Valuing forest ecosystem services: a training manual for planners and project developers Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2019-02-28 The degradation of ecosystems, including forests, and the associated loss of biodiversity, particularly due to human-induced threats and climate change, has gained increased attention from scientists and policymakers. The Millennium Ecosystem Assessment presented a new conceptual framework that puts ecosystem services at the centre and links human well-being to the impacts on ecosystems of changes in natural resources. The Economics of Ecosystems and Biodiversity initiative drew further attention to the economic benefits of conserving ecosystems and biodiversity, supporting the idea that economic instruments, if appropriately applied, developed and interpreted, can inform policy and decision-making processes. Only a few ecosystem services, however, have explicit market value and are traded in open markets; many, especially those categorized as having passive use value, remain invisible and are rarely accounted for in traditional economic systems. The failure to appropriately consider the full economic value of ecosystem services in decision-making enables the continued degradation and loss of ecosystems and biodiversity. Most ecosystem services are considered public goods and tend to be overexploited by society. Many methods have been applied to the economic valuation of ecosystem services. The use of these methods, as well as the interpretation of their results, requires familiarity with the ecological, political, normative, and socio-economic context and the science of economics. Recognizing, demonstrating, and capturing the value of ecosystem services can play an important role in setting policy directions for ecosystem management and conservation, and thus in increasing the provision of ecosystem services and their contributions to human well-being. The aim of this manual is to enhance understanding of ecosystem services and their valuation. The specific target group comprises governmental officers in planning units and field-level officers and practitioners in key government departments in Bangladesh responsible for project development, including the Ministry of Environment and Forests and its agencies. Most of the examples and case studies presented herein, therefore, are tailored to the Bangladesh context, but the general concepts, approaches, and methods can be applied to a broad spectrum of situations. This manual focuses on valuing forest-related ecosystem services including those provided by trees outside forests It is expected to improve valuation efforts and help ensure the better use of such values in policymaking and decision making Among other things the manual explores the basics of financial mathematics e g the time value of money discounting cost benefit analysis and profitability and risk indicators the main methods of economic valuation examples of the valuation of selected ecosystem services and inputs for considering values in decision making Practical Guide to ICP-MS Robert Thomas,2013-04-25 Written by a field insider with over 20 years experience in product development application support and field marketing for an ICP MS manufacturer the third edition of Practical Guide to ICP MS A Tutorial for Beginners provides an updated reference that was written specifically with the novice in mind It presents a compelling story about ICP MS and what it has to offer showing this powerful ultra trace element technique in the way it was intended a practical solution to real world problems New to the third edition New chapter Emerging ICP MS Application Areas covers the three most rapidly growing areas analysis of flue gas desulfurization wastewaters fully automated analysis of seawater samples using online chemistry procedures and characterization of engineered nanoparticles Discussion of all the new technology commercialized since the second edition An updated glossary of terms with more than 100 new entries Examination of nonstandard sampling accessories which are important for enhancing the practical capabilities of ICP MS Insight into additional applications in the environmental clinical biomedical and food chemistry fields as well as new directives from the United States Pharmacopeia USP on determining impurities in pharmaceuticals and dietary supplements using Chapters 232 233 and 2232 Description of the most important analytical factors for selecting an ICP MS system taking into consideration more recent application demands This reference describes the principles and application benefits of ICP MS in a clear manner for laboratory managers analytical chemists and technicians who have limited knowledge of the technique In addition it offers much needed guidance on how best to evaluate capabilities and compare with other trace element techniques when looking to purchase commercial ICP MS instrumentation
