body of remembrance and that it is more pertinent to ask what should be included and what can be overlooked Over five sections this richly illustrated volume considers case studies of Cold War remembering from different parts of the world and engages with growing theorisation in the field of memory studies specifically in relation to war David Lowe and Tony Joel afford careful consideration to agencies that identify with being victims of the Cold War In addition the concept of arenas of articulation which envelops the myriad spaces in which the remembering commemorating memorialising and even revising of Cold War history takes place is given prominence Media Review Digest C.
