Rational Powers in Action Sergio Tenenbaum, 2020-11-05 Human actions unfold over time in pursuit of ends that are not fully specified in advance Rational Powers in Action locates these features of the human condition at the heart of a new theory of instrumental rationality Where many theories of rational agency focus on instantaneous choices between sharply defined outcomes treating the temporally extended and partially open ended character of action as an afterthought this book

argues that the deep structure of instrumental rationality can only be understood if we see how it governs the pursuit of long term indeterminate ends These are ends that cannot be realized through a single momentary action and whose content leaves partly open what counts as realizing the end Sergio Tenenbaum argues that we need to focus on temporal duration and the indeterminacy of ends in intentional action even to explain the rational governance of relatively simple actions Theories of moment by moment preference maximization or indeed any understanding of instrumental rationality on the basis of momentary mental items cannot capture the fundamental structure of our instrumentally rational capacities Tenenbaum provides a new theory of instrumental rationality as rationality in action

Literary Studies and Human Flourishing James F. English, Heather Love, 2023 The Humanities and Human Flourishing series publishes edited volumes that explore the role of human flourishing in the central disciplines of the humanities and whether and how the humanities can increase human happiness The contributors to this volume of essays investigate the question what do literary scholars contribute to social scientific research on human happiness and flourishing Of all humanities disciplines none is more resistant to the program of positive psychology or the prevailing discourse of human flourishing than literary studies The approach taken in this volume of essays is neither to gloss over that antagonism nor to launch a series of blasts against positive psychology and the happiness industry Rather the contributors reflect on how their literary research work to which they are personally committed might become part of an interdisciplinary conversation about human flourishing The contributors areas of research are wide ranging covering literary aesthetics book history digital humanities and reader reception as well as the important inter disciplines of gender and sexuality studies disability studies and black studies fields in which issues of stigma and exclusion are paramount and which have critiqued the discourse of human flourishing for its failure to grapple with structural inequality and human difference Literary scholars are drawn more readily to the problematic than to the decidable but by dwelling on the trouble spots in a field of inquiry still largely confined to the sciences Literary Studies and Human Flourishing provides the groundwork for new and more productive forms of interdisciplinary collaboration and exchange
