Improving Literacy in the Primary School R. P. Chamberlin, G. S. Haynes, E. C. Wragg, Prof E C Wragg, 2005-07-28

One of the most important challenges teachers face is making sure children can read. It is an absolutely crucial skill and current educational policy is giving it a very high priority. Based on one of the largest studies ever undertaken of what primary schools do to improve literacy, this book reports what Professor Ted Wragg and his research team found. The importance placed on literacy has never been greater. When children learn to read, they are laying the foundations for their entire educational future. Effective teachers can make a huge difference as a poor start can hinder children throughout their schooling and beyond. By looking at what actually goes on in classrooms, this volume provides an invaluable insight into what happens to children and how their reading progresses. It shows how particular teachers manage the improvement of their pupils' reading levels and also follows individual pupils through a school year. This is a very readable account of a fascinating and crucial area of research that is highly topical. Every class teacher should read it. Catalog of Copyright Entries.

In the globalized world under rapidly developing conditions of the digital economy, it is almost impossible to keep pace with the multi-dimensional informational flow that appears daily on the Internet and in real life. Scientists whose papers and researches are dedicated to the innovation issues, their different types, life cycles, evaluation of effectiveness and practical applicability, all of them agreed on the appearance of so-called unclassifiable digital innovations. We have to be precise with this definition. First, digital innovations have penetrated inside all spheres of life and business nowadays. It is impossible to make any operation without using modern advanced technologies; actually, they are traced from being advanced not so far till usual adapted everyday. And the main criterion making innovations everyday is the time. Whether it's the simplest operation of searching for a geographical location, the operation of buying or selling, the simplest transaction, communication or the complicated operation of managing a business based on the business modeling, the use of modern marketing digital technologies, modeling of the ecological future and building long-term forecasts, all of the above mentioned requires Internet usage, modern devices or other smart technologies. Thus, such variety of activity leads to complexity of digital innovation classification. Second, digital space is unlimited and unlimited by its nature that results just in generalization of common categorical directions. Third, each process, activity or even action takes place in a concrete condition. It should be said, world economy transits to a personalized level, i.e. move from macro via meso throughout of micro to the digitally behavioral economics. That is why, in our opinion, it is difficult to classify digital innovations. Nowadays, it is not a top secret that with rapid digitalization, paces governments miss effective tools of regulation or intervention. More and more scientific publications, personal blogs and journalistic reports expose the problem of government insolvency in its intervention policies. and the unjustifiedness of their actions Neoclassic neo monetarist neo institutional and other neo economic theories are unable to explain today s rapidly changing situation around the globe They have exhausted themselves there is no panacea that can revive the mega economies of the highly developed countries that are sluggishly falling into the recession
