New Racism Revisiting Researcher Accountabilities:

New Racism Norma Romm, 2010-07-08 This book develops a debate around responsible social inquiry into new racism A variety of ways of researching new forms of racism for example aversive modern cultural purportedly color blind and new racism are addressed Experiments that have been undertaken to inquire into group identity and people s implicit bias in relation to those perceived as other are critically explored and their potential consequences reconsidered The book also critically explores survey research which it is argued can serve to reinforce the notion of the existence of ethnoracial groups with defined boundaries that inhere in social life The book considers interviewing including focus group interviewing and case study research including participant observation ethnography in terms of possibilities for moving beyond new forms of racism Action research defined by the understanding of an inextricable link between knowing and acting is examined in depth in terms of the hopes to make a difference at the moment of inquiry Types of retroductive logic that are used to examine underlying structures that arguably unduly constrain people s life chances and render human relationships inhumane are also explored The book draws together the different arguments and it proposes ways in which the design of research into new racism can better approached as well as ways in which dialogue around processes of inquiry and the products thereof can be better fostered Suggestions for nurturing humane social relationships that provide for transcultural meaning making are threaded through the text

Antimuslimischer Rassismus und Islamfeindlichkeit Bülent Uçar, Wassilis Kassis, 2019-03-11 Vielen politischen Bewegungen und Agitatoren bietet der R ckgriff auf islam bzw muslimfeindliche Einstellungen einen Ausgangspunkt um Aufmerksamkeit und Zustimmung zu generieren Dies zeigt sich besonders in den gesellschaftlichen Debatten seit 2015 Dabei ist dieses Ph nomen keineswegs neu sondern l sst sich bereits in der Vergangenheit in unterschiedlichen Auspr gungsformen beobachten Aus diesen Gr nden ist eine multiperspektivische und interdisziplin re Ann herung hieran zwingend geboten Verschiedene theoretische historische und empirische Perspektiven und Analysen zu Islamfeindlichkeit und antimuslimischem Rassismus werden in diesem Band vorgestellt und ausgef hrt The recourse of anti Islamic respectively anti Muslim attitudes serves to be a starting point for many political movements and demagogues to generate attention as well as affirmation as the sociological developments especially since the year of 2015 evidently demonstrate Notwithstanding that this phenomenon is by no means entirely new since anti Islamic and anti Muslim sentiments can be traced back into the past in a variety of ways For all these reasons it is essential to approach these sentiments and tendencies in a multiperspective and interdisciplinary manner Some of the possible perspectives and analyses concerning anti Islamic attitudes and anti Muslim racism shall therefore be introduced and propounded in this anthology

Intergenerational Ethnic Identity Construction and Transmission among Italian-Australians Simone Marino, 2020-07-02 This book focuses on the transmission of ethnic identity across three generations of Italian Australians specifically Italian Australians of Calabrian descent in the Adelaide region of Australia Simone Marino analyzes ethnographic data collected over a three year period to consider individual familial and community cultural practices as well as societal influences on ethnic identity transmission in order to present generational differences in the understandings of Italian Australian identity Among other factors the role of community events community networks and cultural practices associated with being Italian Australian are examined The transmission of ethnic identity is analysed through the lens of sociological theories including Sayad s concept of double absence and Bourdieu s ideas of habitus and cultural capital and is considered at the macro meso and micro spheres of social life Ultimately Marino s study reveals clear generational differences amongst Italian Australians the first generation those who arrived from Italy manifest a condition of feeling absent the second generation present a condition of in between ness between the world of their immigrant parents and that of Australians and the third generation experience a sense of ethnic revival

Historical and Contemporary Pan-Africanism and the Quest for African Renaissance

Francis Adyanga Akena, Njoki Wane, 2019-01-08 This volume explores what it means to be an African in a political context in which such people are called upon to re assert the value of identifying as African in order to counter the effects of neo colonialism This includes affirming visions of what Africanness can offer in terms of people s being in the world The book also discusses the benefits associated with working together as people of African ancestry as well as the evocation of Ubuntu It focuses on the possibility of revisiting the urge for African rebirth and shows how the idea of Pan Africanism helps to keep this dream alive It engages with a range of ideas that build on the Pan African philosophy for grounding African cultural and political rebirth and will contribute to debunking the mindset that prompts many African youths and adults to risk it all for an apparently better life on the other side of the Atlantic Ocean Responsible Research Practice Norma RA Romm, 2018-04-21

This book explores ways in which creative research practice can be explicitly and mindfully geared to make a difference to the quality of social and ecological existence. It offers a range of examples of how different research methods can be employed and re-tuned with this intention. The book suggests that what Romm names active research involves using the research space responsibly to open up new avenues for thinking and acting on the part of those involved in the inquiry and wider stakeholders. The book includes a discussion of a range of epistemological, ontological, methodological and axiological positions or paradigms that can be embraced by inquirers implicitly or explicitly. It details the contours of an epistemology where knowing is recognized to be grounded in social relations as a matter of ethics. While focusing on discussing the transformative paradigm and attendant view of research ethics, it considers to what extent the borders between paradigms can be treated as being permeable in creative and active inquiries. Apart from considering options for enhancing responsible research practice during the process of inquiry and reconsidering mixed research designs, the book also considers options for responsible theorizing that is inspirational for pursuing goals of social and ecological justice. UGC NET Public

Administration (Paper-II) Study Notes , Race Rights Reparations Fernne Brennan, 2017-07-14
This book considers institutional racism as a problem that exists within modern societies. Its roots lie with the transatlantic slave trade and slavery, and the solution involves ridding society of the problem. It is argued here that first there needs to be an acceptance of its existence, then developing the tools needed to deal with it, and finally to implement those tools so that institutional racism can be permanently removed from society. The book has four themes: the first considers the nature of institutional racism; the second theme looks at instances of institutional racism through matters such as deaths in custody and skin lightening; the third considers the concept of reparations; and the final area looks at the development of social movements as a way of pushing institutional racism up the political agenda. The development of a social movement is part of a social discourse which would, for example, push mentoring as a form of reparations. There is a need for more research on the manifestations of institutional racism, and this book is part of that discourse. It is argued that the legacy of the slave trade and slavery is continuing and contemporary through the presence of institutional racism in society. This problem has not been addressed through legislation and policies devised to combat racial discrimination. Institutional racism needs to be understood as being located in the processes and procedures of societal institutions. The Gendered Transaction of Whiteness Tenisha L. Tevis, Naomi W. Nishi, Mara Lee Grayson, 2023-12-29
This book considers the causes and effects of an education field that remains white and gendered and critically examines how the race-gendered power afforded to white women in educational spaces is transacted through instructional practices and interpersonal interactions. White women occupy a complex position in society within systems of white supremacy and patriarchy, participating as both oppressors and oppressed. Emphasizing the consequences of whiteness for educational professionals and students of all racial identities, the chapters in this book offer strategies for identifying and moving beyond the gendered transaction of whiteness including what white women can do instead and how all educators can work toward transformative antiracist education Mixed Methods and Cross

Disciplinary Research Janet McIntyre-Mills, Norma R. A. Romm, 2019-07-12 This book uses mixed methods to extend the concept of wellbeing stocks to refer to dynamic ways of working with others It addresses metaphors and praxis for weaving together strands of experience The aim of the wellbeing stocks concept is to enable people to re evaluate economics and to become more aware of the way in which we neglect social and environmental aspects of life The pursuit of profit at the expense of people and the environment is a central problem for democracy and governance The vulnerability of cities is a symptom of the lack of balance between individual and collective needs This book explores the potential for cities specifically in the regions of Indonesia Africa and Australia to become more productive as sites for food and water security through more creative use of technology It highlights the need for partners that see food and security feasible at the household level if supports are provided at the community national and international level The book examines how these regions are affected by demographics climate change and people movements but also explores ways to establish an effective cultural ecosystem management Handbook of Research on Theoretical Perspectives on Indigenous Knowledge Systems in

Middle-class School Choice in Urban Spaces Emma Rowe,2016-12-01 Middle class School Choice in Urban Spaces examines government funded public schools from a range of perspectives and scholarship in order to examine the historical political and economic conditions of public schooling within a globalized post welfare context In this book Rowe argues that post welfare policy conditions are detrimental to government funded public schools as they engender consistent pressure in rearticulating the public school in alignment with the market produce tensions in serving the more historical conceptualizations of public schooling and are preoccupied by contemporary profit driven concerns Chapters focus on public schooling from different global perspectives with examples from Chile and the US to examine how various social movements encapsulate ideologies around public schooling Rowe also draws upon a rich five year ethnographic study of campaigns lobbying the Victorian State Government in Australia for a brand new local specific public school Critical attention is paid to the public school as a means to achieve empowerment and overcome discrimination and both a local and global lens are used to identify how parents choose the public school the values they attach to it and the strategies they use to obtain it Also considered however are how quality gaps distances and differences between public schools threaten to undermine the democracy of education as a means for individuals to be socially mobile and escape poverty This book makes an important contribution to our understanding of global social movements and activism around public education As such it will be of key interest to researchers academics and postgraduate students in the field of education specifically those working on school choice class and identity as well as educational geography

Routledge International Handbook of Contemporary Racisms John Solomos, 2020-02-25 The study of contemporary forms of racism has expanded greatly over the past four decades Although it has been a focus for scholarship and research for the past three centuries it is perhaps over this more recent period that we have seen important transformations in the analytical frames and methods to explore the changing patterns of contemporary racisms The Routledge International Handbook of Contemporary Racisms brings together thirty four original chapters from international experts that address key features of contemporary racisms The Handbook has a truly global orientation and covers contemporary racisms in both the western and non western geopolitical environments In terms of structure the volume is organized into ten interlinked parts that include Theories and Histories Contemporary Racisms in Global Perspective Racism and the State Racist Movements and Ideologies Anti Racisms Racism and Nationalism Intersections of Race and Gender Racism Culture and Religion Methods of Studying Contemporary Racisms and the End of Racism These parts contain chapters that draw on original theoretical and empirical research to address the evolution and changing forms of contemporary racism The Handbook is framed by a General Introduction and by short introductions to each part that provide an overview of key themes and concerns Written in a clear and direct style and from a conceptual multidisciplinary and international perspective the Handbook will provide students scholars and practitioners with an overview of the most pressing issues of Racisms in our time
