 by Josephine Chase A new companion to the Romance languages Martin Glessgen,2024-09-03 The Romance languages offer unique potential for empirical analysis and methodological innovation within the vast field of linguistics due to the survival of a large body of historical documentation the rich diversity of dialects and languages and the exceptional quality of the research undertaken to date. However, these same factors have led to an ever increasing volume of material available for study requiring the establishment of a shared canonical knowledge base. This companion offers a balanced overview of the core subjects and the methodology which make up the field of Romance linguistics. It provides a solid foundation in the discipline as well as easy and convenient access to highly specialised areas of research by means of systematic references to the latest handbooks and encyclopedias. The companion is designed to be read from cover to cover or to be consulted for information on specific topics. Advanced students, early career researchers, lecturers, specialists of other languages, philologists and historians alike will all benefit from this accessible and up to date reference work as it enables readers to contextualise any knowledge of the discipline they may already possess.

Current Issues in Romance Languages Teresa Satterfield, Christina Tortora, Diana Cresti, 2002. This book presents an enlightening collection of papers contributing to theoretical discussions across many topics within the study of Romance Languages and Linguistics. The work originates from the 29th Linguistic Symposium on Romance Languages held in 1999 at the University of Michigan Ann Arbor although only a small subpart of the proceedings papers are included in this volume. The selected papers have been reworked for the current publication.

New Perspectives on Romance Linguistics Chiyo Nishida, Jean-Pierre Y. Montreuil, 2006-08-31. This is the first of two volumes emanating from the Linguistic Symposium on Romance Languages held at the University of Texas at Austin in February 2005. It features the keynote address delivered by Denis Bouchard on exaptation and linguistic explanation as well as seventeen contributions by emerging and internationally recognized scholars of Spanish, French, Italian as well as Rumanian. While the emphasis bears on formal analyses, the coverage is remarkably broad as topics range from morphology, syntax, semantics, pragmatics and language acquisition. Each article seeks to represent a new perspective on these topics and a variety of frameworks and concepts are exploited: distributive morphology, entailment theory, grammaticalization, information structure, left periphery, polarity, lattice, spatial individuation, thematic hierarchy etc. This volume will challenge anyone interested in current issues in theoretical Romance Linguistics.

A half century of Romance linguistics: Selected proceedings of the 50th Linguistic Symposium on Romance Languages Barbara E. Bullock, Cinzia Russi, Almeida Jacqueline Toribio, 2023-02-14. The present volume presents a selection of the revised and peer reviewed proceedings articles of the 50th Linguistic Symposium on Romance Languages LSRL 50 which was hosted virtually by the faculty and students from the University of Texas at Austin. With contributions from rising and senior scholars from Europe and the Americas, the volume demonstrates the breadth of research in contemporary Romance linguistics with articles that apply corpus based and laboratory methods as well as theory to explore the structure, use and development of the Romance languages. The articles cover a wide range of fields including morphosyntax, semantics, language variation and change, sociophonetics, historical linguistics, language acquisition and computational linguistics. In an introductory article, the editors document the sudden transition of LSRL 50 to a virtual format and acknowledge those who helped them to ensure the continuity of this annual scholarly meeting

Simultaneity in Signed Languages Myriam Vermeerbergen, Lorraine Leeson, Onno A. Crasborn, 2007-02-21 Signed language users can draw on a range of articulators when expressing linguistic messages including the hands torso eye gaze and mouth Sometimes these articulators work in tandem to produce one lexical item while in other instances they operate to convey different types of information simultaneously Over the past fifteen years there has been a growing interest in the issue of simultaneity in signed languages However this book is the first to offer a comprehensive treatment of this topic presenting a collection of papers dealing with different aspects of simultaneity in a range of related and unrelated signed languages in descriptive and cross linguistic treatments which are set in different theoretical frameworks This volume has relevance for those interested in sign linguistics in teaching and learning signed languages and is also highly recommended to anyone interested in the fundamental underpinnings of human language and the effects of signed versus spoken modality
