Norton Field Guide To Writing With Readings 2010:

The Norton Field Guide to Writing with Readings & Handbook Richard Bullock, 2026 Upsetting Composition Commonplaces Ian Barnard, 2014-10-15 In Upsetting Composition Commonplaces Ian Barnard argues that composition still retains the bulk of instructional practices that were used in the decades before poststructuralist theory discredited them. While acknowledging that some of the foundational insights of poststructuralist theory can be difficult to translate to the classroom, Barnard upends several especially intransigent tenets that continue to influence the teaching of writing and how students are encouraged to understand writing. Using six major principles of writing classrooms and textbooks—clarity, intent, voice, ethnography, audience, and objectivity—Barnard looks at the implications of poststructuralist theory for pedagogy. While suggesting some evocative poststructuralist pedagogical practices, the author focuses on diagnosing the fault lines of composition's refusal of poststructuralism rather than on providing solutions in the form of teaching templates. Upsetting Composition Commonplaces addresses the need to more effectively engage in poststructuralist concepts in composition in an accessible and engaging voice that will advance the conversation about relations between the theory and teaching of writing.

A Responsive Rhetorical Art Elenore Long, 2018-10-24 A Responsive Rhetorical Art explores the risk-ridden realm of wise if always also fallible rhetorical action: the productive knowledge building required to compose and to leverage texts broadly construed for the purposes of public life marked by shrinking public resources, cultural conflict, and deferred hope. Here composition and literacy learning hold an important and distinctive cultural promise: the capacity to invent with other people new ways forward in light of their own interests and values and in the face of obstacles that could not have otherwise been predicted. Distributed across publicly situated strangers including citizen educators, this work engages a persistent challenge of early rhetorical uptake in public life: that what might become public and shared is often tacit and contested. The book's approach combines attention to local cases with a transnational student organization, the Nipmuck Chaubunagungamaug, and the South Sudanese diaspora in Phoenix, with a revisable guide for taking up wise action and methods for uncovering elusive institutional logics. Routledge Handbook of Descriptive Rhetorical Studies and World Languages Weixiao
