The following are important handset care notes:

- Handset must be charged before initial use. Always handsets each week to maximize power life.
- Routinely charge with a discharged handset with a fully charged one in cradle.
- Remove handsets from the charging cradle once they are fully charged.
- Battery charge will decrease during extended inactivity. Handset should be at least 55 charged for long term storage. Please place the charge battery on long term storage.
- Battery life is expected to be at least 2 years with proper care and maintenance.
- Handset operating temperature range: 50°F (-10°C) to 121°F (+49°C). Handset storage and transportation temperature range: -4°F (-20°C) to 121°F (+49°C). Relative humidity < 95% non-condensing. The optimal storage location is cool, dry, and away from direct sunlight.
- When the charging cradle shows a full handset battery, the indicator lights will illuminate red rather than green. In this case, the batteries are expiring and must be replaced.
- Handset communication and mechanical integrity are checked when the handset is first placed in the charging cradle. Good communication exists when the first bar illuminates green for approximately two seconds. The routine charging sequence should then commence.

Do not attempt to charge a handset with damaged battery.

Wipe off the surface with a soft cloth. Do not use harsh or abrasive cleaners. Do not use solvents from other sources.

Properly dispose of spent or damaged handsets. Return to KaVo or an authorized distributor for replacement and recycling. Do not place in municipal waste stream.

Make sure you operate close to the patient's cheek as possible without touching. If your positioning device prohibits you from getting close enough to the cheek, you may want to use the Start Alignment Positioning Base with your device.

To achieve complete exposures, do the following: press and release the trigger to enable the 3-yr. and wait for the display to read Ready, press and hold the trigger until the device beeps and the display reads Ready Complete.
