1. Insert the SIM and memory card

1. Open the SIM card tray, push the tray open pin on the tray back and slide the tray out.

2. If you have a single-SIM phone, put an active SIM card in slot 1 and a memory card in slot 2 on the tray with the contact areas facing out. If you have a dual-SIM phone, put a nano-SIM card in slot 1 and either a second SIM or a memory card in slot 2 with the contact areas facing down.

Tip: To find out if your phone can use 2 SIM cards, see the label on the sales box. If there are 2 SIM cards on the label, you have a dual-SIM phone.

3. Slide the tray back in.

Use only original nano-SIM cards. Use of incompatible SIM cards may damage the card or the device, and may corrupt data stored on the card.

Use only compatible memory card supported for use with this device. Inserting incompatible memory card and the device and corrupt data stored on the card.

Important: Do not remove the memory card when an app is using it. Doing so may damage the memory card and the device and corrupt data stored on the card.

Both SIM cards are available with the same functions if the device is not being used, but while one SIM card is active, for example, making a call, the other may be unavailable.

Notes: On all SIM-capable devices, both 3G+1 and 3G+2 slots support 3G+2 networks. However, if your 3G+1 and 3G+2 use both 3G+2 SIM cards, the primary SIM supports 3G+2 (3G+2/2G) networks, while the secondary SIM can only support 3G+2/2G. For more information on your SIM card, contact your service provider.

2. Charge the battery and switch the phone on

Plug a compatible charging cable in wall socket, and connect the cable to your phone. Your phone supports the USB-C cable. You can also charge your phone from a computer with a USB cable, but it may take a longer time.

If the battery is completely discharged, it may take several minutes before the charging indicator is displayed.

The next time you plug in, press and hold the power key until the phone vibrates. The phone guides you through the setup.
