Hess, Michael Q. McShane, 2021-03-04 In Educational Entrepreneurship Today Frederick M. Hess and Michael Q. McShane assemble a diverse lineup of high profile contributors to examine the contexts in which new initiatives in education are taking shape. They inquire into the impact of entrepreneurship on the larger field including the development and deployment of new technologies and analyze the incentives, barriers, opportunities and tensions that support or constrain innovation. Over the past decade entrepreneurship has moved from the periphery to the center of education reform. Policy measures, philanthropic support and venture capital increasingly promote initiatives that drive innovation within and outside the traditional education sector. These initiatives have included spectacular successes like Khan Academy, Teach For America and Wireless Generation as well as highly visible failures like the InBloom data warehouse. Educational Entrepreneurship Today offers critical perspectives on the impact of entrepreneurship and also includes lessons from leading entrepreneurs in which they use case studies drawn from their own experience to illustrate the realities of leading disruptive change in education and pose guiding questions for the next generation of innovators. In a time of increasing polarization around education policy, this timely, frank and insightful volume shows how we can begin to create systems in which entrepreneurial ideas and fresh thinking are welcomed constructively, employed and held accountable for the public good.

Technology Training for Educators From Past to Present Krishnan, Chitra, Al-Harthi, Fatma Nasser, Singh, Gurinder, 2022-06-10 In the past decade, rapid digitalization has changed many elements of society and education is no exception. The tradition of teacher-centered education has been long held in education and is still extremely well established. Due to the access of technology for knowledge and education, however, the teacher's function in many classrooms has been to advise and guide as students take greater responsibility for their own learning using technology to collect information. Schools and universities across the world are beginning to redesign their learning spaces to enable this new model of education, foster more interaction and small group work, and use technology as an enabler of knowledge. Technology Training for Educators From Past to Present addresses the issues facing our education systems today and the role of technology and innovation in the global transformation of education. This book focuses on the fundamental need for educators at all levels to become knowledgeable with the technological teaching and learning tools at their disposal in order to best support student learning. Covering topics such as inclusion, promotion in education, technology, professional development and online learning environments, this premier reference source is a valuable resource for educational administration and faculty, educators of K-12 and higher education, educational software developers, IT consultants, pre-service teachers, libraries, teaching colleges, researchers and academicians.
