Incidental Exposure to Online News Borchuluun Yadamsuren, Sanda Erdelez, 2016-12-07 Rapid technological changes and availability of news anywhere and at any moment have changed how people seek out news Increasingly consumers no longer take deliberate actions to read the news instead stumbling upon news online While the emergence of serendipitous news discovery online has been recognized in the literature there is a limited understanding about how people experience this behavior Based on the mixed method study that investigated online news reading behavior of residents in a Midwestern U.S. town we explore how people accidentally discover news when engaged in various online activities Employing the grounded theory approach we define Incidental Exposure to Online News IEON as individual's memorable experiences of chance encounters with interesting useful or surprising news while using the Internet for news browsing or for non news related online activities such as checking email or visiting social networking sites The book presents a conceptual framework of IEON that advances research and an understanding of serendipitous news discovery from people's holistic experiences of news consumption in their everyday lives The proposed IEON Process Model identifies key steps in an IEON experience that could help news reporters and developers of online news platforms create innovative storytelling and design strategies to catch consumers attention during their online activities Finally this book raises important methodological questions for further investigation how should serendipitous news discovery be studied measured and observed and what are the essential elements that differentiate this behavior from other types of online news consumption and information behaviors Online Newsgathering: Research and Reporting for Journalism Stephen Quinn, Stephen Lamb, 2012-07-26 Journalists used to rely on their notepad and pen Today professional journalists rely on the computer and not just for the writing Much if not all of a journalist s research happens on a computer If you are journalist of any kind you need to know how to find the information you need online This book will show you how to find declassified governmental files statistics of all kinds simple and complex search engines for small and large data gathering and directories of subject experts This book is for the many journalists around the world who didn t attend a formal journalism school before going to work those journalists who were educated before online research became mainstream and for any student studying journalism today It will teach you how to use the Internet wisely efficiently and comprehensively so that you will always have your facts straight and fast Online Newsgathering reflects the most current thinking is pertinent to both industry and education focuses on what people need to know Please visit the authors companion website at <http://computerassistedreporting.com> for additional resources Can Journalism Be Saved? Rachel Davis Mersey, 2010-08-06 This book challenges the once dominant social responsibility model and argues that a new individual first paradigm is what will allow journalism to survive in today s crowded media marketplace By some measures it would seem that print journalism is dying Journalism recently suffered one of its worst circulation declines in years a drop of more than ten percent in the a six month period ending September 30 2009 The Rocky Mountain News in Denver CO closed its doors in 2009 after it dominated the AP awards in 2008 and was lauded for an investigative expose on unfair treatment of former nuclear workers Even the New York Times and the Washington Post are experiencing financial trouble But print advertising revenue still trumps online advertising revenue ten fold Is there hope yet for traditional journalism This book reviews the complicated challenge facing journalism tracing its 19th century community oriented origins and documenting the vast expansion of the news business via blogs and other Internet enabled outlets user generated content and news like alternatives The author argues that a radical shift in mindset striving to meet each individual s demands for what he wants to know will be necessary to save journalism Radio Daily ,1950 vols for 1945 include Shows of tomorrow annual ed The Video Source Book David J.
