Game On Susan F. Paterno, 2021-06-15 Director of the Chapman journalism program and mother of four recent college grads Susan F Paterno leads you through the admissions process to help you and your family make the best decision possible How is it possible that Harvard is more affordable for most American families than their local state university Or that up to half of eligible students receive no financial aid Or that public universities are rejecting homegrown middle and working class applicants and instead enrolling wealthy out of state students College admission has escalated into a high stakes game of emotional and financial survival How is the deck stacked against you And what can you do about it Susan F Paterno a veteran academic and journalist answers these questions and more in Game On Paterno helped her four very different kids navigate the application process to a wide range of colleges paying for their four year educations on a finite budget She incisively decodes the college admission industry the consultants the tutors the rankers the branding companies hawking advantage and arms you with the knowledge you need to make the system work for you You ll learn how to narrow your focus analyze who gets in and why and look for the right financial fit before considering anything else including geography reputation and especially ranking Among the tools and insights in Game On Why forty years of failed free market policies have led to skyrocketing tuition and historic levels of student debt Why applying to college has become a bewildering maze and how to find your way to a successful result Why college costs are more terrifying than you think How to read beyond the rack rate to negotiate the best financial package with the least debt Why merit is a myth but merit aid is essential The difference between family debt and student debt and how to split it A playbook for the Hunger Games of higher education Game On explains the anxiety uncertainty and chaos in college admission explodes the myth of meritocracy exposes the academy s connection to America s widening gap between rich and poor and provides strategies to beat and reform a broken system

The Entrepreneurial University Lene Foss, David Gibson, 2015-05-22 Global recessions and structural economic shifts are motivating government and business leaders worldwide to increasingly look to their universities to stimulate regional development and to contribute to national competitiveness The challenge is clear and the question is pressing How will universities respond This book presents in depth case narratives of ten universities from Norway Finland Sweden UK and the U S that have overcome significant challenges to develop programs and activities to commercialize scientific research launch entrepreneurial degree programs establish industry partnerships and build entrepreneurial cultures and ecosystems The universities are quite diverse large and small teaching and research focused internationally recognized and relatively new located in major cities and in emerging regions

Each case narrative describes challenges overcome actions taken and resulting accomplishments This volume will be of interest to policymakers and university administrators as well as researchers and students interested in how different programs and activities can promote university entrepreneurship while contributing to economic growth in developed and developing economies University Rankings, Diversity, and the New Landscape of Higher Education, 2019-02-18

University rankings are a relatively new phenomenon in higher education Although quite an established practice in the U S it is only within the last decade that attempts to analyse university performance have spread to the rest of the world and that we also have seen new global rankings appear rankings attempting to measure university performance beyond national borders No wonder that this trend is accompanied by a growing interest in studying rankings throughout the world This book is written as part of the effort to better understand rankings and their effects on higher education A serious approach towards university rankings implies that rankings should be analysed properly including the methods used and the indicators chosen and investigate the objectives claimed If university rankings are considered as consumer information then everyone should have an interest in basing such guidance on valid and reliable data and methodology A serious analysis should also discuss the wider implications of rankings as an emerging phenomenon in higher education Consequently the contributions to this book investigate and analyse how different rankings work how they reach their conclusions and on what data and methodology they are built Furthermore it provides a critical reflection about the impact of rankings on higher education how and in what way rankings influence policy making the structure of the sector or the internal life of the sector A

Mitchell

Reyes,2010-06-09 Scholars across the humanities and social sciences who study public memory study the ways that groups of people collectively remember the past One motivation for such study is to understand how collective identities at the local regional and national level emerge and why those collective identities often lead to conflict Public Memory Race and Ethnicity contributes to this rapidly evolving scholarly conversation by taking into consideration the influence of race and ethnicity on our collective practices of remembrance How do the ways we remember the past influence racial and ethnic identities How do racial and ethnic identities shape our practices of remembrance Public Memory Race and Ethnicity brings together nine provocative critical investigations that address these questions and others regarding the role of public memory in the formation of racial and ethnic identities in the United States The book is organized chronologically Part I addresses the politics of public memory in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries focusing on how immigrants who found themselves in a strange new world used memory to assimilate on the interplay of ethnicity and patriarchy in early monumental representations of Sacagawea and on the use of memory and forgetting to negotiate labor and racial tensions in an industrial steel town Part II attends to the dynamics of memory and forgetting during and after World War II examining the problems of remembrance as they are related to Japanese internment the strategies of remembrance surrounding important events of the Civil Rights Movement and the institutional use of memory and tradition to normalize whiteness and control human behavior Part III focuses on race and remembrance in the late twentieth and early twenty first centuries analyzing Walter Mosley s use of memory in his literary work to challenge racial norms President George W Bush s strategies of remembrance in his 2006 address to the NAACP and the problems of memory and racial representation in the aftermath of the Katrina disaster Taken together the essays in this volume often speak to each other in remarkable ways and one can begin to see in their progression the transformation of race relations in America since the nineteenth century

Gender Equity in STEM in Higher Education Hyun Kyoung Ro, Frank Fernandez, Elizabeth Ramon, 2021-07-11 This timely volume brings together a range of international scholars to analyse cultural political and individual factors which contribute to the continued global issue of female underrepresentation in STEM study and careers Offering a comparative approach to examining gender equity in STEM fields across countries including the UK Germany the United States Hong Kong Taiwan South Africa and China the volume provides a thematic breakdown of institutional trends and national policies that have successfully improved gender equity in STEM at institutions of higher education Offering case studies that demonstrate how policies interact with changing social and cultural norms and impact women s choices and experiences in relation to the uptake and continuation of STEM study at the undergraduate level the volume highlights new directions for research and policy to promote gender equity in STEM at school university and career levels Contributing to the United Nations UN 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development this text will benefit researchers academics and educators with an interest in science education higher education and gender equity in STEM fields The text will also support further discussion and reflection around multicultural education educational policy and politics and the sociology of education more broadly
