The Golden Passport Kristin Surak, 2023-09-19 Kristin Surak offers the first on the ground investigation of the global market in citizenship for the rich She tracks the countries that sell citizenship the elites who buy it and the intermediaries who make the market revealing how citizenship by investment became a popular option that now accounts for over 50 000 naturalizations annually

Ingenious Citizenship Charles T. Lee, 2016-02-05 In Ingenious Citizenship Charles T. Lee centers the daily experiences and actions of migrant domestic workers sex workers transgender people and suicide bombers in his rethinking of mainstream models of social change Bridging cultural and political theory with analyses of film literature and ethnographic sources Lee shows how these abject populations find ingenious and improvisational ways to disrupt and appropriate practices of liberal citizenship When voting and other forms of civic engagement are unavailable or ineffective the subversive acts of a domestic worker breaking a dish or a prostitute using the strategies and language of an entrepreneur challenge the accepted norms of political action Taken to the extreme a young Palestinian woman blowing herself up in a Jerusalem supermarket questions two of liberal citizenship's most cherished values life and liberty Using these examples to critically reinterpret political agency citizenship practices and social transformation Lee reveals the limits of organizing change around a human rights discourse Moreover his subjects offer crucial lessons in how to turn even the worst conditions and the most unstable positions in society into footholds for transformative and democratic agency

Feminists Rethink the Neoliberal State Leela Fernandes, 2018-01-23 A rich set of feminist perspectives on the varied and often contradictory nature of state practices structures and ideologies Growing socio economic inequality and exclusion are defining features of the twenty first century While debates on globalization free trade and economic development have been linked to the paradigm of neo liberalism it does not explain all the forms of social change that have been unfolding in comparative contexts Feminists Rethink the Neoliberal State provides a timely intervention into discussions about the boundaries practices and nature of the post liberalization state suggesting that an understanding of economic policies the corresponding rise of socio economic inequality and the possibilities for change requires an in depth reconceptualization Drawing on original field research both globally and within the United States this volume brings together a rich set of perspectives on the varied and often contradictory nature of state practices structures and ideologies in the post liberalization era The essays develop an interdisciplinary approach that treats an understanding of historically specific forms of inequality such as gender race caste sexuality and class as integral to rather than as after effects of the policies and ideologies associated with the neoliberal project The volume also tackles central questions on the restructuring of the state the state s power operations the relationship between capital and the state and its interactions with the institutions and organizational forms of civil society in the post liberalization era As such Feminists Rethink the Neoliberal State examines both what is distinctive about this post liberalization state and what must be contextualized as long standing features of modern state power A truly international and interdisciplinary volume Feminists Rethink the Neoliberal State deepens our understanding of how policies of economic liberalization shape and produce various forms of inequality Neoliberal

Governance and International Medical Travel in Malaysia Meghann Ormond,2013-03-05 International medical travel IMT people crossing national borders in the pursuit of healthcare has become a growing phenomenon With many of the countries currently being promoted as IMT destinations located in the developing world IMT poses a significant challenge to popular assumptions about who provides and receives care since it inverts and diversifies presumed directionalities of care This book analyses the development of international medical travel in Malaysia by looking at the benefits and challenges of providing health care to non Malaysians It challenges embedded assumptions about the sources directions and political value of care The author situates the Malaysian case study material at the fruitful cross section of a range of literatures on transnational mobility hospitality therapeutic landscapes and medical diplomacy to examine their roles in the construction of national identity The book thus contributes to wider debates that have emerged around the changing character of global health governance and is of use to students and scholars of Southeast Asian Studies as well as Politics and Health and Social Care The SAGE Handbook of Cultural Anthropology Lene Pedersen,Lisa Cliggett,2021-03-31 The SAGE Handbook of Cultural Anthropology is an essential resource for social scientists globally and contains a rich body of chapters on all major topics relevant to the field whilst also presenting a possible road map for the future of the field Properties of Rent

Sushmita Pati,2022-08-25 It is a study of two of Delhi s urban villages and their transition into contemporary urban political economy through rent The Discourse of Neoliberalism Simon Springer,2016-07-29 Why should we be worried about neoliberalism if we are not able to fully appreciate its deleterious effects How can we fully appreciate its intricacies and power without attending to and seeking to potentially reconcile the various critical theorizations of how it actually operates The Discourse of Neoliberalism offers a critical political economy meets poststructuralist perspective on the relationship between neoliberalism and power By advancing a geographical approach to understanding the discursive formations and material consequences of neoliberalism the book exposes how processes of neoliberalization are shot through with violence It argues that reading neoliberalism as a discourse better equips us to understand the power of this variegated economic formation as an expansive process of social spatial transformation that is intimately bound up with the production of poverty inequality and violence across the globe It illuminates the vital and ongoing power of neoliberalism in order to open up a critical space for thinking through how life beyond neoliberalism might be achieved Adorno and the Architects of Late Style in India Tania Roy, 2021-03-11 In the postcolonial world the claim to an emancipated national culture was bound to its aesthetic correlate the unfolding time and experiments of the twentieth century novel Today the constructs of both novel and a progressivist national project function in all their closures within global scales of economic disparity and violent exclusion What is the fate of a literary canon when it is no longer capable of delineating a future or otherwise is bound to reproduce the failures of the past within its own inscriptions How do we experience our current globalist moment when lived inequities of gender labour and ethnicity emerge in a text's inability to speak on time When does artistic or literary failure become the measure of a work's accomplishment And what sort of liberation is envisioned by works that refuse the imperatives of progress and independence which embrace the appearance of obsolescence by rejecting values of artistic freedom originality and innovation These are some of the provocations that arise from T W Adorno's idea of late style for our own conjuncture a properly postcolonial context in which every conceptual or expressive engagement is articulated through an awareness of eroded national promise Examining works by Rabindranath Tagore Mulk Raj Anand Vikram Seth and the photography of Dayanita Singh Tania Roy examines the delayed claims of literary and artistic modernity in India through Adorno's category of late style In striking readings of Adorno and his interlocutors the book extends a poetics of lateness toward a speculative history of the twentieth century novel in India Comprised of critically neglected selections from the oeuvres of canonical writers Adorno and the Architects of Late Style in India proposes that under conditions of advanced capitalism logics of redundancy overtake the novel's foundational reference point in the nation to produce altered frames of thought and sensibility and therein a reader who might encounter anew the figures of an unfulfilled twentieth century European Populism and Human Rights Jure Vidmar, 2020-02-03 This volume focuses on the recent challenge posed by right wing populism to democratic consolidation in Europe and particularly explores the legal dimensions of this challenge Part One attempts to define political populism and explains why it poses a challenge to democratic political order in Europe Part Two examines the theoretical underpinnings of the populist challenge to human rights and democracy in Europe Part Three applies this theory to concrete examples and considers case studies including an old EU Member State two newer EU Member States and a non EU Member State party to the ECHR The aim is to examine the consequences of the present populist challenge in Europe that has been marked with excessively nationalist policies in some states party to the ECHR It is explored how the Convention rights have been undermined but also what the limitations are of the ECHR acting as a safety net for democratic consolidation in Europe Neoliberal Indigenous Policy Elizabeth Strakosch, 2016-02-05 This book examines recent changes to Indigenous policy in English speaking settler states and locates them within the broader shift from social to neo liberal framings of citizen state relations via a case study of Australian federal policy between 2000 and 2007 Neoliberalism and Race Lars Cornelissen, 2025-10-14 Lars Cornelissen argues that the category of race constitutes an organizing principle of neoliberal ideology. Using the methods of intellectual history and drawing on insights from critical race studies, Cornelissen explores the various racial constructs that structure neoliberal ideology, some of which are explicit while others are more coded. Beginning in the interwar period and running through to recent developments, Neoliberalism and Race shows that racial themes have always pervaded neoliberal thinking. The book's key argument is that neoliberal thought is constitutively racialized; its racial motifs cannot be extracted from neoliberalism without rendering it theoretically and politically incoherent. The book aptly explores a wide variety of racial constructs through the structure of neoliberal ideology, deconstructing the conceptualizations in the works of landmark thinkers such as Ludwig von Mises, Friedrich Hayek, Peter Bauer, Thomas Sowell, Charles Murray, and others from the early twentieth century to the present. In this original, perhaps controversial critique, Cornelissen asserts that neoliberal thinkers were not just the passive recipients of racial discourse but also directly impacted it.
