Gulp Mary Roach, 2025-04-25 The irresistible ever curious and always best selling Mary Roach returns with a new adventure to the invisible realm we carry around inside America's funniest science writer Washington Post takes us down the hatch on an unforgettable tour The alimentary canal is classic Mary Roach terrain the questions explored in Gulp are as taboo in their way as the cadavers in Stiff and every bit as surreal as the universe of zero gravity explored in Packing for Mars Why is crunchy food so appealing Why is it so hard to find words for flavors and smells Why doesn't the stomach digest itself How much can you eat before your stomach bursts Can constipation kill you Did it kill Elvis In Gulp we meet scientists who tackle the questions no one else thinks of or has the courage to ask We go on location to a pet food taste test lab a fecal transplant and into a live stomach to observe the fate of a meal With Roach at our side we travel the world meeting murderers and mad scientists Eskimos and exorcists who have occasionally administered holy water rectally rabbis and terrorists who it turns out for practical reasons do not conceal bombs in their digestive tracts Like all of Roach's books Gulp is as much about human beings as it is about human bodies The Meaning Is in the Dirt Marlette B. Reed, B.Ed.,

MA, Annette M. Lane, RN, PhD, 2019-11-30 From the authors of Making Meaning in Older Age and Older Adults Understanding and Facilitating Transitions now in its third edition Many demands in life can impede meaning making The pressures of work ongoing education raising a family caregiving for older relatives and more compete for our time to pursue meaning in life The work of character development the effort and discipline's needed for purposeful living and learning healthy ways of dealing with adversity can get short circuited leaving people with a sense of internal emptiness or quiet desperation The desire to live a perfect life one untroubled by messiness whether in our homes or in our life choices can leave us with the nagging question What's it all for This book offers short and easy to read meditations that address making meaning through the metaphor of dirt With their decades of working with people facing challenging circumstances identical twins Marlette and Annette explain why making meaning is important and they outline practical ways in which adults can find meaning in their lives Transparent and real the authors address the challenging circumstances we may think disturb our lives unfairly but may in fact lead to greater richness as well as discuss the impact in the world of living purposefully The authors write with insight and warmth as well as personal experience of adversity they provide persuasive reasoning for the importance of living intentionally and meaningfully in the messiness of life The meaning really is in the dirt

Gestures of Concern Chris Ingraham,2020-07-27 In Gestures of Concern Chris Ingraham shows that while gestures such as sending a Get Well card may not be instrumentally effective they do exert an intrinsically affective force on a field of social relations From liking sharing posting or swiping to watching a TED Talk or wearing an I Voted sticker such gestures operate as much through affective registers as they do through overt symbolic action Ingraham demonstrates that gestures of concern are central to establishing the necessary conditions for larger social or political change because they give the everyday aesthetic and rhetorical practices of public life the capacity to attain some socially legible momentum Rather than supporting the notion that vociferous public communication is the best means for political and social change Ingraham advances the idea that concerned gestures can help to build the affective communities that orient us to one another with an imaginable future in mind Ultimately he shows how acts that many may consider trivial or banal are integral to establishing those background conditions capable of fostering more inclusive social or political change A Modern Guide to Tourism
