mediterranean approaches of The Corrupting Sea towards locally oriented case studies Spanning from the Archaic period to the early Middle Ages contributors engage the pioneering studies of the Mediterranean by Fernand Braudel through the use of critical theory GIS network analysis and postcolonial cultural inquiries Scholars from several time periods and disciplines rethink the Mediterranean as a geographic and cultural space shaped by human connectivity and follow the flow of ideas ships trade goods and pilgrims along the roads and seascapes that connected the Mediterranean across time and space The volume thus interrogates key concepts like cabotage seascapes deep time social networks and connectivity in the light of contemporary archaeological and theoretical advances in order to create new ways of writing more diverse histories of the ancient world that bring together local contexts literary materials and archaeological analysis

Central Places and Un-Central Landscapes Giorgos Papantoniou, Athanasios Vionis, 2019-04-01 This volume examines the applicability of central place theory in contemporary archaeological practice and thought in light of ongoing developments in landscape archaeology by bringing together central places and un central landscapes and by grasping diachronically the complex relation between town and country as shaped by political economies and the availability of natural resources Moving away from model bounded approaches central place theory is used more flexibly to include all the places that may have functioned as loci of economic or ideological centrality even in a local context in the past Fourteen chapters examine centrality and un central landscapes from Prehistory to the late Middle Ages in different geographical contexts from Cyprus and the Levant through Greece and the Balkans to Italy France and Germany

Socio-economic Relations in Ptolemaic Pathyris Lena Tambs, 2022-07-18 This study tackles pertinent questions about daily life and socio economic interactions in the late Ptolemaic town of Pathyris 186 88 BCE through an empirically grounded network analysis of 428 Greek and Demotic documents associated with 21 archives from the site The author moves beyond traditional boundaries of Egyptological and Papyrological research by means of an innovative and interdisciplinary methodology zigzagging back and forth between archaeological field survey close reading of ancient texts formal methods of Social Network Analysis SNA and explanatory theories and concepts borrowed from economics and other social sciences This is volume 1 of a two volume set

Theory in the Pacific, the Pacific in Theory Tim Thomas,2020-07-27 Theory in the Pacific the Pacific in Theory explores the role of theory in Pacific archaeology and its interplay with archaeological theory worldwide The contributors assess how the practice of archaeology in Pacific contexts has led to particular types of theoretical enquiry and interest and more broadly how the Pacific is conceptualised in the archaeological imagination Long seen as a laboratory environment for the testing and refinement of social theory the Pacific islands occupy a central place in global theoretical discourse This volume highlights this role through an exploration of how Pacific models and exemplars have shaped and continue to shape approaches to the archaeological past The authors evaluate key theoretical perspectives and explore current and future directions in Pacific archaeology In doing so attention is paid to the influence of Pacific people and environments in motivating and shaping theory building Theory in the Pacific the Pacific in Theory makes a significant contribution to our understanding of how theory develops attuned to the affordances and needs of specific contexts and how those contexts promote reformulation and development of theory elsewhere It will be fascinating to scholars and archaeologists interested in the Pacific region as well as students of wider archaeological theory

German Rabbis in British Exile Astrid Zajdband,2016-06-20 The rich history of the German rabbinate came to an abrupt halt with the November Pogrom of 1938 The need to leave Germany became clear and many rabbis made use of the visas they had been offered Their resettlement in Britain was hampered by additional obstacles such as internment deportation enlistment in the Pioneer Corps But rabbis still attempted to support their fellow refugees with spiritual and pastoral care The refugee rabbis replanted the seed of the once proud German Judaism into British soil New synagogues were founded and institutions of Jewish learning sprung up like rabbinic training and the continuation of Wissenschaft des Judentums The arrival of Leo Baeck professionalized these efforts and resulted in the foundation of the Leo Baeck College in London Refugee rabbis now settled and obtained pulpits in the many newly founded synagogues Their arrival in Britain was the catalyst for much change in British Judaism an influence that can still be felt today

Transfer of Buddhism Across Central Asian Networks (7th to 13th Centuries) ,2015-10-05 The interdisciplinary volume Transfer of Buddhism across Central Asian Networks 7th to 13th Centuries edited by Carmen Meinert offers a new transregional and transcultural vision for religious transfer processes in Central Asian history It looks at the region as an integrated religious whole rather than from the perspective of fragmented sub disciplines and analyses the spread of Buddhism as a driving force in a societal and cultural change of pan Asian importance One particular dimension of this Buddhist globalisation was the rise of local forms of Buddhism This volume explores Buddhist localisations through manuscripts and material culture in the multiethnic oases of the Tarim basin the Transhimalyan region of Zangskar Ladakh and Kashmir and the Western Tibetan Kingdom of Purang Guge Contributors are Kazuo Kano Deborah Klimburg Salter Rob Linrothe Linda Lojda Carmen Meinert Henrik H S rensen Monica Strinu Gertraud Taenzer Sam van Schaik and Jens Wilkens

Life beyond the Boundaries Karen Harry,Sarah A. Herr,2018-04-02 Life beyond the Boundaries explores identity formation on the edges of the ancient Southwest Focusing on some of the more poorly understood regions including the Jornada Mogollon the Gallina and the Pimer a Alta the authors use methods drawn from material culture science anthropology and history to investigate themes related to the construction of social identity along the perimeters of the American Southwest Through an archaeological lens the volume examines the social experiences of people who lived in edge regions Through mobility and the development of extensive social networks people living in these areas were introduced to the ideas and practices of other cultural groups As their spatial distances from core areas increased the degree to which they participated in the economic social political and ritual practices of ancestral core areas increasingly varied As a result the social identities of people living in edge zones were often though not always fluid and situational Drawing on an increase of available information and bringing new attention to understudied areas the book will be of interest to scholars of Southwestern archaeology and other researchers interested in the archaeology of low populated and decentralized regions and identity formation Life beyond the Boundaries considers the various roles that edge regions played in local and regional trajectories of the prehistoric and protohistoric Southwest and how place influenced the development of social identity Contributors Lewis Borck Dale S Brenneman Jeffery J Clark Severin Fowles Patricia A Gilman Lauren E Jelinek Myles R Miller Barbara J Mills Matthew A Peeples Kellam Throgmorton James T Watson
