Peter Gonzales, 2002 Rethinking Free Trade, Economic Integration and Human Rights in the Americas María Belén Olmos Giupponi, 2017-01-26 This monograph offers the first systematic overview of the protection of human rights in trade agreements in the Americas Traditionally trade agreements in the Americas were concerned with economic questions and paid little attention to human rights However in the wake of the new regionalism which emerged at the end of the last century more clauses addressing social issues such as labour rights and environmental standards were inserted in trade agreements As economic integration increased a framework for the protection of human rights evolved This book argues that this framework allows for human rights protection on a transnational level while constructing regional identities Looking at the four key regional integration processes namely the Caribbean Community the Central American Integration System the Andean Community of Nations and the Southern Common Market and also at the North American Free Trade Agreement it shows how the integration process has reached a considerable degree of consolidation Writing on key sources in English for the first time this book will be essential reading for all free trade and human rights scholars Handbuch der Dritten Welt:

International Court Authority Mikael Rask

Madsen, 2018-06-21 An innovative interdisciplinary and far reaching examination of the actual reality of international courts International Court Authority challenges fundamental preconceptions about when why and how international courts become important and authoritative actors in national regional and international politics A stellar group of scholars investigate the challenges that international courts face in transforming the formal legal authority conferred by states into an actual authority in fact that is respected by potential litigants national actors legal communities and publics Alter Helfer and Madsen provide a novel framework for conceptualizing international court authority that focuses on the reactions and practices of these key audiences Eighteen scholars from the disciplines of law political science and sociology apply this framework to study thirteen international courts operating in Africa Latin America and Europe as well as on a global level Together the contributors document and explore important and interesting variations in whether the audiences that interact with international courts around the world embrace or reject the rulings of these judicial institutions Alter Helfer and Madsen's authority framework recognizes that international judges can and often do everything they should do to ensure that their rulings possess the gravitas and stature that national courts enjoy. Yet even when imbued with these characteristics the parties to the dispute, potential future litigants and the broader set of actors that monitor and respond to the court's activities may fail to acknowledge the rulings as binding or take meaningful steps to modify their behaviour in response to them. For both specific judicial institutions and more generally the book documents and explains why most international courts possess de facto authority that is partial, variable and highly dependent on a range of different audiences and contexts and thus is highly fragile. An introduction situates the book's unique approach to conceptualizing international court authority within theoretical debates about the authority of global institutions. International Court Authority also includes critical reflections on the authority framework from legal theorists, international relations scholars, a philosopher and an anthropologist. The book's conclusion questions a number of widely shared assumptions about how social and political contexts facilitate or undermine international courts in developing de facto authority and political power.

The Pertinence of Caricom in the 21st Century: Some Perspectives Hon. Prof. Sir Kenneth O. Hall, 2012-09-14 The papers in this editor's choice from among the many articles, books and other commentaries that have provided clear and reasoned responses and solutions to inform and guide our leaders in the creation of a Community for All. The publication posits that the time has come for the citizens of the Caribbean Community to be brought formally into the process that directly affects them and their capacity to live better lives. It advocates the need for them to be informed and educated so that they can better appreciate what benefits Community membership has brought them. Armed with such information they will be better equipped to take increasingly more positive action in their collective interest.

The CARIFORUM-EU Economic Partnership Agreement Americo Beviglia Zampetti, Lodge, Junior, 2011-01-01 The CARIFORUM-EU Economic Partnership Agreement is a sui generis North-South trade and development agreement. The C-EPA is a bi-regional agreement signed in Bridgetown, Barbados in October 2008 with the specific aim of supporting the sustainable development of the Caribbean. As a paradigm changer in the ACP-EU trade relationship, the C-EPA has unsurprisingly attracted considerable attention. The long process of ratification by twenty-seven EU Member States and fifteen Caribbean countries has begun and implementation is advancing after an initial delay. This book is the first detailed analysis of the Agreement's provisions including its negotiating history and prognosis of its future potential. It is written by fifteen Caribbean and European practitioners, most of whom actively contributed to the crafting of the Agreement as CARIFORUM or EU negotiators. The contributions cover the following: charting a dual approach to CARIFORUM commitments at both regional and national levels; establishing an architecture of commitments that seeks to support CARIFORUM regional integration; safeguarding Caribbean preferential access to the EU market; broadening the ambit of the Caribbean-EU relationship as reflected in the Cotonou Agreement into new trade disciplines; highlighting key drivers in the negotiations; addressing the CARICOM-Dominican Republic economic relationship; examining the special treatment of Haiti and reviewing the C EPA s compatibility with WTO rules Latin America Investment and Trade Cooperation Handbook Volume 1 Strategic Information and Opportunities IBP, Inc.,2017-06-28 Latin America Investment and Trade Cooperation Handbook Volume 1 Strategic Information and Opportunities Globalization and Governance Ann Marie Bissessar,2014-10-04 Despite the controversial nature of globalization there is no doubt that the pace and intensity of global interactions has been multiplied exponentially over the last few decades Criticism of globalization is generally arranged into three camps political economic and cultural Political critics point to the status of the small state and conclude either that it is in retreat or that the state has reconstituted itself to confront the challenges posed by globalization thereby transforming itself into a competition state Economic critics hold that globalization is nothing new that international transactions are in the logic of capitalism and that the trade along the silk route goes back centuries Cultural critics protest that globalization is taking us headlong into the homogenization of the world Others warn of new fault lines that would lead to a clash of civilizations and international conflicts along those lines Others lament that cultural globalization will end with the Americanization of the world This collection of essays like the debates themselves is divided into three parts The first section focuses on the political aspects of globalization In one essay Globalization and the Caribbean the essayist argues that internationalization leaves no room for small countries in the Caribbean The essays in the second section are devoted to an economic inquiry into the process and impact of globalization In Inequality and the Division of Gains at the Global Level one essayist notes that the logic of economic theory is being overwhelmed by the interests of the powerful and that the concerns of the poor countries are important only to the point where they begin to impact the well being of the rich The final section explores the issue of cultural and social integration Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here Global Value Chains in Latin America Pablo Pérez Akaki,Marisol Velázquez-Salazar,Gilma Sabina Lizama Gaitán,2023-07-15 This book examines the governance and institutional dimensions of the global value chain GVC and the barriers of local firms to participate in chains Focusing on Latin America this collection analyzes agribusiness and agri food chains in order to evaluate the common challenges in the production and trade of coffee cocoa maize sugar Tequila and Mezcal in Mexico and Central America Additionally there are studies of knowledge intensive industries of aerospace and automotive Addressing the need for sustainable economic development in developing countries from the study of value chains this work presents a conceptual framework and empirical cases that highlight the impact of GVC in the Latin American region and will appeal to international business and international trade researchers
