FLUX: All Nelson shear connectors have a solid flux load.

Nelson studs deliver code specified shear strength values as used in composite construction, securing concrete to steel structural components.

Headed anchors are widely use in precast, cast in place or composite steel construction for miscellaneous embedded plates, frames, curbing, attachments and connections.

Shear connectors are typically used in composite steel construction for holding concrete slabs to steel members to resist shear forces and increase shear loading capacity in steel buildings, bridges, columns caissons, containment liners, etc. They also act as embedment anchors on miscellaneous embedded plates, frames, angles, strip plates, attachments and connections. Options for Welding Through Metal Deck are available for all studs.

Meador,2012-12-06 This book is an outgrowth of a much earlier book Farm Structures by H J Barre and L L Sammet published by John Wiley it might be difficult for instructors and students to cover all of the chapters in a typical three credit hour course The instructor will need to assess his own situation and scheduling constraints More or less time could be spent on chapters one through five depending on the capability the students already have in analysis of statically determinate and indeterminate structures Two to three weeks might then be allocated for study of each of the last six chapters dealing with design in steel reinforced concrete and wood Steel-Concrete Composite Structures R. Narayanan,1988-12-31 This is a collection of ten extensive review chapters by different authors Western Construction ,1957 Constructional Steel Design P.J. Dowling,R. Bjorhovde,J.
