Medieval Ecclesiastical Buildings Ireland 1789 1915:

Medieval Ecclesiastical Buildings in Ireland, 1789-1915 Niamh NicGhabhann, 2015 This is the first full length study of the perception and treatment of Gothic church architecture in Ireland in the period between 1789 and 1915 The book considers three main areas the perception of Gothic architecture the development of a tradition of scholarship on Irish Gothic and the actual changes wrought to the fabric of the buildings as well as the social and legal framework for those changes Shifting the focus from high status monuments such as the medieval cathedrals of Dublin the book considers the treatment of smaller medieval buildings These include the ruined monastic buildings and cathedral buildings outside of Dublin but also smaller parish churches that were being restored for reuse as places of worship such as those at Adare County Limerick and at Ballintober County Mayo It examines the increasingly political interpretation of these monuments throughout the 19th century and the role of these buildings as sites of memory within devotional landscapes The evolving professionalization of architectural restoration in this period is also charted and is considered within the developing legal framework for the protection of what was seen as ancient and national heritage Subject History Medieval Studies Irish Studies Architecture Religious Studies

The Oxford History of British and Irish Catholicism, Volume IV Carmen M. Mangion, James Edward Kelly, John David McCafferty, Susan O'Brien, 2023 The fourth volume of Oxford History of British and Irish Catholicism provides an overview of the history of Catholicism in the four nations of the United Kingdom of Britain and Ireland between 1830 and 1913 and demonstrates how Catholics in both islands participated in national European and global cultures

Ireland: The Matter of Monuments Colleen M. Thomas, Paula Murphy, 2024-04-19 This collection considers Irish monuments from the medieval to the modern era The essays presented here acknowledge the plurality of values associated with Irish monuments Taking a holistic approach to the topic the volume contains contributions from art historians archaeologists historians and heritage practitioners The multidisciplinary and intersectoral contributions are placed in dialogue with one another providing a discussion of Irish monuments that is unique in its comprehensiveness The integration of research on early Irish monumental work with that of the more modern period situating all Irish monuments on a continuum of shared concerns is a significant pioneering element in this field The range of perspectives represented in the book reflects the complexity of cultural heritage in contemporary life and opens the conversation to include a wider range of views It will be a valuable resource for scholars students learned societies public bodies communities in Ireland and for anyone interested in sculpture An Open Access version of Kathleen James Chakraborty's chapter New states and old statues Ireland's monuments in an international context is available on the Liverpool University Press website

Figures of Authority in Nineteenth-Century Ireland Raphaël Ingelbien, Susan Galavan, 2020-11-25 This interdisciplinary collection investigates the forms that authority assumed in nineteenth century Ireland the relations they bore to international redefinitions of authority and Irish contributions to the reshaping of authority in the modern age At a time when age old sources of social political spiritual and cultural authority were eroded in the Western world Ireland witnessed both the restoration of older forms of authority and the rise of figures who defined new models of authority in a democratic age Using new comparative perspectives as well as archival resources in a wide range of fields the essays gathered here show how new authorities were embodied in emerging types of politicians clerics and professionals and in material extensions of their power in visual oral and print cultures These analyses often eerily echo twenty first century debates about populism suspicion of scholarly and intellectual expertise and the role of new technologies and forms of association in contesting and recreating authority Several contributions highlight the role of emotion in the way authority was deployed by figures ranging from Daniel O Connell to W B Yeats foreshadowing the perceived rise of emotional politics in our own age This volume demonstrates that many contested forms of authority that now look traditional emerged from nineteenth century crises and developments as did the challenges that undermine authority CONTRIBUTORS Marguerite Corporaal Patrick Geoghegan Patrick Maume Michelle McCann Caroline M McGee James H Murphy Shane Nagle Niamh NicGhabhann Richard Parfitt Colleen M Thomas Tom Walker
