 Twan Geerts, Ivo van Ginneken, Haike Jacobs, 2005-11-08 The annual Going Romance conference is the major European discussion forum for theoretically relevant research on Romance languages where current ideas about language in general and about Romance languages in particular are tested Starting with the thirteenth conference held in 1999 volumes with selected papers of the conferences are published under the title Romance Languages and Linguistic Theory This is the fifth such volume containing a selection of papers that have been presented at the seventeenth Going Romance conference held at the Radboud University Nijmegen The Netherlands from 20-22 November 2003 The three day program included a workshop on Diachronic Phonology The present volume contains a broad range of articles dealing not only with syntax and phonology but also with morphology semantics and acquisition of the Romance languages The Oxford Guide to the Romance Languages Adam Ledgeway, Martin Maiden, 2016 The Oxford Guide to the Romance Languages is the most exhaustive treatment of the Romance languages available today Leading international scholars adopt a variety of theoretical frameworks and approaches to offer a detailed structural examination of all the individual Romance varieties and Romance speaking areas including standard non standard dialectal and regional varieties of the Old and New Worlds The book also offers a comprehensive comparative account of major topics issues and case studies across different areas of the grammar of the Romance languages The volume is organized into 10 thematic parts Parts 1 and 2 deal with the making of the Romance languages and their typology and classification respectively Part 3 is devoted to individual structural overviews of Romance languages dialects and linguistic areas while Part 4 provides comparative overviews of Romance phonology morphology syntax semantics and pragmatics and sociolinguistics Chapters in Parts 5-9 examine issues in Romance phonology morphology syntax semantics and pragmatics and discourse respectively while the final part contains case studies of topics in the nominal group verbal group and the clause The book will be an essential resource for both Romance specialists and everyone with an interest in Indo European and comparative linguistics Vowel Length From Latin to Romance Michele Loporcaro, 2015-07-31 This book investigates the changes that affected vowel length during the development of Latin into the Romance languages and dialects. In Latin, vowel length was contrastive, e.g. pila ball vs pila pile, like English bit vs beat, but no modern Romance language has retained that same contrast. However, many non-standard Romance dialects as well as French up to the early 20th century have developed novel vowel length contrasts, which are investigated in detail here. Unlike previous studies of this phenomenon, this book combines detailed historical evidence spanning three millennia, as attested by extant texts, with extensive data from present-day Romance varieties collected from first-hand fieldwork, which are subjected to both phonological and experimental phonetic analysis. Professor Loporcaro puts forward a detailed account of the loss of contrastive vowel length in late Latin, showing that this happened through the establishment of a process which lengthened all stressed vowels in open syllables, as in modern Italian casa ka sa. His analysis has implications for many of the most widely debated issues relating to the origin of novel vowel length contrasts in Romance, which are also shown to have been preserved to different degrees in different areas. The detailed investigation of the rise and fall of vowel length in dozens of lesser-known non-standard varieties is crucial in understanding the development of this aspect of Romance historical phonology and will be of interest not only to researchers and students in comparative Romance linguistics but also more generally to phonologists and those interested in historical linguistics beyond the Latin Romance language family.
