Social Reading Cultures on BookTube, Bookstagram, and BookTok Bronwyn Reddan, Leonie Rutherford, Amy Schoonens, Michael Dezuanni, 2024-04-30 This book examines the reading cultures developed by communities of readers and book lovers on BookTube Bookstagram and BookTok as an increasingly important influence on contemporary book and literary culture It explores how the affordances of social media platforms invite readers to participate in social reading communities and engage in creative and curatorial practices that express their identity as readers and book lovers The interdisciplinary team of authors argue that by creating new opportunities for readers to engage in social reading practices bookish social media has elevated the agency and visibility of readers and book consumers within literary culture It has also reshaped the cultural and economic dynamics of book recommendations by creating a space in which different actors are able to form an identity as mediators of reading culture Concise and accessible this introduction to an increasingly central set of literary practices is essential reading for students and scholars of literature sociology media and cultural studies as well as teachers and professionals in the book and library industries The Digital Future of English Simone Murray, 2025-07-18 More than any other academic discipline literary studies is the creation of print culture How then can it thrive in the digital era Early 1990s predictions of the book's imminent demise presented a simplistic either/or choice between the legacy of moribund print and triumphalist digital technology Yet we have grown to experience the two media as complexly interdependent and even complementary Clearly digital does not kill print But literary studies in the digital era cannot simply resume business as usual It is urgently necessary to reconsider the discipline's founding assumptions in light of digital technology The digital era prompts a rethinking of literary studies' object of study as well as its methods theories audiences and pedagogical practices What counts as literature necessarily shifts in an age of proliferating born-digital texts and do-it-yourself/DIY online publication Where should literary studies sit institutionally and how might it graft contextually oriented social sciences methods onto its traditionally humanistic mode of textual analysis Why should literary study continue to marginalize emotional responses to texts when online communities bond via readerly affect Who is the audience for literary criticism in an age where expertise is routinely challenged yet communication with global book-loving publics has never been technologically easier Finally how can we utilize digital tools to rejuvenate literary studies pedagogy and help English staff better connect with millennial-age students Literary studies has been convulsed for decades by debates over electronic literature and more recently digitally aided distant reading But these discussions still mostly confine themselves to demarcating our proper object of study We need to think more expansively about digital technology's impact on the underpinning tenets of the discipline Literary Media Studies is pitched at fellow literary scholars book historians media theorists cultural sociologists digital humanists and those working at the interface of these converging disciplines It models constructive engagement with contemporary digital culture Most importantly it brings a burst of sorely needed optimism to

The Compassionate Imagination Max Wyman, 2023-08-26 A radical reimagining of the role of art and culture in contemporary democracy The Compassionate Imagination proposes a new Canadian Cultural Contract that re-humanizes our way of living together by tapping into the instincts for generosity and compassion that find their expression in art Over the last forty years the arts have been increasingly deemed unimportant to the creation of an educated workforce Reflecting a broadly held political view that in a market based economy the arts were a frill they were deemed unnecessary courses compared to sciences technology engineering and mathematics But what kind of Canada might we make if we were to place art and culture at the heart of our mutual decision making and return the arts to a central position in our education shifting to steam rather than stem What might be possible if we integrate the creative imagination into our responses to the great social challenges we face What impact would it have on the future shape of our democracy It s time to find where the Compassionate Imagination can take us

Atravesados: Essays on Queer Latinx Young Adult Literature shows how Latinx queer YA writers discard the same old story and offer critical representations of queerness that broaden YA writing and insist on the presence of queer teens of color

Atravesados draws on foundational Chicana queer theorist Gloria Anzald a s notion of atravesados to speak to the spectrum of queer youth Latinidades as they materialize in YA literature

Los atravesados according to Anzald a are the squint eyed the perverse the queer the troublesome the mongrel the mulato the half breed the half dead in short those who cross over pass over or through the confines of the normal

Los atravesados reside in the borderlands space of ni de aqu ni de all neither here nor there present yet liminal their queerness the very source of both frustration and empowerment a paradox of joy and tragedy

Although written in 1987 Anzald a s theory speaks to the realities of queer Latinx teens that fill the pages of YA literature well into the twenty first century

Characters such as Juliet from Gabby Rivera s Juliet Takes a Breath Aaron from Adam Silvera s More Happy Than Not or the titular Chulito from Charles Rice Gonzales s novel encompass the highs lows and everything in betweenness of queer Latinx teen lived experiences

This collection tells their stories

Contributors speak to the spectrum of queer youth Latinidades as they materialize in YA literature paying close attention to representation and the ways youth are portrayed whether accurate or stereotypical
