Learning to Teach English and the Language Arts Peter Smagorinsky,2020-04-16 Drawing together Smagorinsky s extensive research over a 20 year period Learning to Teach English and the Language Arts explores how beginning teachers pedagogical concepts are shaped by a variety of influences Challenging popular thinking about the binary roles of teacher education programs and school based experiences in the process of learning to teach Smagorinsky illustrates through case studies in the disciplines of English and the Language Arts that teacher education programs and classroom school contexts are not discrete contexts for learning about teaching nor are each of these contexts unified in the messages they offer about teaching He explores the tensions not only between these contexts and others but within them to illustrate the social cultural contextual political and historical complexity of learning to teach Smagorinsky revisits familiar theoretical understandings including Vygotsky s concept development and Lortie s apprenticeship of observation to consider their implications for teachers today and to examine what teacher candidates learn during their teacher education experiences and how that learning shapes their development as teachers Research on Composition Peter Smagorinsky,2006 Covering the period between 1984 and 2003 this authoritative sequel picks up where the earlier volumes Braddock et al 1963 and Hillocks 1986 now classics in the field left off It features a broader focus that goes beyond the classroom teaching of writing to include teacher research second language writing rhetoric home and community literacy workplace literacy and histories of writing Each chapter is written by an expert in the area reviewed and covers both conventional written composition and multimodal forms of composition including drawing digital forms and other relevant media Research on Composition is an invaluable road map of composition research for the next decade and required reading for anyone teaching or writing about composition
