meXicana Fashions Aída Hurtado, Norma E. Cantú, 2020-01-10 2020 Second Place Best Nonfiction Multi Author International Latino Book Awards. Collecting the perspectives of scholars who reflect on their own relationships to particular garments, analyze the politics of dress, and examine the role of consumerism and entrepreneurialism in the production of creating and selling a style, meXicana Fashions examines and searches for meaning in these visible performative aspects of identity. Focusing primarily on Chicanas but also considering trends connected to other Latin American communities, the authors highlight specific constituencies that are defined by region, Tejana style, L.A. style, age group, homie, chola, and social class, marked by haute couture labels such as Carolina Herrera and Oscar de la Renta. The essays acknowledge the complex layers of these styles which are not mutually exclusive but instead reflect a range of intersections in occupation, origin, personality, sexuality, and fads. Other elements include urban indigenous fashion, shows, the shifting quinceañera, market, walking altars on the Days of the Dead, plus size clothing, huipiles in the workplace, and dressing in drag. Together, these chapters illuminate the full array of messages woven into a vibrant social fabric.

Eros Ideologies Laura E. Pérez, 2019-10-11. In Eros Ideologies, Laura E. Pérez explores the decolonial through Western and non-Western thought concerning personal and social well-being. Drawing upon Jungian, people of color, and spiritual psychology alongside non-Western spiritual philosophies of the interdependence of all life forms, she writes of the decolonial as an ongoing project rooted in love as an ideology to frame respectful coexistence of social and cultural diversity. In readings of art that includes self-portraits by Frida Kahlo, Ana Mendieta, and Yreina D. Cervantes, the drawings and paintings of Chilean American artist Liliana Wilson, and Favianna Rodríguez's screen-printed images, Pérez identifies art as one of the most valuable laboratories for creating, imagining, and experiencing new forms of decolonial thought. Such art expresses what Pérez calls eros ideologies: understandings of social and natural reality that foreground the centrality of respect and care of self and others as the basis for a more democratic and responsible present and future. Employing a range of writing styles and voices from the poetic to the scholarly, Pérez shows how art can point to more just and loving ways of being.

We Have Overcome Jason D. Hill,2018-07-10 It has been more than fifty years since the Civil Rights Act enshrined equality under the law for all Americans Since that time America has enjoyed an era of unprecedented prosperity domestic and international peace and technological advancement It s almost as if removing the shackles of enforced racial discrimination has liberated Americans of all races and ethnicities to become their better selves and to work toward common goals in ways that our ancestors would have envied But the dominant narrative repeated in the media and from the angry mouths of politicians and activists is the exact opposite of the reality They paint a portrait of an America rife with racial and ethnic division where minorities are mired in a poverty worse than slavery and white people stand at the top of an unfairly stacked pyramid of privilege Jason D Hill corrects the narrative in this powerfully eloquent book Dr Hill came to this country at the age of twenty from Jamaica and rather than being faced with intractable racial bigotry Hill found a land of bountiful opportunity a place where he could get a college education earn a doctorate in philosophy and eventually become a tenured professor at a top university an internationally recognized scholar and the author of several respected books in his field Throughout his experiences it wasn t a racist establishment that sought to keep him down Instead Hill recounts he faced constant naysaying from so called liberals of all races His academic colleagues did not celebrate the success of a black immigrant but chose to denigrate them because this particular black immigrant did not embrace their ideology of victimization Part memoir part exhortation to his fellow Americans and above all a paean to the American Dream and the magnificent country that makes it possible We Have Overcome is the most important and provocative book about race relations to be published in this century coincide with Random House Canada's publication of the groundbreaking book Unrepentant by Peter Edwards and biker Lorne Campbell. Vintage Canada updates and reissues the award-winning true crime classic that tells the complete and scandalous story in the most gut-wrenching chapter of Campbell's life. You can't read one without wanting to read the other. On the night of October 18, 1978, small-town biker Bill Matiyek was having a drink in a Port Hope bar. A gunman suddenly walked up and fired 3 bullets into his head. Members of the rival bike club Satan's Choice, who were in the bar, quickly vanished. Was it a cold-blooded gangland-style execution as the Crown Attorney and police would argue, or the compulsive act of a single gunman? Was the trial that followed driven by persistent police work or a police frame-up? Did the bikers conspire to murder, or did the law conspire to convict them? Guilt by association, unreliable eyewitness testimony, suppression of evidence, botched police procedures: call the results justice or call them revenge. The question remains: Who really killed Bill Matiyek, and why? Official Gazette of the United States Patent and Trademark Office, 2002 The Case Against Reality Donald D. Hoffman, 2019-08-13 SHORTLISTED FOR THE PHYSICS WORLD BOOK OF THE YEAR 2019 One of the deepest and most original thinkers of his generation of cognitive scientists. His startling argument has implications for philosophy, science, and how we understand the world around us. Steven Pinker: Is reality virtual? It's a question made even more interesting by this book. Barbara Kiser: Nature. Do we see the world as it truly is? In The Case Against Reality, pioneering cognitive scientist Donald Hoffman says no: we see what we need in order to survive. Our visual perceptions are not a window onto reality; Hoffman shows us, but instead are interfaces constructed by natural selection. The objects we see around us are not unlike the file icons on our computer desktops: while shaped like a small folder on our screens, the files themselves are made of a series of ones and zeros, too complex for most of us to understand. In a similar way, Hoffman argues, evolution has shaped our perceptions into simplistic illusions to help us navigate the world around us. Yet now these illusions can be manipulated by advertising and design. Drawing on thirty years of Hoffman's own influential research, as well as evolutionary biology, game theory, neuroscience, and philosophy, The Case Against Reality makes the mind-bending yet utterly convincing case that the world is nothing like what we see through our eyes. The Mourning Parade Dawn Reno Langley, 2017-07-18 Natalie DeAngelo lost everything the day her two young sons were killed in a school shooting. Desperate to find relief from her unspeakable loss, she volunteers as a veterinarian on an elephant sanctuary in Thailand, but soon realizes she may be in over her head. Battling the memories that torment her day and night, Natalie must find a way to heal an angry, injured elephant named Sophie. Through love, acceptance, and gentle care, Natalie and Sophie heal together, finding new ways to enjoy life again.

Conspiracy of Brothers Mick Lowe,2013-04-30 To
