Green Computing for Sustainable Development Niharika Singh, Thipendra P Singh, Amar Ramdane-Cherif, Ravi Tomar, Richa Choudhary, 2025-06-30

Green computing is a revolutionary technique that addresses environmental sustainability. It uses an eco friendly approach to the design, manufacture and use of computing resources. This is achieved by cutting down on electronic waste, using renewable energy sources and consuming less energy. Recyclable materials with minimal environmental impact, software engineering techniques that are optimized and energy efficient hardware are examples of many approaches. Advanced technologies such as low power processors, smart grids and virtualized computing environments contribute to energy efficiency and waste reduction. Furthermore, integrating green computing with renewable energy sources amplifies its positive impact on the environment. The adoption of green computing practices promotes a circular economy, encourages resource conservation and supports climate action.

Green Computing for Sustainable Development features chapters that explore issues that are concerned with furthering sustainability and green computing. Highlights include the following:

- Neuro symbolic green computing combining neural networks learning abilities with symbolic AI's logical reasoning while promoting environmentally friendly practices.
- Energy efficient data management resource provisioning and the importance of monitoring carbon footprints.
- The intersection of green computing and wildlife conservation highlighting how energy efficient technologies can revolutionize conservation efforts.
- The integration of geospatial information systems GIS and remote sensing RS as innovative solutions for sustainable development.
- The role of information and communication technology ICT in promoting health and well being.
- The importance of green computing due to growing environmental concerns related to information technology.
- The integration of AI in sustainable farming practices.
- The synergy between green computing practices and economic growth in achieving sustainable development.
- The integration of green computing with e waste management to tackle environmental challenges in the IT sector.
- How the green Internet of Things IoT is transforming smart city development by integrating ecological awareness and sustainability into urban planning.
