How To Save Money Hamilton Blanza, 2018-10-17 Some people I just don't have money while others have money full to the brim. What is the mind that makes some people have money while others just don't do it? How to convert from a person who can't have money into a person who can boast of saving money is just as much an art form as a thing to do. You're with a person who can save money, but your personality is not the best. You're not sure how to save money, but surely making money is an art form. The brain is like any other body part and it can be trained to become good at a thing. For example, you don't know how to diet, but you don't know how to drive a car in the first place. The kitchen started small and it's a very important mindset in the kitchen about making huge savings all the time, but I'm adopting a mentality that every little bit counts. This principle is the most important thing in the kitchen about saving money. Learning that 100 cents put in a saving account will not do the trick, especially if you are not a money saver. Making a habit of saving small amounts of money will help you build a habit which would transform into a big result over a period of time. You have to train your brain to learn how to save a habit. And like anything else in life, you have to learn from your mistakes and persevere to make saving a habit and part of your financial life. It's a fruitful result. I'm sure with the introduction of this book, you will have an idea of the core message that will be communicated to you.
