Negotiating Gendered Discourses Ferndez Sexualities:

Negotiating Gendered Discourses Jane L. Christie, 2015-11-25 It has been argued that the first presidential campaign of Michelle Bachelet in Chile and Cristina Fernandez de Kirchner in Argentina used a rhetoric of newness. Some political observers have said that as the first women to successfully run for the highest office in these countries they were presented as the new faces of democracy. These observers argued that gender was not a determining factor in their electoral success but the focus on this first women frame did generate heavily gendered criticisms of these two candidates. Negotiating Gendered Discourses addresses these views by asking how the gender factor is negotiated when women from the Southern Cone of Latin America run for high political office. In particular, Jane L. Christie examines how Bachelet and Fernandez positioned themselves in relation to the numerous women-led social movements and in doing so reveals points of intersection between these contemporary political discourses and existing sources of female authority when negotiating complicated ideological debates about human rights, the economy, and women's rights.

Unbecoming Female Monsters Cristina Santos, 2016-12-07 Unbecoming Female Monsters: Witches, Vampires, and Virgins is a multi-cultural and interdisciplinary work that traces the construct of female monsters as an embodiment of socio-cultural fears of female sexuality and reproductive powers. This book examines the female sexual maturation cycle and the various archetypes of female monsters associated with each stage of sexual development as seen in literature, art, film, television, and popular culture. Recommended for scholars of Latin American studies, literature, cultural studies, women and gender studies, popular culture, and film studies.

Writing Terror on the Bodies of Women Sarah England, 2018-08-15 Writing Terror on the Bodies of Women: Media Coverage of Violence against Women in Guatemala analyzes the scope and dynamics of violence against women in Guatemala and how it is represented in the print media. Using nearly two thousand Guatemalan newspaper reports covering murders and assaults on women, this book contextualizes violence against women within the history of violence in Guatemala, gender ideologies, and patriarchal social structures and the contemporary demands of the women's movement for social and legislative change. It shows that while some newspapers cover violence against women with investigative reports and editorials that use feminist analysis and language, these are overshadowed by the large number of individual reports that reproduce narratives of terror and conceal the gendered nature of violence against women by suggesting that delinquents, gangs, unknown men, and inexplicably violent husbands are the main culprits while simultaneously upholding dichotomous gendered narratives of good and bad wives and daughters.

The Political Economy of Same-Sex Marriage Bronwyn Winter, 2020-12-29 Same sex marriage is now legal in twenty nine countries and the subject of continued debate around the world. The Political Economy of Same Sex Marriage: A Feminist Critique considers this debate from a political economy perspective. Rather than engaging directly in the now well rehearsed social movement and academic for and against debates, this book focuses on processes of institutionalization of same sex marriage and so called rainbow families within neo liberal capitalist democracies. It examines how states and markets appropriate same sex marriage and family to enhance their own political and symbolic capital, consolidating power and profit within existing systems of gendered and raced socioeconomic stratification. Taking a radical feminist, heterodox, qualitative and intersectional approach, this book investigates the political economy of same sex marriage across three axes: same sex marriage as institution, same sex marriage and the market, and the political economy of the rainbow family. The examination of case studies from different countries and regions enables a comparative analysis that foregrounds cultural, political and economic path dependencies while at the same time highlighting a number of striking commonalities. In all the countries discussed in this book and in most respects, same sex marriage has been integrated almost seamlessly into a mainstream malestream political economy of marriage and family and its translation into added market and productive value. The Political Economy of Same Sex Marriage: A Feminist Critique will be of use to researchers and students alike and indeed to all those who are curious about the mainstreaming of homosexuality within twenty first century capitalist democracies. Resistant Bodies in the Cultural Productions of Transnational Hispanic Caribbean Women Irune del Rio Gabiola, 2016-12-27 Resistant Bodies in the Cultural Productions of Transnational Hispanic Caribbean Women: Reimagining Queer Identity examines the art created by several Caribbean women who use literature, film, graphic novels, music, testimonios, photographs etc to convey social justice, democracy and new ways of re-imagining marginal identities. In using Chela Sandoval's theories on methodologies of the oppressed, Irune del Rio Gabiola argues how the tactics Sandoval offers can be productively applied to the cultural productions analyzed. The author explores how the protagonists of all the cultural productions in this book focus on developing tactics to create new possibilities and alternatives for self-fashioning. Particularly, del Rio Gabiola reconsiders concepts such as shame, failure, unbecoming, hermeneutics of love or flexible bodies as methodologies of the oppressed that propose decolonizing, emancipatory techniques in a transnational arena. Australian Muslim Women's Borderland Subjectivities Lutfiye Ali, 2024-01-19 This book claims a discursive space in academic scholarship for knowledges and ways of knowing that capture the diversity complexity and full humanness of Australian Muslim women s subjectivities It draws on in depth conversational interviews with 20 Australian Muslim women from various ethnic backgrounds during which the women shared their experiences of being at the crossroads of their religious gendered racialised and ethnic identities The book puts forward a decolonial feminist border methodology by weaving the work of decolonial feminist philosophers Maria Lugones and Gloria Anzald a with postmodern feminist thinking on subjectivity and with discourse analysis This methodology is used to centre and attend to the fluidity and plurality of Muslim women s subjectivities at the intersections of race ethnicity patriarchy gender sexuality and Islam

Sanders Tyson Seburn Keiko Tsuchiya and David Valente The Power of Clinical Preparation in Teacher Education Ryan Flessner, Debra R. Lecklider, 2017-09-08 Preparing teachers to work in our nation's classrooms presents an array of challenges for teacher educators. Recently organizations such as the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education (AACTE), the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE), and the Council of Chief State School Officers (CCSSO) released reports calling for change supporting clinical teacher preparation and encouraging links between university faculty, clinical faculty, P-12 educators, and pre-service teachers. This book, as well as its companion text Case Studies of Clinical Preparation in Teacher Education: An Examination of Three Teacher Preparation Partnerships, responds to calls for change in teacher education. Sponsored by the Association of Teacher Educators (ATE) and its Commission on Clinically Based Teacher Preparation, the book includes program descriptions, theoretical frameworks, and research studies initiated in response to Dr. Nancy Zimpher's keynote speech at ATE's 2011 Annual Meeting. The Commission on Clinically Based Teacher Preparation set out to identify exemplary programs of teacher education, promising practices within those programs, and research related to the programs' clinical practices. This text represents the Commission's findings.

Gender Dynamics and Post-conflict Reconstruction Christine Eifler, Ruth Seifert, 2009 This volume by international authors deals with the role of gender dynamics in the development of post-conflict societies. The authors describe and analyze diverse aspects of the intertwining of gender and other social and cultural relations from an interdisciplinary perspective. Risk-Taking in Higher Education Ryan Kelty, Bridget A. Bunten, 2017-03-08 Risk-taking is foundational to the structure and goals of higher education. Encouraging students to consider new, diverse, even uncomfortable ideas is needed to develop a critically informed view of the world and establish one's own values and beliefs. Yet students and parents are increasingly averse to risk-taking in higher education, a shift evidenced by calls for colleges and universities to provide an education that shelters students from diverse and potentially controversial ideas and topics. This tension over the necessary role of risk-taking in higher education represents a critical moment for American education. This volume includes authors from numerous academic disciplines to emphasize both the importance of risk-taking across higher education and to highlight the varied approaches to incorporate risk-taking into classroom practices. The authors' collective works in this volume reaffirm the critical need to reject intellectual coddling and commodification in the college classroom and to promote intellectual risk-taking as an essential aspect of higher education. Sustained systematic emphasis on risk-taking in higher education is key to promoting innovation, critical thinking, life-long learning, and moral/ethical development.
