Geschichte der dreihundertjährigen Jubelfeier der Königlich. Sächsischen Landesschule St. Afra zu Meissen ... Juli 1843, etc Gustav Flügel, 1844 The Throne of the Great Mogul in Dresden Dror Wahrman, 2023-04-25 A masterful deciphering of an extraordinary art object illuminating some of the biggest questions of the eighteenth century The Throne of the Great Mogul 1701 8 is a unique work of European decorative art an intricate miniature of the court of the Mughal emperor Aurangzeb depicted during the emperor's birthday celebrations It was created by the jeweler Johann Melchior Dinglinger in Dresden and purchased by the Saxon prince Augustus the Strong for an enormous sum Constructed like a theatrical set made of gold silver thousands of gemstones and amazing enamel work it consists of 164 pieces that together tell a detailed story Why did Dinglinger invest so much time and effort in making this piece Why did Augustus in the midst of a political and financial crisis purchase it And why did the jeweler secrete in it messages wholly unrelated to the prince or to the Great Mogul In answering these questions Dror Wahrman while shifting scales from microhistory to global history opens a window onto major historical themes of the period the nature of European absolutism the princely politics of the Holy Roman Empire the changing meaning of art in the West the surprising emergence of a cross continental lexicon of rulership shared across the Eastern Hemisphere and the enactment in jewels and gold of quirky contemporary theories about the global history of religion The Cultural Aesthetics of Eighteenth-Century Porcelain Michael E. Yonan, 2017-07-05 During the eighteenth century porcelain held significant cultural and artistic importance This collection represents one of the first thorough scholarly attempts to explore the diversity of the medium's cultural meanings. Among the volume's purposes is to expose porcelain objects to the analytical and theoretical rigor which is routinely applied to painting, sculpture, and architecture, and thereby to reposition eighteenth-century porcelain within new and more fruitful interpretative frameworks. The authors also analyze the aesthetics of porcelain and its physical characteristics, particularly the way its tactile and visual qualities reinforced and challenged the social processes within which porcelain objects were viewed, collected, and used. The essays in this volume treat objects such as figurines representing British theatrical celebrities, a boxwood and ebony figural porcelain stand, works of architecture meant to approximate porcelain visually, porcelain flowers adorning objects such as candelabra and perfume burners, and tea sets decorated with unusual designs. The geographical areas covered in the collection include China, North Africa, Spain, France, Italy, Britain, America, Japan, Austria, and Holland.
