Reading Sounds Sean Zdenek, 2015-12-23 Imagine a common movie scene a hero confronts a villain Captioning such a moment would at first glance seem as basic as transcribing the dialogue But consider the choices involved How do you convey the sarcasm in a comeback Do you include a henchman's muttering in the background Does the villain emit a scream a grunt or a howl as he goes down And how do you note a gunshot without spoiling the scene These are the choices closed captioners face every day Captioners must decide whether and how to describe background noises accents laughter musical cues and even silences When captioners describe a sound or choose to ignore it they are applying their own subjective interpretations to otherwise objective noises creating meaning that does not necessarily exist in the soundtrack or the script Reading Sounds looks at closed captioning as a potent source of meaning in rhetorical analysis Through nine engrossing chapters Sean Zdenek demonstrates how the choices captioners make affect the way deaf and hard of hearing viewers experience media He draws on hundreds of real life examples as well as interviews with both professional captioners and regular viewers of closed captioning Zdenek s analysis is an engrossing look at how we make the audible visible one that proves that better standards for closed captioning create a better entertainment experience for all viewers Billboard

Ziegler,2023-10-02 Transnational Zombie Cinema 2010 to 2020 Readings in a Mutating Tradition examines selected films produced outside the United States in the second decade of the millennial zombie renaissance following the global effects of the Great Recession These readings analyze how the films adapt the zombie myth to localized anxieties pertaining to neoliberal capitalism globalization gender and sexuality national identity history and trauma and self definition within and without culture and social institutions In tracing these variations John R Ziegler investigates not only better known films such as South Korea s Train to Busan 2016 and Cuba s Juan of the Dead 2011 but also lesser known examples such as Malaysia s KL24 Zombies 2017 Italy s The End 2017 and India s Rise of the Zombie 2010 These films Ziegler argues demonstrate the continued significance of the zombie as a flexible powerful tool for thinking about contemporary concerns across the globe and suggest that the zombie myth still has plenty of undead life in it as it continues to mutate and circulate in transnational cinema
