Sandora, 2015-12-08 Grasping the meaning of a text enables K 8 students to appreciate its language and structure through close reading which in turn leads to deeper comprehension This book explains the relationship between comprehension and close reading and offers step by step guidelines for teaching both of these key elements of literacy Reproducible lessons are shared for eight engaging texts excerpts from fiction nonfiction and poetry complete with discussion tips queries that scaffold comprehension close reading activities and connections to the Common Core State Standards CCSS The authors model lesson development and guide teachers in constructing their own lessons Texts for 10 additional lessons are provided in the Appendix Purchasers get access to a Web page where they can download and print all 18 texts in a convenient 8 1 2 x 11 size Reading Sideways Dana Seitler, 2019-07-02 Reading Sideways explores the pivotal role that various art forms played in American literary fiction in direct relation to the politics of gender and sexuality in works of modern American literature It tracks the crosswise circulation of aesthetic ideas in fiction and argues that at stake in the aesthetic turn of these works was not only the theorization of aesthetic experience but also an engagement with political arguments and debates about available modes of sociability and sexual expression To track these engagements its author Dana Seitler performs a method she calls lateral reading a mode of interpretation that moves horizontally through various historical entanglements and across the fields of the arts to make sense of and see in a new light their connections challenges and productive frictions Each chapter takes a different art form as its object sculpture portraiture homecraft and opera These art forms appear in some of the major works of literature of the period central to negotiations of gender race and sexuality including those by Henry James Davis Willa Cather Du Bois Sarah Orne Jewett and Mary Wilkins Freeman But the literary texts that each chapter of this book takes as its motivation not only include a specific art form or object as central to its politics they also build an alternative aesthetic vocabulary through which they seek to alter challenge or participate in the making of social and sexual life By cultivating a counter aesthetics of the unfinished the uncertain the small the low and the allusive these fictions recognize other ways of knowing and being than those oriented toward reductively gendered accounts of beauty classed imperatives established by the norms of taste or apolitical treatises of sexual disinterestedness And within them and through reading sideways we can witness the coming into legibility of a set of diffuse practices that provide a pivot point for engaging the political methods of minoritized subjects at the turn of the twentieth century
