War Refugees and the Labour Market Ewa Łaźniewska, Joanna Kurowska-Pysz, Tomasz Górecki, Khrystyna Prytula, Klaudia Plac, 2024-08-12 This book addresses the complex socioeconomic situation in the Polish Ukrainian borderland in the context of the labour market following Russia's invasion of Ukraine It analyses and assesses the measures which influence the process of Ukrainian war refugees adaptation to the Polish labour market surveying the engagement of local actors such as employers labour market institutions and nongovernmental organisations It examines the impact of the refugee crisis on this market as well as mobilisation of various groups of actors in order to support this specific group of migrants in adapting to life in Poland The authors argue that this phenomenon of the migration of war refugees confirms the thesis that political instability can be a factor in pushing people abroad as equally important as inequalities in prosperity The book identifies the characteristic features of the stream of war refugees from Ukraine as a category of cross border flows Before the Russian attack the influx of Ukrainians to Poland was due mainly to economic pressures whereas after the outbreak of war Ukrainians motivation to cross the border with Poland as well as the structure of this migration stream have radically changed The book offers in depth insight into the development of borderland regions and especially the cross border labour market as a specific element of the borderland economic ecosystem It highlights the positive outcomes of the migration crisis which will serve as examples of best practice for other regions in Europe This book will be of interest to scholars researchers and policymakers concerned with regional development including contact regions as well as cross border flows the labour market and migration Nordic Work with Traumatized Refugees Eugene Guribye, Birgit Lie, Gwynyth Overland, 2014-09-26 The Nordic welfare societies have been described as beacons of light in work with refugees with their emphasis on egalitarian and extensive benefit levels wealth redistribution promotion of gender equality and maximisation of labour force participation Members of the population benefit from free education universal healthcare and public services that provide an elaborate social safety net The conditions seem favourable for refugees exposed to severely traumatic events in countries of origin and in flight who have come to rest in the safe havens of the Nordic countries But has society really done what it could and should in the field of refugee mental health Does it really care This book provides an investigative perspective on challenges encountered by professionals in the Nordic countries in refugee mental health and care addressing key contemporary challenges faced by forcibly displaced populations Leading academics and practitioners working with refugees in clinics universities and research centres in the fields of psychiatry psychology nursing physical therapies social work child care education anthropology and sociology present their work on care treatment perspectives human rights families in flight and exile asylum seekers and undocumented migrants In general the growing focus on trauma refugee streams and unresolved issues around the world makes this book a useful source work for the increasing number of professions being drawn into this work In regard to universities and colleges it offers transcultural perspectives in medicine nursing social work and social science Mental Health of Refugees Paul M.G. Emmelkamp, 2023-07-24 The book provides a comprehensive review of mental health in refugees by discussing its multiple dimensions and analyzing epidemiology etiology and culturally adapted assessment and treatment Key topics include why certain refugees cope successfully with traumatic experiences while others do not and the biological psychological and social processes underlying posttraumatic stress disorder common mental disorders substance abuse and personality disorders The text examines topics such as complexities of diagnosis treatment and recovery for refugees Furthermore the roles of culture social support and mental health workers in the process of overcoming mental health problems in refugees are discussed Together the chapters provide an in depth examination of the current understood causes and impacts of mental health problems and treatment of refugees to inform future work in the field The book gives its readers a solid basis for understanding mental health problems of refugees and sets out to present practitioners with a state of the art summary of all the latest developments and practical guidance Furthermore this book provides the practitioner with instructions on how culturally adapted treatments can be used not only with adults but also with children and young people to help the practitioner to prepare for working with this difficult client group Drawing from a range of different fields

Galegher, Maureen F. Park, 2019-05-22 This volume explores the shared expectations that education is a panacea for the difficulties that refugees and their receiving countries face This book investigates the ways in which education is both a dream solution as well as a contested landscape for refugee families and students Using comparative cross national perspectives across five continents the editors and contributors critically analyze the educational structures policies and practices intended to support refugee youth transition from conflict and post conflict zones to mainstream classrooms and schools in their new communities Children, Adolescents and Families with Severe Mental Illness: Towards a Comprehensive Early Identification of Risk Andrea Raballo, Frauke Schultze-Lutter, Marco Armando, 2022-01-27

Palestinian Refugees Are Knudsen, Sari Hanafi, 2010-11-05 More than four million Palestinian refugees live in protracted exile across the Middle East Taking a regional approach to Palestinian refugee exile and alienation across the Levant this book proposes a new understanding of the spatial and political dimensions of refugee camps across the Middle East Combining critical scholarship with ethnographic insight the essays uncover host states marginalisation of stateless refugees and shed light on new terminology on refugees migration and diaspora studies The impact on the refugee community is detailed in novel studies of refugee identity memory and practice and new legal approaches to compensation and right of return The book opens a critical debate on key concepts and proposes a new understanding of the spatial and political dimensions of refugee camps better understood as laboratories of Palestinian society and state in making This strong collection of original essays is an essential resource for scholars and students in refugee studies forced migration disaster studies legal anthropology urban studies international law and Middle East history Best Practices for Social Work with Refugees and Immigrants Miriam Potocky, Mitra Naseh, 2019-10-29 Social work practice with refugees and immigrants requires specialized knowledge of these populations and specialized adaptations and applications of mainstream services and interventions Because they are often confronted with cultural linguistic political and socioeconomic barriers these groups are especially vulnerable to psychological problems such as anxiety depression alienation grief and post traumatic stress disorder as well as concerns arising from inadequate health care Institutionalized discrimination and anti immigrant policies and attitudes only exacerbate these challenges The second edition of Best Practices for Social Work with Refugees and Immigrants offers an update to this comprehensive guide to social work with foreign born clients and an evaluation of various helping strategies and their methodological strengths and weaknesses Part 1 sets forth the context for evidence based service approaches for such clients by describing the nature of these populations relevant policies designed to assist them service delivery systems and culturally competent practice Part 2 addresses specific problem areas common to refugees and immigrants and evaluates a variety of assessment and intervention techniques in each area Using a rigorous evidence based and pancultural approach Miriam Potocky and Mitra Naseh identify best practices at the macro meso and micro levels to meet the pressing needs of uprooted peoples The new edition incorporates the latest research on contemporary social work practice with refugees and immigrants to provide a practical up to date resource for the multitude of issues and interventions for these populations Migrant and Refugee Integration in Mexico Nuty

Cárdenas-Alaminos, Karla Valenzuela-Moreno, Liliana Meza González, 2024-07-25 Although Mexican emigration to the United States is still relevant it has also become a return transit and recipient country for thousands of refugees Now many of these migrants refugees and their families stay on Mexican soil territory trying to integrate within Mexican society This book brings together leading experts in Mexico and covers the political dimension of integration for migrants in Mexico analyzing integration policies civil society efforts and public opinion from various angles In this context many questions arise Among the most relevant What has the federal government done to assist these migrant groups who often arrive in conditions of great vulnerability What policies have been implemented at the subnational level of government to adequately integrate these population groups What actions have been implemented by other local actors such as civil society organizations What do Mexicans think about newcomers Migrant and Refugee Integration in Mexico will be of interest to students and scholars across a range of disciplines including international relations development studies anthropology international studies sociology and Latin American studies Migrants, Refugees and Asylum Seekers' Integration in European Labour Markets

Veronica Federico, Simone Baglioni, 2021-04-21 This open access book discusses how and to what extent the legal and institutional regimes and the socio cultural environments of a range of European countries the Czech Republic Denmark Finland Greece Italy Switzerland and the UK in the framework of EU laws and policies have a beneficial or negative impact on the effective capacity of these countries to integrate migrants refugees and asylum seekers into their labour markets The analysis builds on the understanding of socio cultural institutional and legal factors as barriers or enablers elements that may facilitate or obstruct the integration processes The book examines the two dimensions of integration being access to the labour market which translated into a rights language means the right to work with its corollaries recognition of qualifications vocational training etc and non discriminatory working conditions which translated into a rights language means right to both formal and substantial equality and its corollaries of benefits and duties deriving from joining the labour market It thereby offers a novel approach to labour market integration and migration asylum issues given its focus on legal aspects which includes most recent policy changes and legal decisions including litigation cases The robust evidence based and comparative research illustrated in the book provides academics and students but also practitioners and policy makers with up to date knowledge that will likely impact positively on policy changes needed to better address integration

conundrums Refugee Survey Quarterly, 2008 The Search for Home among Forced Migrants and Refugees

Maria Sophia Aguirre, Antonio Argandoña, 2024-11-08 This book explores the role of home in the lives of displaced people including voluntary and forced migrants refugees asylum seekers internally displaced people and temporary workers For displaced people home is something lost longed for and sometimes found anew It is a community of people in an environment of relationships and a physical dwelling that provide a sense of safety security hope and belonging Much of the efforts of refugees migrants and exiles are devoted to rebuilding a home through a combination of personal effort and collaboration with the political and social environment of the host community Aguirre and Argandoña bring together an interdisciplinary collection of contributors to analyse these challenges through the lenses of economics law sociology psychology communications management and political science The book offers numerous suggestions for assistance aimed not only at the short term problems of displaced people but also at ensuring their human dignity This volume will be a valuable resource for students and scholars of the sociology of migration and of public policy related to the handling of migrants

Refugees and Migrants in Law and Policy Helmut Kury, Sławomir Redo, 2018-05-31 Refugees and migration are not a new story in the history of humankind but in the last few years against a backdrop of huge numbers of migrants especially from war torn countries they have again been a topic of intensive and contentious discussion in politics the media and scientific publications Two United Nations framework declarations on the sustainable development goals and on refugees and migrants adopted in 2016 have prompted the editors who have a background in international criminology to invite 60 contributors from different countries to contribute their expertise on civic education aspects of the refugee and migrant crisis in the Global North and South Comprising 35 articles this book presents an overview of the interdisciplinary issues involved in irregular migration around the world It is intended for educationists educators diplomats those working in mass media decision makers criminologists and other specialists faced with questions involving refugees and migrants as well as those interested in improving the prospects of orderly safe regular and responsible migration in the context of promoting peaceful and inclusive societies for sustainable development Rather than a timeline for migration policies based on now with states focusing on stopping migration now sending back migrants now or bringing in technicians or low skilled migrant workers now there should be a long term strategy for multicultural integration and economic assimilation This book prefaced by François Crépeau the United Nations Special Rapporteur on the human rights of migrants and William Lacy Swing Director General of the International Organization for Migration addresses the question of the rights and responsibilities involved in migration from the academic and practical perspectives of experts in the field of social sciences and welfare and charts the way forward to 2030 and beyond and also beyond the paradigm of political correctness
