Stephen Knight, 2021-03-01 Medieval Literature and Social Politics brings together seventeen articles by literary historian Stephen Knight The book primarily focuses on the social and political meaning of medieval literature in the past and the present It provides an account of how early heroic texts relate to the issues surrounding leadership and conflict in Wales France and England and how the myth of the Grail and the French reworking of Celtic stories relate to contemporary society and its concerns Further chapters examine Chaucer's readings of his social world the medieval reworkings of the Arthur and Merlin myths and the popular social statements in ballads and other literary forms The concluding chapters examine the Anglo nationalist Arctic Arthur and the ways in which Arthur Merlin and Robin Hood can be treated in terms of modern studies of the history of emotions and the environment This book will be of interest to scholars and students of medieval Europe as well as those interested in social and political history medieval literature and modern medievalism CS 1099 The Language of Heresy in Late Medieval English Literature Erin K.

Wagner, 2024-04-22 Vernacular writers of late medieval England were engaged in global conversations about orthodoxy and heresy Entering these conversations with a developing vernacular required lexical innovation The Language of Heresy in Late Medieval English Literature examines the way in which these writers complemented seemingly straightforward terms like heretic with a range of synonyms that complicated the definitions of both those words and orthodoxy itself This text proposes four specific terms that become collated with heretic in the parlance of medieval English writers of the 14th and 15th centuries jangler Jew Saracen and witch These four labels are especially important insofar as they represent the way in which medieval Christianity appropriated and subverted marginalized or vulnerable identities to promote a false image of unassailable authority The Cambridge History of English Poetry Michael O'Neill, 2010-04-29 A literary historical account of English poetry from Anglo Saxon writings to the present

Blockbuster Mittelalter Martin Fischer, Michaela Pölzl, 2018-08-28 Lovesickness and Gender in Early Modern English Literature Lesel Dawson, 2008-09-18 In early melancholy with physical etiologies and cures Lesel Dawson analyzes literary representations of lovesickness in relation to medical ideas about desire and wider questions about gender and identity exploring the different ways that desire is believed to take root in the body how gender roles are encoded and contested in courtship and the psychic pains and pleasures of frustrated passion She explores the relationship between women's lovesickness and other female maladies such as hysteria and greensickness and asks whether women can suffer from intellectual forms of melancholy generally thought to be exclusively male Finally she examines the ways in which Neoplatonism offers an alternative construction of love to that found in natural philosophy and considers how anxieties concerning love's ability to emasculate the male lover emerge indirectly in remedies for lovesickness With reference to the works of Shakespeare Beaumont and Fletcher Middleton Ford and Davenant Lovesickness and Gender in Early Modern English Literature investigates how early modern representations of lovesickness expose contemporary cultural constructions of love revealing the relation of sexuality to spirituality and the creation and shattering of the impassioned subject It offers an important contribution to the history of romantic love and will be of interest to students and scholars of literature gender and medical history
